Gates To Marin's Art-Garden Fair Swing Open Today

Gala Show Runs Through Monday; Judges Hand Out Coveted Awards

The gates will open to the public at 6 p.m. today to the 15th annual Marin Art and Garden Fair in Ross.

The show will run through Monday, the Fourth of July, with hours starting tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

The members of the Marin County Board of supervisors, who sponsor the event as the offical Marin County Fair; the board members of the Marin Art and Garden Center, who conduct the show for the supervisors, and the management of the 1960 fair, headed by Marcelle B. McCoy, joined today to welcome the public to the show.

Authorities from the Bay Area in the fields of floriculture, horticulture, art and landscaping began judging exhibits at 10 a.m. today, and by late this afternoon had awarded the coveted blue ribbons for first prize and red for second.

The fresh array of floral displays, gardens, flower arrangements, boat show, a beautiful fountain, the art-in-action, art shows and attractive commercial and novelty booths will be the main "entertainment" tonight. Informal opening ceremonies will be held on the Northgate stage, square dancing will be in full swing on the amphitheater platform and various education films will be shown.

Tomorrow at 10 a.m. a queen and her jester will distribute free gifts to children, the Lesselli Puppets, Gerry Geraldo the clown, organ concerts and Hawaiian singers are scheduled, with the "Barbershoppers" in a variety act set for 8 p.m.

State, Novato Confer, Differ On 101 Route

City, Chamber Representatives Remain Adamant

State highway engineers and Novato city representatives met yesterday but remained far apart on ideas of where a superhighway should be located in the Novato area.

"The town is quite unified against" expanding the present highway 101 into eight lanes on an elevated dirt-fill through Novato, commented Dan Aughney, co-chairman of the city council-chamber of commerce highway committee.

With Peter Farrarese, the other co-chairman, acting as spokesman for the Novato group, state and city representatives spent two and one-half hours in the district highway office in San Francisco in discussion which apparently changed no one's point of view.

MAPS DISPLAYED

District engineers displayed five huge maps on which alternate routes had been laid out, including one closely following the city's suggested route to the east of Novato.

But the consensus of engineers, expressed by R. A. Hayler, district engineer, was that the present plan for highway 101 expansion was the best, financially and for the service it would give motorists.

"We realize there are other factors which it is difficult to put a dollar sign on," Hayler said.

The state-proposed road would mean 16 commercial and five residential buildings in Novato would come down for highway expansion, state figures show.

BUILDING ESTIMATE

The state figures on the city-backed route, curving to the east from approximately the Ignacio Wye and back in the area of the Marin County Airport, show nine residential and one commercial buildings would be destroyed.

Ferrarase and other city representatives at the meeting contended that city traffic would be disrupted in a large area around the freeway if it were put on the present route. Also, they held, most of the only north-south business street would be diverted.

The highway proposed by the state would be on elevated, landscaped dirt fill so that Grant and Olive streets could pass beneath. There would be a complex of on-off ramps in the area of Diablo-Machin-Delong streets, and there would be access in the Atherton Avenue area. There would be frontage roads which the state says would aid traffic flow.

ASSESSED VALUATION

Hayler estimated that a little more than half a million dollars in assessed valuation ultimately would be lost. Total cost of right of way and utility relocation is figured at three million dollars.

The state opposes the eastern route as costing more—$9,570,000 compared to $6,870,000 for the route through town, as needing too much grading, and as not being near enough to population center and motorists' needs.

Alfred Bowman, president of the chamber of commerce, noted that assessment of business district property he owns had been lowered. He blamed this on the highway plan.

Hayler countered that he

West Starts Shutting Off Supply Of Oil To Cuba

HAVANA (UPI)—The Western nations began cutting off their supply of oil to Cuba today in the start of a huge squeeze play which could make expropriation of foreign property boomerang against the Cuban economy.

Cuba seized the 20-million-dollar Texaco oil refinery yesterday and seizure of all other major American holdings in Cuba, including the 300-million-dollar Cuban Electric Co. and the 100-million-dollar Cuban Telephone Co., was imminent.

Oil circles said tonight the American Standard Oil Co. was joining the British-Dutch Shell Co. in refusing to import any more oil into Cuba because the government is reported to owe 67 million dollars for oil brought in during the past year.

Refusal would force the government's quick intervention and probably provoke a major oil crisis. Cuba's economy—its sugar mills, factories, transportation—depends on oil to keep going, and a critical situation could develop immediately.

RUSS TECHNICIANS

Oil experts said the Cubans could operate all the foreign refineries, particularly if they had help from behind the Iron Curtain, but it was believed unlikely Russia could rush in sufficient technicians to keep things going.

The Esso refinery handles 35,000 barrels daily and Shell 28,500. The Santiago de Cuba Texaco plant seized yesterday handles 20,000, and unconfirmed reports reaching Havana said Soviet technicians unloaded from a Russian tanker already were at work there.

CUTS SHIPMENTS

Canadian Shell Ltd., announced formally today it was cutting off further shipments to Cuba for non-payment of 17 million dollars worth of crude oil. There was no formal Esso announcement but oil circles insisted that company, too, would stop bringing in oil.

(Standard Oil officials in New York would not comment. They said they had "no contact" with the Cuban subsidiary whatsoever to avoid involvement. They indicated they expected the plant to be taken over and reiterated they would not refine Russian oil.)

Oil circles in Havana said the Standard Oil refinery was down to a two-day supply of crude oil.

Demo Scores Apparent Win In N. D. Vote

FARGO, N. D. (AP) — Democratic Rep. Quentin Burdick scored an apparent hairline victory today over GOP Gov. John E. Davis in the special Senate election in historically Republican North Dakota, on the basis of nearly complete, unofficial returns.

But the narrowness of Burdick's margin, 762 votes with nine precincts unreported, made it certan that the contest would go to the state canvassing board for a final verdict.

Returns from 2,304 of 2,313 precincts showed these unofficial totals:

Burdick—104,161.
Davis—103,399.

The 52-year-old Burdick caught Davis late yesterday after trailing for nearly 24 hours.

Recess Of Congress Voted By Senate

House Expected To Agree; Return Scheduled Aug. 8

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted today to adjourn Congress Saturday for the political conventions and return to work Aug. 8.

The 63-26 vote backed up the proposal by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and sent the question onto the House.

On that side of the Capitol, Republicans were in revolt against returning to session after the political conventions.

But Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) said the recess plan would be approved. He said the House proably would vote on it Saturday.

Fifty-three Democrats and 10 Republicans voted for the recess resolution. Six Democrats and 20 Republicans opposed it.

Meeting in a forenoon caucus, 125 GOP House members overwhelmingly approved a stand of opposition to what their spokesman, Rep. Charles B. Hoeven of Iowa, called the "politically inspired" Johnson-Rayburn move to bring the Congress members back after the conventions.

Johnson came back with a free-swinging speech in the Senate to reply to all his critics. He then asked the Senate to approve a formal resolution for adjournment of Congress this Saturday with resumption of legislative work on Monday, Aug. 8.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois announced his support for Johnson's resolution.

The Senate agreed to vote after three hours of debate.

In pressing his resolution, Johnson argued that those who think Congress can complete its work before the opening of the Democratic convention in Los Angeles July 11 are daydreaming.

He told the Senate the members of Congress did not set up the Democratic National Convention or fix the dates for its meeting.

He said Paul Butler, Democratic national chairman, set up and "his supporters are running this convention."

He asked whether opponents of a recess are suggesting Butler "and his little group proceed without the senators?"

Butler professedly is neutral in the batle for the Democratic presidential nomination, but Johnson backers consider that he has given aid to Sen. John F. Kennedy's bid for it.

On the House side, Rayburn expressed surprise at the stand taken by the Republicans but declared their opposition would be turned back.

DONALD NEWMARK
Fills Vacant position

New Planner Starts Work In San Rafael

San Rafael, which has been without a city planner since Mitchell Baird quit last April, hired a new planner today at starting pay of $650 per month.

The new planner, who goes to work immediately, is Donald Newmark, 34, of San Francisco, who has been with the Urban Renewal Agency for the past two years.

Newmark has a master's degree in city and regional planning from University of California. His other experience includes work as assistant planner in Contra Costa County, planning technician for the Oakland city planning department, and planning work in Stockton and in Solano County.

City Manager Dan E. Andersen announced the appointment, after Newmark had been interviewed this morning by him, Councilman Fred Jensen, and chairman Pat Hetherton of the San Rafael Planning Commission.

Newmark's salary is to go to $700 after six months.

Miss Joan Castrillon, who has been handling the city planner's office single-handed the past two months, will be offered the job of assistant city planner, according to City Manager Andersen.

Mother, Seven Children Saved As Kitchen Burns

A fast-acting cleaning man and a level-headed 12-year-old girl prevented what could have been tragedy in a San Rafael home yesterday.

Mrs. Robert Jeffrey Jr. of 178 Palm Avenue was in the bedroom with seven of her eight children when she heard crackling sounds from her kitchen downstairs.

When she reached the kitchen, all she could see was flame and smoke. She called the San Rafael Fire Department while her oldest daughter, Mary Frances calmly led her six brothers and sisters from the house.

Peter Pascual of San Francisco, who had been cleaning the yard, heard Mrs. Jeffrey shout. He ran into the kitchen with a garden hose. By the time firemen arrived, he had put down the blaze caused damage estimated at $3,000.

The fire destroyed kitchen cabinets, scorched walls, blistered the ceiling and caused smoke damage to dining room, hallway, sun porch and utility room.

Mrs. Jeffrey said "our electrician said it could have been caused by faulty wiring."

Her husband, Dr. Robert Jeffrey, a pathologist at St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco was at work and their 13-year-old son was at summer school when the fire broke out.

"We are very grateful to Mr. Pascual and very proud of Mary," said Mrs. Jeffrey.

DUTCH FAMILY 'DERAILED' AT SALT LAKE CITY

A San Rafael-bound Dutch family boarded the wrong train and landed in Salt Lake City, Utah, today.

Mr. and Mrs. Desi Karpus of 177 D Street, San Rafael, today were frantically making arrangements for Mr. and Mrs. Gerardus De Graaf and their three daughters to continue westward. Karpus and his wife are sponsoring the De Graaf family, who left their native land to seek a future with more opportunity in the United States.

The De Graafs left for Marin from New York City,

San Rafael Woman, 75, Falls In Rubbish, Badly Burned

Mrs. Ruby Quilitch, 75, was severely burned today when she fell onto a pile of burning rubbish in the back yard of her home at 317 Paloma Avenue, San Rafael.

A driver for Colonial Bakeries discovered Mrs. Quilitch lying in the yard, unable to get to the house to telephone for help. She had started the rubbish fire, then slipped and fell upon it.

At San Rafael General Hospital, where she was taken by United Ambulance, it was reported Mrs. Quilitch had extensive burns on hands, neck and chest.

The woman, a widow since the death last year of her husband, E. T. Quilitch, lives alone.

Army Plans Test Of Claim That Zeus Can Down Missiles

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States is preparing a series of spectacular rocket tests in the Pacific which will give the Army a chance to prove its claim that missiles can shoot down missiles.

The tests may have a major bearing on whether the Army's Nike Zeus anti-missile missile goes into large production as a weapon for defending U.S. cities against Soviet intercontinental ballistic missiles in the mid-1960s. A Zeus system deployed throughout the United States could cost up to 15 billion dollars.

MUST CONVINCE

No other such defense weapon is now under development in the free world, but the Army has yet to convince Defense Department and White House scientists that the Zeus is the right answer.

In the coming tests, Zeus missiles will be fired from Kwajalein Island in an effort to knock down Atlas intercontinental missiles streaking across the Pacific from Vandenburg Air Force Base, Calif., at speeds approaching 18,000 miles an hour.

In announcing the long-awaited decision late yesterday, the Defense Department refused on security grounds to say when it would pit the Air Force and Army missiles against each other. But 1961 or 1962 was considered a good estimate.

WORKING FOR YEAR

Work on facilities at Kwajalein has been under way for about a year. The island is 4,800 miles from the California Base.

A defense official said some of the planned shots would involve use of decoys to see whether the Zeus' radar can tell a real missile warhead from a fake.

Methods of building decoys into ICBMs are secret, but an obvious one is to have the rocket's tanks break up into many pieces that might resemble warheads when viewed by tracking radar.

The Zeus is a weapon that could shoot down Russian intercontinental missiles. The Atlas is an ICBM, that, with decoys and possibly evasive action, would be able to elude Soviet-type Zeus missiles.

The Army is confident its Zeus cannot be spoofed. The Air Force suspects that by the time Zeus could be deployed widely in the United States, attacking missiles could spoof it good.

Nepal Moves To Ward Off Red Threat

KATMANDU, Nepal (UPI)— This tiny Himalayan country moved quickly to bolster its armed forces today in the face of Communist Chinese attacks from Tibet on Nepalese border outposts.

The upper house of Parliament unanimously passed a resolution calling for formation of auxiliary armed forces and compulsory military training for boys and girls over 14 years old.

WANTS TREATY VOIDED

At the same time a leader of the rightwing opposition, Bharat Shamsher, demanded that the government declare the newly signed treaty with Communist China "null and void."

The government last night sent a strong protest note to the Communist Chinese embassy in Katmandu charging that Red army troops entered Nepalese territory at Mustang, in the northwest, "fired at unarmed civilian officers and looted their belongings and horses."

"Seventeen Nepalese civilians are still missing," a government statement on the note said.

DEATH NOT NOTED

The communique did not mention the killing of a Nepalese officer which Premier B. P. Koirala had reported earlier. Nor did it mention any dates.

Mustang is in the northwest of Nepal, and communications between the frontier and the capital are primitive.

Various reports have filtered into Katmandu. Some of the government dispatches are confused and contradictory.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Japanese Submarine

KOBE, Japan (AP) — The first submarine made in Japan since World War II was delivered to Japan's sea defense force today.

Filmland Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actress Jean Simmons and actor Stewart Granger yesterday announced they would dissolve their 10-year marriage.

A spokesman for the couple said a divorce would be filed within the next month, probably in Arizona where both are residents.

Rejects Sex Law

LONDON (UPI) — The House of Commons last night rejected an appeal to show homosexuals "compassion rather than contempt" by removing their behavior from the category of a crime.

The parliamentarians voted 213 to 99 against any revision after a frank debate of nearly three hours.

The original recommendation to remove consenting homosexuals from the shadow of prosecution was contained in a report of a parliamentary committee headed by Sir John Wolfenden.

Housing Occupancy

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Negro occupants of public housing have more than doubled in the past eight years but less than 20 per cent of the nation's public housing projects are integrated.

That is what Philip Sadler, public housing administration intergroup relations chief, told the Fisk University Race Relations Institute yesterday. Sadler said Negroes occupy more than 45 per cent of the public housing dwelling units.

Payola Bill Delay

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Commerce Committee has put off until August any action on a House-passed bill to crack down on payola and other broadcasting abuses.

Liberty Island

NEW YORK (AP) — Now it's Liberty Island which is the home of the Statue of Liberty.

In ceremonies yesterday, the old name of Bedloe's Island disapeared. The renaming had ben approved in a bill by the 84th Congress and signed by President Eisenhower.

Steelworker Demand

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The United Steelworkers Union will seek a 32-hour week and retirement at 60 years of age to combat automation, says a union district director, Joseph P. Molony.

He blamed automation for steel layoffs.

Bus Strike Grows

NEW YORK (AP) — Insurgent drivers ordered mass picketing today in an attempt to widen their wildcat strike into a total shutdown of the city's biggest private bus company.

Attempts to do it by picketing bus garages failed yesterday. The 1,500 strikers rallied their forces last night for stronger maneuvers today.

The strike has caused an almost complete shutdown of the 21 lines of the omnibus division of the Fifth Avenue Coach Lines Inc.

Finch Setbacks

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The retrial of Dr. R. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregoff on murder charges is still in the jury-choosing stage, but the defendants already have suffered two setbacks.

In Superior Court yesterday, prosecutors announced they would again seek the death penalty for both.

In Washington, D.C., the Supreme Court denied Miss Tregoff's request that trial Judge LeRoy Dawson be disqualified.

Argentina Shivers

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—Argentines shivered today in the subfreezing temperatures of the nation's coldest winter in years.

At the southern town of Zapala the mercury had dropped to 22 degrees — a 26-year low — and even in subtropical northern Argentina temperatures as low as 30 degress were reported.

Forest Fire Stubborn

SEQUOIA NATIONAL PARK (AP) — Some 1,200 men today battled a stubborn forest fire that has burned 2,800 acres of brush and scrub oak trees near the Ash Mountain entrance to Sequoia National Park.

The fires — burning since Sunday—does not threaten the park's famed redwood trees.

"I don't know when we'll get it under control," a spokesman at fire control headquarters said.

Civil War Shell

NEW IBERIA, La. (AP) — A housewife, turning over some soil in her back yard, found a live artillery shell from the Civil War.

The date stamped on it was Oct. 16, 1861.

Demolition crews at the New Iberia Naval Auxiliary Air Station deactivated the shell yesterday.

Does Truman Think Cause Hopeless For Symington? He'll Talk Saturday

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A canny old politician, Harry S. Truman, dominated the political news today simply by announcing that he wouldn't attend the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles.

Truman's announcement that he was withdrawing from Missouri's convention delegation came as a surprise to Washington, which speculated what his action meant.

The former president assured himself of further headlines by refusing to say why he did it. He said he'd tell all at a Saturday news conference in Independence.

Truman has been an ardent backer of Sen. Stuart Symington, his fellow Missourian, for the Democratic presidential nomination. Symington said he is still running hard.

Among the speculative theories: Truman has decided Symington can't make the grade and doesn't want to preside over a hopeless cause in Los Angeles a week and a half from now.

Another: Truman suspects a "deal" is in the making between Symington and Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the front runner for the nomination. As this theory goes, Symington would become secretary of defense in a Kennedy cabinet, while his delegate strength would rally mainly to Kennedy at the convention and perhaps put Kennedy over the top.

Backers of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas hoped Truman would switch his support to Johnson.

Other political developments:

Congressional leaders decided they would recess Congress at the end of this week, and come back again after the conventions. This releases Johnson, Kennedy and Symington to go to Los Angeles and get in what licks they may before the convention starts.

At the governors conference in Glacier National Park, Mont., the news again centered around Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. While he didn't say he would go out and stump for Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the all-but-nominated GOP presidential candidate, Rockefeller did say he's a Republican and would not bolt the party.

But he continued criticism of administration policies, this time in the field of medical care for the aged.

The extraordinary close race in the special North Dakota senatorial election was still up in the air. With 30 outlying precincts still unheard from, Democratic Rep. Quentin Burdick was 569 votes ahead of GOP Gov. John E. Davis.

This election was watched closely in Washington as possibly indicating how the political land lies in the farm belt.

Homing Pigeon Club Holds Last Races Of Season

The Tamalpais Homing Pigeon Club held its last two races of the season Saturday and Sunday, from The Dalles, Ore., and Yakima, Wash.

Robert Brockman of Mill Valley won the 550-air mile race from The Dalles. His bird averaged over 40 miles per hour. Second place went to Don Fraser of San Anselmo. Don Laroach of Novato placed third.

There were 100 birds from 11 Marin lofts entered in this race.

In the 600-air mile race from Yakima, Don Fraser of San Anselmo captured first and second places. The pigeons from Yakima were released Saturday morning, and Fraser got his first bird early Sunday morning as it averaged more than 34 miles per hour. Del Krelle also of San Anselmo captured third. Entered in this race were 24 pigeons from seven Marin lofts.

Hub City Bakery Asks Incorporation

Kientz's Pastry Shop of San Anselmo has filed articles of incorporation with Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan in Sacramento, to be capitalized at $100,000 in $100 par shares.

Directors of the company are August L. and Alice T. Kientz of Fernhill Road, Ross, and their son, Richard A. Kientz of 163 Oak Manor Drive, Fairfax.

The San Anselmo bakery business, formerly owned by Mr. and Mrs. Kientz, was begun by his parents in 1922.

Jordan also announced incorporation of European Asiatic Airways, Inc., an Alameda County airline, with a firm of San Rafael attorneys, Robert L. Oates, Phillip A. Kennedy and James M. Fletcher, listed as directors. It is capitalized at $100,000 in $10 par shares.

HOSTED IN LUCAS VALLEY

Four 'Friendship Ambassadors' From Foreign Lands Tour Marin

By DOROTHY SIMPERS

Six young men—four of them from foreign lands—rode into Marin County in a red station wagon this week on a nationwide trip to find out what America is all about.

The four foreigners and their two American guides on on a seven-week "Ambassadors for Friendship" tour, supported mainly by the contributions of individual Americans.

During their three days and four nights in the area they are the guests of Abbott E. Stinchcomb Jr. or 634 Miller Creek Road, Lucas Valley.

Stinchcomb was one of more than 12,000 Americans who responded to a "Reader's Digest" story about the "Ambassadors for Friendship" program started by a Rutgers University student..

The Stinchcomb home was one of 30 selected to be hosts to the young men on this summer's tour.

The "Ambassadors" program of educational travel for foreign students in the United States was started by Harry Morgan of Rutgers to give the young people an opportunity to see for themselves how Americans live and work and play and think.

Touring Marin and the Bay Area this week are George Lymberis, 22, of Greece, a business administration student at Macalester College in St. Paul, Minn.; T. (Rajah) Kirupairajah, 24, of Ceylon, an educational administration student at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio; Manouchehr Movasseghi, 21, an Iranian civil engineering student at Macalester College; Nicholas Hobson, 23, from England, an apprentice in a New York advertising agency.

With them are two Americans, Lee A. Mitchell, 21, of Madelia, Minn., a Macalester psychology major, and Geoffrey A. Thompson, 19, of Central Valley, N. Y., a Columbia University history major.

The six made a scenic tour of Marin Tuesday, visited the Smith Co. in San Francisco, a direct mail firm of which Stinchcomb is treasurer, and visited Pacific Telephone and Telegraph in Oakland.

Tuesday night they met a group of Marinites at the Stinchcomb home.

Yesterday they visited the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. Vallecitos atomic plant and attended the First Church of Christ, Scientist, tonight in San Rafael.

Today they tour the Soule Steel plant in San Francisco, the San Francisco Stock Exchange, and the IBM plant in San Jose.

They leave here tomorrow for Los Angeles, then the South and up the East Coast. The group started in St. Paul, drove through South Dakota, saw Mount Rushmore, then on to Greybull, Wyo., where the boys spent a day on a ranch, branding cattle and riding with the cowboys.

In Yellowstone Park they camped out. "It was very cold, and we were frightened of the bears," said the Britisher, with a twinkle in his eye.

They spent a few days in Salt Lake City, and in Reno they "put a lot of small change in the slot machines." The money poured into the machines astonished them.

Although the main stops on the trip had been planned in advance, there are many impromptu meetings and opportunities to make friends. In Sacramento they met a woman at a flower show who took them sightseeing and to dinner.

"The individual friendships that we made were what was so great about the tour," said the Englishman, most articulate of the "Ambassadors."

"It's real people doing real things," he said. "We meet Americans of all classes. We stay in a barn one day, a big house the next day. We meet governors and mayors—and truck drivers."

"We were all very impressed with the colossal hospitality. We not only learned about them and they about us—but we also learned about ourselves. We've had our minds enormously broadened."

They got rid of a lot of stereotyped opinions about Americans, the young men said, by getting around and talking to people personally.

The Ceylonese student was impressed by the wealth of America, the various types of backgrounds and religions here.

All agreed that "American children are very beautiful," but felt that in some families there is not enough respect for parents and discipline.

With many more miles still ahead of them, the "Ambassadors" are looking forward to the rest of their tour. "We make lots of friends wherever we go," they smiled.

Said Stinchcomb: "We're very happy to have them. They are a very interested and cordial group, full of questions about many things in this country."

Carnival Workers Plead Innocent

Four carnival workers, arrested Saturday night at the Corte Madera Shopping Center, pleaded innocent yesterday to charges of contributing to the delinquency of a 15-year-old runaway girl from Mill Valley.

Gilbert Gene Lockard, 25, from Kentucky; Frank J. Strange, 19, Richmond; William Leroy Myers, 20, Castro Valley and Larry Vernon Morton, 18, of San Jose appeared in Marin Municipal Court with attorney Fred Robbins Jr. They denied the charges and were bound over to superior court for prosecution.

The girl left home about 7:30 Saturday night. When she failed to return after midnight, her father called police. Corte Madera police said they found the girl with two of the men at the carnival ground, getting ready to retire for the night in back of one of the carnival trucks.

Dag Opposes Immediate Arms Meeting

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold advised today against any United Nations meeting on the disarmament question at this time.

Hammarskjold took this position at a new conference held while the United States and its Western allies disagreed on convoking the U.N. Disarmament Commission as an aftermath to the collapse of the 10-power talks in Geneva last Monday.

MEETING ASKED

The United States wanted to convene the 82-nation commission here next Wednesday. France led opposition to the plan unless the Western powers could agree on a unified position to be taken in such a meeting.

Hammarskjold not only opposed a quick meeting of the disarmament commission, but added that he saw no useful possible result from putting the arms question before a special General Assembly session or the Security Council.

"There is always some dust which should settle before you start driving again," Hammarskjold said.

"If you are not ready to start constructive discussions and risk getting stuck in a rehash, it would not help disarmament or the disarmament commission or the United Nations."

Although he characterized both the Russian and Western revised disarmament plans as "advances," Hammarskjold, in an unusually frank statement, offered support for the West's demand for balanced and controlled disarmament.

"Disarmament which is not balanced disarmament increases risks and does not reduce them," he said. "Control is necessary, because there must not only be balance, but an awareness of it as well."

Chessman Case Figure Due Texas Arraignment

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Charles S. Terranova, 38, who was mentioned in a final petition by Caryl Chessman before his execution May 2, was scheduled for arraignment in El Paso today on a fugitive complaint from California.

Terranova was arrested by the Federal Bureau of Investigation Saturday at an El Paso supermarket where he was employed as a butcher. He faces two counts of burglary in California. Yesterday, the U.S. district attorney in El Paso dismissed a federal charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

Meanwhile, the non-fiction editor of Argosy Magazine, Milt Macklin, wired California Gov. Brown from El Paso urging lie detector tests of Terranova and of officials involved in the prosecution of Chessman.

Terranova had been mentioned by Chessman as a "prime suspect" in the red light bandit crimes for which Chessman was executed.

Terranova has denied any connection with the Chessman case.

In the telegram to Brown, Macklin said he was convinced the lie detector tests would prove Chessman was innocent of the red light bandid crimes. Macklin urged the governor to have Terranova returned to California to the governor's personal protection and to have independent experts conduct the tests.

Auto Overturns; Nurse Injured

A 40-year-old San Quentin nurse, Lilyan Mae Nunes of 109 Golden Hind Passage, Corte Madera, escaped with minor injury when her southbound station wagon overturned on Highway 101 about 800 feet north of the Alto interchange at 6:20 p.m. yesterday.

She told California Highway Patrol Officer Duncan Snell that she started to shift to the left lane, noticed a car approaching from behind in that lane, so shifted suddenly back to her lane, losing control of the station wagon. The vehicle rolled over. It was totally wrecked.

$500 Million Surplus Due In Nation's Books

WASHINGTON (AP) — Uncle Sam reached the end of his 1960 bookkeeping year today with a budget surplus of 500 million dollars or more.

This is the first surplus in three years. It follows two deficits that totaled more than 15 billion dollars. The surplus is more than twice as big as the 217 million dollars President Eisenhower predicted in January.

With one eye on election year politics, the administration is debating whether to have Eisenhower anounce the surplus as soon as rough calculations are available. This could be done in a week or so.

No decision has been made, and some officials are urging that there be no departure from the customary procedure of withholding an announcement until final figures are available about July 20.

The surplus has exceeded expectations because revenues have been higher and spending lower than was predicted.

52 YEARS OF COLONIAL RULE END

Belgian King Warns Independent Congo To Beware Of Outsiders

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (UPI) — King Baudouin of the Belgians handed the Congo its independence today but warned it to watch out for certain foreign powers "ready to profit from your slightest failure."

The sprawling territory, a third the size of the United States, and containing 14 million people, shed 52 years of Belgium rule at one minute past midnight.

It is the 14th African nation to gain its independence since World War II.

Baudouin, speaking before a joint session of the Congolese Parliament, said one of the big hazards was tribal rivalry which could be exploited and divide the nation.

Outside the still unfinished building which was to have been the Belgian governor-general's new residence, huge crowds danced and sang celebrating their independence.

Belgian flags still flew side-by-side with the new republic flags and there was no hostility toward Europeans.

Motorized troops were everywhere, backed up by infantrymen wearing anti-gas goggles on their steel helmets and carrying tear-gas bombs at their sides.

The emergence of the Congo as a republic was significantly marked last night by the signing of mutual cooperation pacts which will go a long way to preserve Belgium's economic and military interests in the Congo.

The agreements will also allow Belgium to maintain army and air bases in the Congo Republic. Pending establishment of diplomatic service by the Congolese, Belgium diplomats will represent Congo interests abroad.

Baudouin and Congo President Joseph Kasa Vubu attended religious services at Notre Dame Church this morning and heard a message from Pope John XXIII.

Nikita Given Cool Vienna Reception

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev arrived in neutral Austria for a nine-day state visit today and got a cool reception. Except for a small contingent of Communists, the response was apathetic.

About 6,000 persons were at the Soviet War Memorial as Khrushchev's motorcade swept into the center of the city from the airport. Most of the crowd just stood and stared. A knot of about 200 Austrian Communists sent up a thin cheer but Khrushchev may not have heard or seen them. They were lined up on the far side of the street as he sped by in a closed car.

Some customers at sidewalk tables of nearby coffee houses didn't bother to look up from their newspapers as the motorcade pulled up in front of the Imperial Hotel, where Khrushchev is staying. In general the average citizen appeared bored.

Khrushchev's Austrian visit is expected to be all smiles and talk of peaceful coexistence.

The Soviet premier and his party of more than 80 persons were met at Vienna's Schwechat Airfield by President Adolf Schaerf, Chancellor Julius Raab and other top Austrians.

The Russians in Moscow were saying that Khrushchev's visit would show the world that Communist and capitalist states can live in peaceful coexistence.

The Austrians were intent on making sure that Khrushchev would irritate nobody in the West or make anti-Western propaganda. They planned the full tourist treatment for him—visits to the opera and Hapsburg palace, trips through the Alps and to Salzburg, the music festival city.

Only two hours were set aside during the Soviet premier's stay for private talks with Austrian government leaders—and these were expected to deal with trade.

Traveling with the Soviet leader were his wife, Nina, daughter Yelena, 22-year-old Moscow University law student, and the top-ranking woman Communist official, Culture Minister Ekaterina Furtseva.

Others included the first deputy premier, Alexei N. Ksygin and Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

PARADISE TOO MIGHT BE FUN FOR A VISIT

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A Montreal woman asking directions to Hell, Mich., was counselled today to visit Paradise as well.

Mrs. E. Cartmell wrote the State Highway Department, explaining she planned a visit to the Detroit area and "we thought it would be fun to be able to say we had been to Hell."

The department repsonded by mailing a marked map showing the location of Hell, a tiny unincorporated community.

"To complete your trip you might also visit Paradise in upper Michigan," suggested John Takacs in an accompanying message.

Hail, Winds Batter Four Central States

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thundershowers dampeded a wide stretch of the country from the northern Rockies to the East Coast today.

Damaging winds, heavy rain and hail hit portions of Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri and Kentucky during the night.

The southwest Nebraska area around Kimball was thrashed by hailstones the size of baseballs. Windows were smashed, cars were dented and wheat crops were flattened.

Winds in excess of 90 miles an hour howled across central Nebraska during a severe thunderstorm. Hardest hit were the areas around North Platte and Kearney.

DEMISE OF GOLDEN GATE BRIDGE DISTRICT URGED

Authority Commission Exec Asserts Second-Span Talk Is Smokescreen

The Golden Gate Authority Commission must force the Golden Gate Bridge District to go out of business, the vice chairman of the commission told the Marin Council of Mayors last night in Fairfax.

Commissioner Leo H. Strauss of San Rafael accused bridge directors of putting up a smoke screen by pretending they will build a second bridge — which they are forbidden to do until bonds for the present crossing are retired. If they persist in their attitude, he said, the Golden Gate Authority Commission "may have to resort to its yet-unused investigating powers."

He said the commission has the power to examine "every inch" of bridge, air and sea facilities in the Bay Area to see how they operate.

"The public wants total solutions to our total transportation problem. We can never have a coordinated plan to meet these problems if the Golden Gate Bridge continues to go its way alone," declared Strauss.

He predicted that if the proposal to dissolve the bridge district in favor of operation of the span by the authority is submitted to voters of the six counties in the district, "the voters will overwhelmingly endorse the change."

The Golden Gate Authority Commission is to draft a plan to be presented to the 1961 state legislature which would bring all Bay Area bridges, airports and seaports "under one umbrella," but the bridge district and the City of Oakland are attempting to block it, he asserted.

Bridge district directors "will not even listen to reason when engineers tell us that in four years, transportation over the bridge will be impossible, and in six years, chaotic," declared Strauss.

"All the bridge directors want to do is hold out until the balance of the bridge bonds is paid off in 1971," he said.

"During the commission's hearings we have heard representatives of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District recall the foresight of the birdge's original sponsors — the pioneering spirit, so to speak of the men who carried this undertaking through in the face of mass criticism and protest.

"No one can dispute the fact that those early sponsors did have foresight. One can't help wondering what has happened to it in the intervening 25 or 30 years."

Strauss gave the Oakland airport and seaport as examples of "isolationism," which he added, "is actually stagnation." He said that the Oakland airport handles only 3 per cent of Bay Area air traffic, while San Francisco has about 95 per cent. "This indicates a lack of coordination," said Strauss.

"As far as efficiency, the Port of Oakland last year received a one-million dollar subsidy from the city."

He said that an authority would use revenues from all facilities to benefit the whole area, which would eventually include an airport and seaport for Marin County. He pointed out that the authority would have the power to issue revenue bonds, but not to levy taxes.

San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis asked during a question period whether the authority, if established, could legally assume the bond responsibility of the Golden Gate Bridge, now held by local taxpayers who must pay more taxes should the bridge revenue default.

"I feel sure that the burden could be legally assumed by the authority," answered Strauss, "but I do not feel there is much risk of default."

The bridge now has 18 million dollars in reserve — eight million dollars more than is required by law — and "none of it can be used to build another bridge until the balance of this one is paid," Strauss added.

San Rafael Councilman Charles W. Aby criticized the commission's proposal that a majority of the authority members be chosen by boards of supervisors of the nine Bay Area counties.

Aby felt local representation is a "good platitude that does not work." He cited the Golden Gate Bridge District as an example, saying its directors "either by want of prestige or vested interest" resist any change in the makeup of their board.

Strauss suggested that one-third of the authority members be appointed by the governor. Aby asserted that a higher percentage should be appointed by the governor and that the authority should be made up of as many as 50 representatives.

Answers given by Strauss to questions by the city officials included:

1. To Mill Valley Mayor Robert D. Huber: If the authority tok over the Golden Gate Bridge, the revenue would be used not only to pay off the balance but to finance a new crossing to Marin County.

2. To Belvedere Mayor Robert Watkins: The authority would not control rapid transit.

3. To Fairfax Councilman Waldemar E. Radtke: Seaports must be under the authority's control because transportation systems today are inter-dependent.

4. To Corte Madera Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow: There is no conflict between the authority commission and advocates of Bay Area-wide government; "they seek a similar goal."

WELLINGTON RESCUED

80-Pound English Bulldog Hoisted Up Belvedere Cliff

Wellington had a happy day yesterday.

The 80-pound English bulldog was rescued from a cliff where he'd spent a lonely 24 hours perched in a crevice 60 feet above the Belvedere beach.

Mrs. V. P. Trembley of 8 Tamalpais Circle, Belvedere, first missed her dog at about 2:30 p.m. Tuesday. Yesterday, while taking a walk, she heard him bark and spotted him 40 feet down the cliff. She called Police Chief William S. Woodington, who looked at the straight angle of the cliff and called the Marin County Humane Society.

Woodington then tied a rope to a water culvert nearby and descended the cliff to give Wellington a pail of water. "He was a most happy dog—for the company and the water," the chief said.

Later, when two men from the Humane Society arrived, a sack was tried to bring Wellington up, but he was too big. So, a leash was put around him, the Humane Society men gave a pull, Woodington gave a push and Wellington went home again.

Library In Fairfax Plans Story Hour

A story hour for children will be held at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow at the Fairfax branch of the county library.

Signups will be taken after the story hour for a summer reading club called "North Bay Adventures," which will serve to acquaint youngsters with localities and lore of north bay counties, including Marin County. A record card contaning a picture map of the area will be given to each club member.

Mechanic, 46, Arrested For Beating Child, 2

A husky San Rafael mechanic was jailed today on suspicion of severely beating the 2-year-old son of a woman with whom he was living.

In Marin County Jail in lieu of $10,500 bail was Lyle Wilson Hancock, 42, of 105 Auburn Street, San Rafael. He was charged with child beating and assault with intent to do great bodily harm.

Hancock was arrested shortly before noon today by Sheriff's Inspector Bowen Bridges and San Rafael police at an auto agency where he works.

Hancock steadfastly denied hitting the boy, Billy Jack Stamper, aged 2. The youngster has bruise marks about his face and eyes, and on his body. Hancock told Inspector Bridges and Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich that the boy fell down an embankment and bounced off a car engine, injuring himself.

The boy's mother is Elizabeth Roberta Ann Hoffman, 20, who has been living with Hancock at the Auburn Street home.

A complaint filed in Marin Municipal Court accuses Hancock of cruel and inhuman corporal punishment resulting in a traumatic condition of the boy. The beating allegedly occurred last Friday night.

Whether the mother complained to authorities was not clear. Sheriff's inspectors said the mother and son went to relatives in Sonoma County. The relatives noticed bruises on the boy and took him to a hospital. Hospital officials called the Sonoma sheriff, who notified Marin officials.

Hancock, who is 5 feet 9 inches tall and weighs 220 pounds, was tried in 1958 on morals charges involving a 17-year-old girl. He was acquitted of the charges by a jury. He was previously married and has children of his own.

North Marin Water Budget Approved At $1,589,300

Directors of the North Marin Water District have approved the largest budget in the district's history, $1,598,300 for work and improvements; $168,500 for operating expenses.

Work scheduled for 1960-61 includes $1,440,000 for construction of a pipeline from Petaluma to Novato which will bring Russian River water to the district. Voters have approved a $3,790,000 bond issue to pay for the complete water project.

Revenue is expected to be $375,000, with surplus funds going toward repaying the bonds, in line with vote promises that rates and district taxes would not be raised to pay for the bonds, district manager Jerome Gilbert explained.

The operating budget of $168,500 is $9,000 less than the previous year, primarily due to transfer of workers to bond-financed projects and "improved efficiency," Gilbert said.

The district this year also plans to replace some old water lines in downtown Novato, mainly on Sweetser, Machin, Delong and Reichert Streets.

did not believe property values would be lowered. Hayler said the state would continue to buy right of way along the present 101 route if it appeared it would be developed, to protect the present state route plans.

Mayor Wayne Womack asked for a year's delay in public hearings to be held by the state, so the city could back a restudy of the North Marin master plan which the highway follows.

"We could give you verbal argument all day long and we wouldn't convince you and you wouldn't convince us," was Womack's parting comment.

Thieves Take 2 Recorders

Two tape recorders, worth almost $400, vanished from the Marin Music Center in San Rafael during broad daylight yesterday, the owner reported to police.

Ruth Velati, part owner of the music shop at 1331 Fourth Street, said one was a remote control tape recorder worth $200, and the other worth $190. They were displayed in front of the store.

Mrs. Velati left the store about 11:30 a.m., leaving another employee in charge. When she returned about 2 p.m., the tape recorders were gone. The employee told Mrs. Velati there had been two customers in the store while she was away.

Larkspur School Unit Meeting Tomorrow

An organizational meeting of the Larkspur School District board, originally set for July 5, has been re-scheduled to tomorrow at 7:30 o'clock in the district office at the Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

The meeting, called to name a president and secretary of the board, is required by law to be held on July 1.

Four Persons Suggested For Reed Position

Four recommendations for appointment to a vacancy on the Reed Union School District board have ben received by county Supt. Virgil S. Hollis, he reported today.

Three women and one man have been recommended for the post, created when Mrs. Ahleen Tresnon resigned this month.

They are Mrs. Frederick Parke, Greenwood Beach; Mrs. Craig Gilbert, Bel Aire; Mrs. Edward Ryall, Belverson Gardens, and Henry Schubart, Paradise Drive.

Mrs. Parke is past president of the Reed District Parent-Teacher Club. Mrs. Gilbert is serving her second term as president of the Bel Aire unit of the club, and Mrs. Ryall is a teacher at the Belvedere Nursery School. Schubart is chairman of the trustee committee studying use of community service override tax funds for recreation in the district.

Novato Takes Up Its First Budget Today

The first city budget for Novato will be up for discussion tonight at a special meeting of the city council.

Robert O. Bailey, city administrative consultant, will present preliminary figures to the council which is expected to come up with a budget ranging from $200,000 to $250,000 for the fiscal year. The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. at the city hall.

Each budget item will be considered individually, Mayor Wayne Womack said. "It's a new procedure for the entire council. We'll proceed with caution," he said.

Boy, 5, Rushing To Fire, Injured

Robert Loback, 5, suffered minor cuts and bruises today when he ran into the side of a car in the Loma Verde subdivision in Ignacio.

Robert and a group of other youngsters were racing to see a grass fire on Alameda Del Prado when a car driven by A/3c Robert G. Taylor, of the 78th Installation Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base slowly pulled from behind a fire truck. The boy ran into the side of the care, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The boy, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Loback of 480 Calle Arboleda, was taken to the Hamilton base hospital.

President Quits Chrysler Firm

NEW YORK (UPI) — L. L. Colbert's handpicked heir to the presidency of Chrysler Corp. resigned from the post today, apparently in a dispute with Colbert, after less than three months on the job.

The Chrysler board of directors, in a surprise move, announced in a special meeting here that it had accepted the resignation of W. C. Newberg and restored the powers of president of the automobile company to Colbert.

Man Hurt In Larkspur Jumping From Tractor

A Santa Rosa man suffered a cut head and twisted his ankle today when he jumped from a tractor off Magnolia Avenue near Bon Air Road in Larkspur about 11:30 a.m.

The victim Harlan Ward, 29, who was employed on an earth-moving project, was taken to Marin General Hospital by Marin Ambulance.

Patient, 18, Escapes From Napa Hospital

An 18-year-old escapee from Napa State Hospital, who broke into a Point Reyes summer cottage and lived there two days last February before being recaptured, is missing from the hospital again, Inspector William Bradley of the Marin sheriff's office disclosed today.

The missing inmate is Dennis Raymond Bach, 18, whose home is in Gridley, Butte County. Inspector Bradley said there is a slight possibility that Bach may be wearing the same type of clothes he wore when captured the last time—red corduroy jacket and blue jeans.

Last Feb. 13, John Joseph Powell of San Francisco went to his weekend cottage on the Mendoza Ranch on the Point Reyes peninsula, and found Bach and another inmate making themselves at home. They had been there two days, eating from Powell's freezer and sleeping on his bed. The other youth, Ralph L. Elser, 19, did not escape this time.

Bach is 6 feet 2 inches tall, weighs 160 pounds, and has dirty blond hair and blue eyes.

Inspector Bradley said Napa officials missed Bach yesterday afternoon. They do not know in which direction the inmate fled.

Group Will Meet On Unionization

A public hearing will be held by the County Committee on School District Organization on a proposal to form a union district of Stinson Beach and Bolinas school districts at 8 p.m. today at the Bolinas School.

The two school boards have been operating on an inter-district attendance agreement for the past two years. They held their first joint graduation exercises this month.

Escapee Costs

DARTMOOR, England (UPI) — The Devonshire County Council wants the whole nation to bear the costs in hunting for escaped prisoner Henry Brett.

The council claimed that every 36 hours that he's on the loose it costs the county $2,800 in police patrols, dog patrols and radio-telephone communications tolls.

Drunken Drivers Draw $158 Fines

Two drunken drivers drew $158 fines an dsix-month suspension of their licenses yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas sentenced Robert Edward Banker, 29, of San Francisco and LeRoy Wesley Hewit, 60, of 137 Avenida Mira Flores, Tiburon.

Banker was caught on Bridgeway in Sausalito on May 14. Hewitt was arrested on Miller Avenue in Mill Valley on June 18. Hewitt has a previous conviction in 1945, but this was stricken from the records.

Dixie Trustees Meeting Tonight

The Dixie School District board will hold a special meeting tonight to discuss and approve a tentative budget for the 1960-61 school year, announced Supt. Dennie B. Willis.

He said the meeting would begin at 8 p.m. at the district office at 4775 Redwood Highway.

Miller Spent $11,836 In Vote Push

Rep. Clement W. Miller of Corte Madera spent a total of $11,836 in the June primary campaign, according to his campaign expense statement filed today with County Clerk George S. Jones.

Miller's statement shows total receipts of $12,158, contributed by various committees in Del Norte, Humboldt, Mendocino, Sonoma and Marin Counties.

Frederic D. Kerr of Ross spent $1,068 in his unsuccessful fight to oust Supervisor William D. Fusselman of San Anselmo. Kerr reported that his backers put up $1,044, and he himself paid $24.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas, elected to the Marin Municipal Court bench, reported his only campaign expense was the $160 filing fee, which he paid himself.

Jack Brandon and John P. Namle, elected to the Terra Linda Community Services District board, spent $31 and $15 respectively.

Ike Vacation Slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced today that President and Mrs. Eisenhower will leave July 7 for at least a month's vacation at Newport, R. I.

Nike Change Won't Effect Marin County

A new Defense Department plan calling for replacement of Nike Ajax batteries with more powerful Nike Hercules missiles will not affect Marin County missile sites because they are already equipped with the Hercules type.

A Fort Baker public information office spokesman said San Rafael, Fort Barry and Fort Cronkhite Nike sites are equipped with Hercules missiles. Ten other Nike sites in the Bay Area will have to be converted from Ajax to Nike.

The conversions will take about nine months, the spokesman said.

The Defense Department plan will deploy the nuclear tipped Hercules missiles around seven metropolitan areas on the east and west coasts and in the north-central part of the United States.

CAREFUL MAYOR INVESTIGATES

San Rafael's Mayor John F. McInnis is a careful man, judging from this photograph. Not just because he's wearing and using safety equipment, but also because before he would sign a Safe Boating Week in San Rafael proclamation he wanted first-hand information on what makes for safe boating. Here he is instructed by Marin Power Squadron commander Dr. Alfred Schwarz (left) and squadron secretary E. F. Sweeney. Safe Boating Week starts Sunday. (Ken Molino photo)

Bill To Raise Federal Pay Vetoed By Ike

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower today vetoed as "indefensible by any light" the bill to raise the pay of federal workers by 750 million dollars a year.

The chief executive in a special message to the House said the present federal pay system was badly antiquated and the pay bill would make the situation worse.

He called the pay raise an example of "fiscal and legislative irresponsibility" and said it would discriminate against certain federal employees "in such a manner that would offend all thinking Americans."

The president said that under the bill federal employees making higher salaries would have gotten larger pay raises on a percentage basis than those whose present pay is below comparable levels in private business.

"To thus heighten the present distortion would be grossly unfair and highly discriminatory," Eisenhower said.

THIRD TRY AT LAW MAKES BOAT AMERICAN, THEN OWNER SELLS

DEER ISLE, Mne. (UPI)—The Edith Q is now an honest lady.

President Eisenhower has signed a special act of Congress making the 43-foot motor boat an American citizen.

A native of Nova Scotia, the Edith Q originally was brought to Deer Isle by James O. Quinn to carry mail, passengers and freight during the summer to Penobscot Bay Islands.

But then the Coast Guard stepped in, and refused to grant the inspection ticket for such duties as the law forbids a "foreign bottom" to operate in coastal trade.

Quinn then set to work to get a bill through Congress making the Edith Q an American boat. He failed twice in two sessions of Congress, but finally, Sen. Edmund Muskie (D-Mne.) managed to put the bill through.

But to Quinn, the Senate's passage of the bill two months ago and the president's signature yesterday meant nothing.

He had sold the Edith Q just a week before the bill passed.

Contractor Expects To Start 2nd Hub Firehouse Soon

Contractor Joseph R. Filippo said today he expects to start work next week on San Anselmo's long-awaited second firehouse at Butterfield Road and Arroyo Avenue.

The San Rafael contractor said he hoped next Wednesday or Thursday to start drilling for pilings to support the understructure of the firehouse in a creekbed passing through the property.

The San Anselmo City Council in a special meeting Tuesday night approved payment of $3,700 to J. B. Hanauer & Co. of Chicago as fee for financial consultation on the lease-option plan by which the firehouse will be financed.

Art-Garden Fair Plans Ballet Program Sunday

The Bay Area Ballet will be one of the varied entertainment features at this year's Marin Art and Garden Fair.

Dancers will bring "Danse Pastorale," Pas de Deux from "Don Quixote" and Act 3 of "Coppelia" to the outdoor amphitheater at the fair grounds in Ross.

Leading dancers in the production will be Irina Borowska and Alan Howard, both formerly with the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo. Miss Borowska was prima ballerina with the company.

They will appear in "Don Quixote" and have the leading rolls of Swanhilda and Franz in "Coppelia." Gracie Doty and Bradford Craig will dance the leading parts in "Danse Pastorale." Kathy Phillips of Ross, is featured in "Coppelia."

The Bay Area Ballet developed from the Marin Ballet led by Leona Norman of San Rafael. Miss Norman continues as ballet director with Carolyn Parks and Vern Nerden. Charles Orgibet is music director; Marc Wilde is artistic director.

The ballet company will appear at 8 p.m. Sunday.

Novato May Seek Road Opinion Poll

Novato city officials, fighting to re-locate Highway 101 to the east of its present route, will probably take an opinion poll to back their stand, Mayor Wayne Womack said today.

Pressed this morning on radio station KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" program on whether opposition to an eight-lane dirt-fill freeway on the present route came from a majority or minority of Novato residents, Womack said: "If it comes to it, the city of Novato will probably take a poll."

T. Fred Bagshaw, assistant state director of public works, entered a plea that "all the facts be made known" before a poll is taken.

Some of the facts presented on this morning's program by R. A. Hayler, district engineer of the California Division of Highways, were that the dirt-fill highway on the present route would cost $6,870,000 and re-routing about one mile east would cost $9,600,000.

Asked by a listener if three million dollars would outweigh the effects of dividing Novato's business district, Bagshaw replied that the state highway commission was charged by law with choosing the "most direct and most practical route." He said it was no light matter to vote on spending "three million dollars of the taxpayers' money."

The fourth panelist of the program, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, was George Barnwell, publisher of the Novato Advance, who said the city could use the space now occupied by Highway 101 as a shoppers' mall with parking for 1,000 cars.

The KTIM program will be rebroadcast by tape recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday. (See also story on page 1.)

College Board May Appoint Austin Aide

A College of Marin administrative assistant—the man who will be in line to succeed President Ward H. Austin on his retirement at the end of the next school year — expected to be named tonight by the college trustees.

The successful candidate for the post will be selected from an original list of more than 90 applicants, which was reduced to seven by a screening committee headed by Marin County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis.

ALL INTERVIEWED

The seven have since been interviewed by a committee of the college board, made up of Chairman Rupert E. Kempf and trustees Elizabeth M. Deedy, Kent O. Seymour and Robert E. Oliver.

According to Mrs. Deedy, secretary of the board, the personal interviews lasted more than five hours each and covered education in general, the candidate's attitude toward the college in particular, as well as his personal "experience, philosophy and attitude."

Whenever possible, Mrs. Deedy said, the committee visited the community of the applicant.

SIX HAVE DOCTORATES

All but one of the seven, whose ages range from 34 to 58, holds a doctorate, only one of these being honorary. Their educational training is not limited to California schools and covers elementary, secondary and college experience, she said. All have been top administrators in public school systems and several have had administrative experience in the establishment or development of junior colleges.

Several of the applicants have had top-level experience in industry, Mrs. Deedy said.

In addition to tonight's adjourned meeting, the board has called a special organizational meeting for tomorrow at 11 a.m. in room 1 of Harlan Hall.

REPRIEVE BY COURT RULING

Belvedere Must Continue Hilartia Sewer Service

Homes in the Hilarita Housing Project in Tiburon, threatened with a sewer service cutoff from today, won a reprieve yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

Judge Richard M. Sims ruled that the City of Belvedere must continue its sewer service to Hilarita Housing until March 1, 1962, or until the Hilarita lines are hooked up with facilities of Tiburon Sanitary District 5, whichever comes first.

In any event, when March 1, 1962 rolls around, Belvedere may sever lines to 120 families of Hilarita.

The judge also ordered the Marin County Housing Authority, which controls Hilarita Housing, to pay $275 per month sewer charge to Belvedere beginning July 15.

Under an agreement made in December, 1959, Belvedere was to serve Hilarita until March, 1962 for $225 per month.

Belvedere had served notice that Hilarita sewer lines would be cut off at the end of June. Guy Ciocca and Howard Morehouse, attorneys for the Housing Authority of Marin, went to court to restrain Belvedere from doing so. They contended that Hilarita homes would be made untenantable and subject to pestilence and disease if sanitary service were severed.

Both the housing authority and Belvedere agreed that after March of 1962, Hilarita will find some other method of disposing of its sewage, probably by tying in with Tiburon Sanitary District.

Twin Cities Open Registration For Summer Program

Registration opens tomorrow for the Larkspur-Corte Madera summer recreation program, director Bill Gordon announced today.

Representatives of the department will take applications at Eastman Hall at William Avenue and Holcomb Street in Larkspur from 10 a.m. until noon, and at the Neil Cummins School in Corte Madera from 1 to 3 p.m. Those unable to sign up at these times may register during the program, which begins July 5, Gordon said.

No supervision is provided for children under 5.

The program includes general sports as well as special activities with supervision and instruction. Complete program schedules are available at the city halls of Corte Madera and Larkspur.

$12,645 Pegged For Recreation

The Strawberry Recreation District adopted a $12,645 budget last night, an increase of $145 over the present year.

L. J. (Budd) Smith and Mrs. James W. Gowen were re-elected president and secretary, respectively, and sworn in by County Clerk George S. Jones for a one-year term.

A proposed bond issue to provide recreational facilities was discussed but no action taken. The meeting was recessed to July 13.

Survey Funds Assured For Flood Project

Funds for an army engineer survey on flood control of two streams flowing into Richardson Bay were assured yesterday.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel reported that Senate and House conferees agreed to retain the survey projects in a final compromise version of an omnibus Public Works Authorization Bill.

Congress is expected to finish legislative action on the measure and send it to the White House within a few days, the senator said in a telegram to the Independent-Journal.

The bill includes money for army engineer flood control study of Tamalpais Valley's Coyote Creek and Mill Valley's Arroyo Corte Madera del Presidio.

The Coyote Creek project was originally planned under the Small Project Act, which sets federal participation at a maximum of $400,000. When army engineers found that the apparent cost would be $527,000 this left a sum which Marin County has not found means to provide.

'WHITE LIES' ADMITTED

Marin Man's Divorce Suit To Be Retried

A tape-recorded admission of "white lies" at an earlier trial resulted yesterday in a court order for retrial of the divorce suit of Alan Ferber of Sausalito vs. Carol Sorkin Ferber.

The order was issued by Judge Arthur Crum of Los Angeles Superior Court after 26-year-old Mrs. Ferber played the recording in his court, reported United Press International.

The brunette divorcee, dissatisfied with terms of her divorce, turned detective. She concealed a microphone in her blouse and attached it to a tiny tape recorder in her purse. Then she went to the men's wear shop operated by Harry Ferber, her ex-husband's father, in Azusa.

She asked the elder Ferber why he and his son lied at the trial.

This was the reply Judge Crum heard from the tape recorder:

"In order to have grounds for a divorce, you have to create grounds for a divorce . . . All these things that were said were just something we were advised to say because grounds had to be created so there could be a divorce. Otherwise, there would have been none."

Objected Mrs. Ferber to her ex-father-in-law: "But there were so many lies."

"Sure, I admit it," was his reply. "They were white lies."

Judge Crum commented that the elder Ferber "virtually sticks his foot in his mouth and admits perjury."

Mrs. Ferber also told the judge that her father-in-law told her young Ferber had remarried although the interlocutory decree of divorce was not final.

Alan Ferber's telephone in Sausalito has been disconnected, and it could not be learned whether he is still residing in Marin.

House Approves Defense Measure

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House today approved a 40-billion-dollar money bill carrying $661,608,000 more than President Eisenhower requested to finance the nation's defense efforts.

The roll call vote was 402 to 5.

The measure, a compromise between differing bills originally passed by the House and Senate, was sent to the Senate where it was expected to win quick and overwhelming approval.

700 Canines Ready For Show Sunday

More than 700 entries have been received for the Sir Francis Drake Kennel Club's first annual licensed dog show and obedience trial on Sunday.

Judging will begin at 9 a. m. at Albert's Field in San Rafael.

Two Marin residents, W. E. Radtke of 214 Marinda Drive, Fairfax, and J. A. Boegman of 200 East Strawberry Drive, Mill Valley, will be among the 10 judges. Radtke will judge German shorthaired pointers and Weimaraners. Boegman will judge terriers of all descriptions: Airedale, Bedlington, Cairn, West Highland White, Smooth foxterriers, wire foxterriers, miniature Chanauzers, Kerry blue terriers, standard Manchester terriers, Scottish, Lakeland and Welsh terriers.

The dog show and obedience trial is not benched. Exhibitors need only bring their dogs to the show one hour before the scheduled time of judging.

READY FOR SHOW — Judo of Dan Bar, champion German Shepard of Mr. and Mrs. Chester C. Vargas Jr. of Belvedere, will be entered in the Sir Francis Drake Kennel Club show Sunday.

Corte Madera Doctor Heads Heart Association

Dr. Paul Kingsley of Corte Madera was named to head the Marin County Heart Assn. as president for the 1960-61 term during the association's annual dinner meeting at Rancho Rafael in Ignacio.

Elected to serve with him were A. Leonard Bjorklund, Jr., Sausalito, vice president; Mrs. Delbert Brown, San Rafael, secretary, and Charles M. Geller, San Anselmo, treasurer.

Named to serve on the heart board were Dr. Katherine Leicester, Dr. C. R. Leininger, Dr. W. Scott Polland, Chris Jenkins, Mrs. Delbert Brown and S. Ames Pence of San Rafael; Mrs. George Stapleton and Mrs. M. R. Baruh, Ross; Mrs. Walter Johnson and Geller, San Anselmo; William Everts Jr., Mill Valley, and Dr. Gerson Jacobs, Terra Linda.

Distinguished service medallions were awarded to Drs. Richard Hahn and Robert Schell for their volunteer service in organizing and conducting heart massage programs at Marin General Hospital for the past two years, during which time some 95 Marin doctors participated in learning the life-saving technique.

In the field of fund raising, recognition awards went to Bjorklund, 1960 Heart Fund chairman; William Kiehl of the Bank of America, Heart Sunday treasurer for three consecutive years; Mrs. Baruh, Heart Sunday chairman; Mrs. Richard Powell of Marinwood, Mrs. Leo Gosliner of Sleepy Hollow and Mrs. U. H. Blake of Santa Venetia for second and third year heart fund volunteer work.

Quentin Camp Escapees Caught

Shasta County sheriff's deputies yesterday caught two San Quentin Prison convicts who escaped from the prison's honor camp at Crystal Creek near Redding Sunday.

The escapees, Edward Lester Williams and Robert T. Chamberlain, were nabbed as they waled along Mule Town Road between Igo and Whiskey Town. They put up no resistance, said Associate Warden Dale B. Frady.

Frady said the convicts will be tried in Shasta County on escape charges.

Marin Cities Get $196,000 In Gasoline Tax Revenues

Marin County cities received a total of $196,297.09 in state gasoline tax revenues for city street work during the fiscal year ending today, State Highway Engineer J. C. Womack announced today.

The amount is the revenue from five-eighths of a cent per gallon out of the State gasoline taxes paid by highway users. It is apportioned by the State Division of Highways on a population basis.

Largest share in the county went to San Rafael, which received $48,826.80. San Anselmo received $33,682.96· Mill Valley, $28,516.91; Corte Madera $16,040.10; Sausalito, $15,718.15; Larkspur, $14,951.07; Fairfax, $13,807.46; Novato, $12,436.14; Ross, $7,096.82 and Belvedere, $5,220.68.

Novato was one of ten new cities incorporated during the past year to become eligible for a share of the 1959-60 apportionment.

State law requires the cities to spend at least 60 per cent of the apportionment for construction on streets included within the major street system as designated by the city council and approved by the State Department of Public Works. Up to 40 per cent may be spent for maintenance of city streets.

In all, California's 364 incorporated cities received a record total of $32,080,631 in revenues from gasoline taxes during the year, a total of $1,637,078 more than last year's record.

Cities also receive an additional allocation of state highway funds each year for engineering expenses.

Social Studies

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state board of education will meet in San Diego July 7-8 to talk about separate teaching of geography, history and government instead of the current mixing in a social studies course.

A five-year survey of social studies, recently completed, recommends keeping the integrated course but with more study of the contemporary world and fewer or no "life adjustment" features.

Sugar and tobacco are government monopolies in Iran.

Rabies Clinic Slated Tonight

A public clinic for vaccination of dogs against rabies will be held at the County Fire Department in Point Reyes Station Tuesday, from 7 to 9 p.m.

This is one of a series of dog vaccination clinics being operated by the County Health Department during June and July. A fee of $2 per dog is charged.

The County-operated clinics are provided to assist dog owners in complying with the law which requires vaccination against rabies and licensing for all dogs over four months old.

Dogs vaccinated at clinics in 1958 must be revaccinated before they can be licensed again, said Dr. Carolyn Albrecht, county health officer.

A clinic will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. tomorrow at the county firehouse, Woodacre.

Thousands Of Marinites Make Fair A Success

Tonight in Ross, the lights are on for the five-day run of the Marin Art and Garden Fair, Marin's unique county fair.

Each year we wax eloquent about what our friends and neighbors have done in the Art and Garden Center. Each year, they seem to have outdone themselves.

And it is true again this year. Everything seems prettier, and there is more of it, than ever before.

Those of our readers who have never been to the Marin Fair shouldn't go there expecting merry-go-rounds, wild horses, carnivals, professional barkers, or rows of pig displays. This is a Marin fair, designed for Marin and with the people of Marin in mind.

Not only that, but Marin people do the work of setting up the exhibits and manning the booths.

You may see your banker cooking hamburgers and an insurance executive on his hands and knees in a fuchsia exhibit. There may be a well-known authoress selling balloons or a socially prominent woman offering 50-starred flags.

Of course the works of well-known painters will be exhibited and the painters themselves often will be around somewhere, taking part in the art-in-action displays. The same may be said of the weavers, sculptors, and other artists.

Literally thousands of Marin's residents take part personally in the fair. Many of them you will see "at work," others will have completed their chores and departed.

The Marin Fair has indeed become a "county" fair, with Marin people doing a wonderful job of providing entertainment and enjoyment for other Marin people.

Truly, there is no other county fair like the Marin Art and Garden Fair. We're proud of it. We're proud of our neighbors who put it on.

And we hope you'll go to Ross this holiday weekend for a day or two of enjoyment at The Fair.

Wild English Daisies

One prolific flower in Marin gardens is the tiny English daisy. It needs little care. In fact, many people think of it as a weed and strive mightily to rid their gardens of what they consider to be a pernicious pest.

We encourage it along the walks in our yard. We like the small golden-disk-centers and the multitudes of tiny white or pink petals. The plants grow about ten inches high and are covered with flowers from early spring to late autumn.

It may surprise some of those who have tried to rid their gardens of this alleged weed to learn that this wee flower is one of the kinds of English daisy which inspired great verse in such men as Burns, Shakespeare and Wordsworth.

Weeds? Perhaps. But to some people they are loveliness itself.

HE COULDN'T RESIST $30,000

The driver of an armored car disappeared with $30,000 in cash while two other guards were delivering money to a bank in a midwest city.

He was found two hours later buying the fourth round of drinks for everyone in a tavern.

He had spent only $60 of the $30,000 by the time the three detectives caught up with him.

The 57-year-old guard had worked for the armored car service for 27 years without a blot on his record.

The only explanation he could give when arrested was: "I'm a sick man. I feel sick all over."

Company officials, happy that most of the money was recovered, were willing to forgive and forget as well as help the "sick man."

As sons of Adam, all of us are subject to human weakness. Guard yourself against the subtle beginnings of temptation by recalling that you are always in God's presence. You will rarely succumb to sinful allurements if you do.

One Way To Stay On The Wagon Stay Sober At Cocktail Parties

NEW YORK (AP)—The only exercise some men get after 40 is climbing on—and falling off—the water wagon.

During these periods of temporary abstinence they avoid their former bottle buddies and usual haunts. They often don't know what to do with themselves. They feel lonely and forgotten.

There is a simple, easy cure for such a feeling. They should go to more cocktail parties.

But if you suggest this to them, they exclaim: "What! Go to a cocktail party when I'm on the wagon? Why, I'd be bored to death!"

Actually, they couldn't be wronger. For pure downright malicious pleasure you can't beat the enjoyment possible to a man who goes to a cocktail party as a tee-totaler.

When you drink at a cocktail party you are like an animal in a zoo. But when you go stone sober—and stay that way—you are a spectator at the zoo.

You stand apart, on Olympus, quietly munching antiacid tablets instead of peanuts or canapes, as the orgy unfolds.

At most cocktail parties there is usually a lion of the hour who is being feted. You note how the guests rush up to shake his hand, then grab a drink and run away — so they won't have to listen to him. Five martinis later the lion of the hour has his lonely paw around the shoulder of an imprisoned waiter and is telling him the story of his life.

The guests look like nice normal people when they arrive. Two hours later they look as if they had weathered a hurricane, which is about what they have done.

That sweet young girl, who swam in as pretty as a mermaid, now appears to have crashed into a coral reef.

The dignified middle-aged matron wears the air of a charlady on a bender.

Her pompous husband teeters in a corner, trying to ambush every passing woman under 80.

All the chins that came in held so high now are slack-jawed and sunken. The faces so human are like pagan gargoyles, with jaws endlessly wagging.

The conversation that began in monosyllabic inanities has progressed to polysyllabic absurdities.

You reach under the table, shake the host's hand and assure him, "I never had a better time in my life."

Nothing gives a man a smugger feeling of total virtue than to attend a cocktail party as a wide-eyed teetotaler.

SOVIET UNION REVISITED—II

Consumers Realize They're Way Behind

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

An enterprising Muscovite, with an eye to a quick ruble, looks at your suit with undisguised admiration. He runs his fingers over the material with appropriate exclamations of approval.

"Want to sell it?" he asks, apparently willing to buy your clothing right off your back.

Do you have an American ballpoint pen? A West European wristwatch? What do you have? The young hustler is in a buying mood and will pay well. There's a big market for quality in the Soviet Union. He can resell at a spanking profit.

SOVIET AUTHORITIES have tried to discourage this sort of thing, but it persists and grows as tournists flood into Moscow.

This is called dealing "na lyevo"—on the left. It reflects the Soviet hunger for better consumer goods. And it underscores some serious domestic Soviet problems.

The Communists have been unable to escape the laws of supply and demand. The Soviet regime frequently has had to resort to spy scares and noisy belligerence to divert the attention of its public.

Soviet communism's problem is that the nation's domestic economy is perpetually frozen. Something similar might be the case for Americans if wartime price controls and priorities had become permanent fixtures in peacetime—an economy of shortages.

KHRUSHCHEV'S regime is harassed by a constantly recurring problem of inflation. Money accumulates in the pockets of better-paid Soviet citizens, without goods in the stores to match it.

The experience is not new in the U.S.S.R. It happened in Stalin's time, too. He dealt with it, occasionally, with sudden relaxations, and sometimes by suddenly changing the value of money.

Premier Khrushchev, too, is about to revalue the ruble, although he has given forewarning. The process begins in January, when rubles in circulation will be exchanged, 1 new ruble for 10 old.

Basically, what has happened has been a wage inflation. It resulted from the programs of Stalin's immediate successor, Premier Georgi Malenkov.

THESE PROGRAMS were first denounced and then adopted by Khrushchev. They involve higher prices for collective farm products, raises in minimum wages, pensions, the end of enforced loans to the state.

The revalution will not reflect the real worth of the ruble. On Moscow's streets today, a visitor who risks running afoul the law can buy 40 rubles for a dollar. The official rate is four to the dollar. The tourist rate 10 to the dollar.

What happens to dollars purchased on the black market is anybody's guess, but the practice is commonplace in the Soviet capital.

The average Soviet wage still hovers in the neighborhood of 700 rubles monthly. At the tourist rate, that would be $70, but it is worth a bit less in actual purchasing power. Prices for clothing, household goods and thing affected by seasonal shortages remain extremely high.

A two-pound cabbage, for example, as of June 12 cost 15 rubles—the tourist rate equivalent of $1.50 — and cabbage is a Russian staple.

AT THE SAME time, the Soviet citizen has more in his pockets now that he has been accustomed to having. And while the average wage remains low, many are paid well.

The money competes for scarce quality goods. Many a citizen is willing to pay under the counter to have his name moved up on the waiting list for something like a television set.

When the pressure gets too great, the government adopts measures to let off steam. This requires companion preventive measures and a strong hand at the helm to keep consumers from running away with the economy.

ONE SAFETY measure is ADD—edit—RED Consensus.. the often used spy scare. In this respect the American spy-plane incident of May 1 and the noise raised about it by the Communist leadership take on added significance. The enemy is pictured as at the door, menacing the state, so patriotic Soviet citizens can more reasonably be asked to be patient regarding their private complaints.

The pressure on the Kremlin is not revolutionary, but it is steady and nagging. Counter pressure by some Communist party elements on Khrushchev also is noticeable, and once again he likely will have to tell the public to defer its dreams.

KHRUSHCHEV'S promises of better living generated much optimism among the average Russians. But skeptics who have been through it all before expect strong measures once again, with dangerous international tensions as the excuse.

On the whole, an American in Moscow feels that the hungers of the Soviet consumer public are a token of shame for Soviet communism: that for all the U.S.S.R.'s vaunted might and scientific spectacles, for all its abundance of natural riches, it remains in many respects a backward nation, far behind the standards of much weaker neighbors to the west.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Butterflies Were 'Tortoise Shell'

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Having collected lepidoptera (a family hobby) and the raising of several species for many years, read with interest your editorial (June 27) regarding the "Hordes of Brown Butterflies."

Believe what you are referring to is called the California Tortoise Shell (Aglais californica).

We, too, last week had a swarm, which we believe were the same reported seen in Kentfield, almost completely covering a tree in our yard. And while up around Mt. Shasta several years ago, while hiking through a manzanita meadow, we were practically "attacked" by what seemed to us millions of these creatures.

Quoting from the book "Butterflies of California" by Comstock:

"The California Tortoise-Shell is a common insect in the mountains, and is distributed over a wide area west of the Rockies. In certain seasons it appears in such tremendous numbers as to cause a complete defoliation of the wild lilac over tensive areas. When this occurs a swarming and migrating instinct seems to take possession of the butterflies and they travel for great distances. It is an interesting sight to witness one of these movements. Such a migration was observed in the Tahoe region some years ago. The flight was continuous for a period of three days. More than 50 butterflies were taken with a single stroke of the net, at a point where they were passing between two bushy obstructions."

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Deborah Kerr and David Niven co-starred in a motion picture some time ago, and discovered that as children in England they had lived within a few miles of each other. While waiting for new scenes to be set up (there is almost as much time spent sitting around and waiting for something to happen in movie making as there is in active service in the army), Miss Kerr and Niven fell to playing an almost-forgotten game with old London music hall gags. Miss Kerr would call out in a cockney accent, "Say something soft and sweet." Niven would oblige with "Rice pudding!" Or niven would begin, "My father has no nose at all." Miss Kerr, on cue, would exclaim, "Fancy that! How does he smell?" "Awful," Niven would admit.

Fortunately, about this time the director would call, "Everybody on the set," and the game was over.

Father Of Judge Hopes To Waken America From 'Frittering Fifties'

A July 4 explosion from Tiburon Peninsula may rock the whole nation.

That's the hope of the fuse-toucher, a puckish party with a bald dome—hitherto known to Marin only as father of Judge David R. Baty of Northwest Marin Judicial District. Otherwise, he is a retired Chicago banker.

The judge's dad is currently in contempt of 'most everything and will express himself freely in a book to be published Monday by Viking Press of New York under the title "Citizen Abroad."

EBEN NEAL BATY'S volume was accepted only May 16 and rushed on a crash program to combat what its author terms "that false security today threatening America almost more than thermonuclear weapons."

Something of a fanner of the flames of discontent myself, I take a dim view of many competitors who tend to be bombastic windbags different, naturally, from me.

But Baty clearly has something to say, starting with—"When you're satisfied, put in a call to the undertaker!" He approves Fred Bonfil's slogan, "There is no hope for the satisfied man."

Baty thinks that his native land slumbered through what he calls the "frittering fifties" and is now iniquitously satisfied with mediocrity, all the way from the schoolhouse to the White House.

WE ARE DOPED, says he trenchantly, with a narcotic prosperity. We're all hopped up with self-righteousness.

This merry Andrew is so loaded with general goodwill that it must have been some time before his gorge began to rise in the course of an eight-month freighter cruise from his Paradise Cove home through 23 countries.

But soon he began to realize that foreigners were hating us, and not just for Moscow hire; plenty were glad to do it for free. Baty wanted to see ourselves as others saw us, and to them, we were Smug—cap S.

"That's why, finally, I wrote my first book and I hope my last," says Baty. "I tried to mix an anti-tranquilizer pill between covers. It's high time we saw our own faults, all too visible to everybody else.

"Constantly the international waters grow more troubled, the rocks ahead more jagged, yet no one charts our course. That includes Mr. Eisenhower whom I helped nominate, but lived to regret it."

"AS RECENTLY as two years ago there was little anti-Americanism in Japan," notes Baty. "Today, obviously, there is a tremendous amount. We do ourselves great disservice by glibly explaining it's 'Kremlin-inspired.'

"Of course there were Communists among those thousands of snake-dancing students, those unionites, those tens of thousands of oldsters belonging to no union. Communists lose no chance to fish in troubled waters.

"Our U2 fiasco and other tragic mistakes have created troubled waters for Americans almost everywhere. But attempting to catalog 300,000 marching Japanese as Kremlin stooges is just one of our retreats from reality."

BATY GAZED on his sixty-third birthday yesterday at a red, white and blue dust-cover for his Fourth of Julk book. I tactlessly mentioned Dr. Johnson's crack about patriotism being the last refuge of the scoundrel.

"Just what I think!" beamed Baty. "I've been called half-witted too because when I retired I went to Los Angeles and it took me a year before I saw the light of Marin.

"A banker friend told me I couldn't have all my sense or this wouldn't have taken me more than a week, or two at most.

"Well, I waked up and I hope to wake up a lot of my fellow-Americans from their slumbers during our just-past Decade of Decline. It's not too late—yet."

Labor Gives Testimonial Dinner For Republican Office Holder

WASHINGTON—The interests of American labor have never been better represented in government than during the six-year tenure of James P. Mitchell in the Eisenhower administration.

Partisanship and presidential politics aside, the labor leaders gave almost unanimous evidence of their high regard for Mitchell with the testimonial dinner in Washington last night, sponsored by the combined union movement, including the C.I.O.-A.F. of L. and the United Mine Workers.

U. S. labor leaders are rarely united on anything. They are completely united in paying this tribute to Mitchell.

THERE IS NO political purpose in this gathering of some 500 leaders of the labor union movement to express their appreciation for his public service. Though not one of their own—like Martin Durkin—Mitchell has proved an able spokesman for, but not a prisoner of organized labor.

Nearly all of his hosts will be supporting the 1960 Democratic presidential nominee a month hence. On this occasion they will be acknowledging the fairness and the effectiveness of Secretary Mitchell, who is working for the nomination of Vice President Nixon.

Mitchell would himself not be averse to being Nixon's running mate and it is known that this would give President Eisenhower no pain.

OTHER THAN Atty. Gen. William Rogers, no one has worked more intimately with the Vice President than Secretary Mitchell. They have been close allies in the administration. Together they negotiated the settlement of the steel strike last fall. They have developed great respect for each other.

The labor movement's testimonial dinner does not imply political support for Secretary Mitchell if he becomes the Republican vice presidential candidate. He would be entirely on his own.

It is Mitchell's foremost conviction that U. S. unions must do more than they have thus far in seeing that their own interests are parallel with the public interest.

"TOO MANY LABOR leaders," Mitchell told me on one occasion, "tend to make the same mistake which many industrialists made a half-century ago when their attitude was interpreted as being — 'The public be damned'."

Mitchell is not suggesting in the last that labor's national role should be narrowed, but rather that its national responsibility should be equal to its power. What he is saying is that he would like to see labor more consistently and, symbolically, accept the motto that "what's good for the nation is good for labor" —rather than vice versa.

'More Able Learners' Due Special Program

A program for pupils considered the "more able learners" will begin next year in the San Rafael School District, probably, at first, in grades four, five and six.

Dr. Mildred Barnard, assistant superintendent in charge of elementary instruction, and Robert Shore, rapid learner consultant, discussed plans for these pupils Tuesday night with the board of education.

Just what form the program will take has not yet been determined. Shore first will spend at least a semester in the district, becoming acquainted, verifying the screening of children, and generally "feeling his way around."

He already is working with children in the summer school, however, "putting into action some things we are going to do in the whole district," Shore said. One of these is fostering the "scientific method of thinking." He hopes to have a science fair at the end of the summer session.

Dr. Barnard explained that about a year ago the administrative staff decided to study what was being done elsewhere for the "more able learners."

They decided, after study, that the program begun here must be tailored for San Rafael. They also decided there was no one criterion for identifying these children. Intelligence quotient is not enough, Dr. Barnard said. Their purpose and goals, their "ideal qualities" and their handicaps or shortcomings need to be looked at, she said.

Dr. Barnard observed that teacher judgment is an excellent place to begin in identification of the more able group. Standardized tests are helpful, and social leadership is considered.

"We need to determine how to detect the gifted earlier. There must be a way to do it at the kindergarten level," Dr. Barnard said.

Four committees are working on the program. One will concentrate on identification of the "more able learners"; one on "aims and objectives;" one on "plans and procedures," and another on lang range planning.

The administrative committee agreed that "more able learners" was the best title for the program, and that it probably should begin in grades 4, 5 and 6. Later it could operate also on the junior high level.

"Teachers in kindergarten through grade 3 should not be discouraged if they want help," Dr. Barnard said.

An advisory committee will work with Shore to help get the program under way.

Shore told the board there were three main types of programs: segregated, non-segregated and accelerated. The latter, in which grades are skipped, is not recommended, he said.

He has worked three years with a segregated program in Castro Valley and two years with a non-segregated program in Kentfield where the "more able" youngsters have been given special attention in their regular classrooms.

The chief advantage of a program where these children are segregated is that "you get to the immediate needs of the gifted children," Shore said. Many activities are possible that are not carried on in regular classrooms.

Classes Start Tomorrow In Sausalito

Summer school for students in the Sausalito School District will begin tomorrow and continue through July 29.

Classes will be conducted Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. All children in the first seven grades who have registered will be eligible to attend.

Robert D. Thomson, principal of Richardson Bay School, where classes will be held, said the program will be essentially the same as in the regular school session.

Fernando Silva, foreign language instructor, will conduct a class in Spanish. Mrs. Jane Pokorny will have classes in instrumental and vocal music.

No transportation will be provided.

Navy Captain Retires Today

A 27-year naval career ends today for Capt. George P. Unmacht of 210 Manor Drive, Mill Valley.

Captain Unmacht retires as chief of staff to Rear Adm. Eugene B. McKinney, commander of Military Sea Transportation Service, Pacific Area, at Fort Mason.

A graduate of the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., Captain Unmacht has an outstanding World War II record.

He holds the Silver Star and two Bronze Stars.

Jerry Livingston, composer of "Mairzy Doats"and other hit songs, was born in Denver.

Sausalito Fireworks Scheduled

The Sausalito Lions Club will stage its annual aerial fireworks display at 9 p.m. Monday.

"Safe and sane" fireworks, such as sparklers and roman candles, were put on sale yesterday at Shell Beach on the Sandspit. A percentage of the profits go to the Lions Club, according to Fire Chief Mathew J. (Matts) Perry.

Perry, a member of the Lions Club, said today that persons wishing to set off "safe and sane" fireworks may do so Monday between 6:30 and 11 p.m. on the Sandspit.

He said that people will be allowed to fire them during the organized 50-minute aerial show. This show, sponsored by the Lions, will be handled by Sausalito firemen, who will do the shooting. An ambulance and a fire truck will be at hand in case of any accident, Perry said.

Perry added that "absolutely, there will be no firing of firecrackers." And, he said, no one is to use any fireworks anyplace in Sausalito outside of the Sandspit nor any time except the designated hours.

Parking meters in New York City add revenue of about 7 million dollars annually.

20,000 Barrels Of Whiskey Burn

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP) — Lightning set fire to a distillery warehouse today, destroying the storage building and 20,000 barrels of whiskey.

The fire broke out at the Medley Distilling Co. during a morning thunderstorm that later moved eastward across Kentucky. The building flamed intensely as barrel after barrel of newly distilled whiskey burst.

Quake Relief Put To Use By Chileans

Clothing gathered by Sausalito and throughout the Bay Area and sent to Chile for victims of the earthquake and tidal wave has been received and put to good use.

This word has been received by Mrs. M. Justin Herman, chairman of the Sausalito people-to-people program. Mrs. Herman said that clothing was flown to Chile by Pan-American World Airways and was received in the city of Valdivia and "put to immediate and good use."

She said, too, that Sausalito Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. has received a letter from the mayor of Sausalito's sister city, Vina Del Mar.

The letter, from Gustavo Lorca Rojas, said: "The sister city of Vina Del Mar and myself thank you for the deep sympathy in the tragedy that has overcome the south of Chile.

"We hope with God's mercy, and the wonderful help of our neighbor countries, and in a very excelling way yours, and your efficient and brotherly people who have been the first to come in our aid, to be able to rebuild new cities out of the disastrous ruins. Vina Del Mar has not suffered with the earthquakes, and is helping in every way to assist our brothers in misfortune."

Party To Raise Funds For New Paperbacks

A party will be held at the "Bar With No Name" in Sausalito from 8 to 12 p.m. tomorrow to raise funds for "Contact" magazine, which plans to publish three paperback books this fall.

Karl Herreshoff will play the guitar. The staff of Contact, which is published in Sausalito, and Bay Area literary personalities will attend, according to Neil Davis, new owner of the bar. The party is open to the public.

CAPITOL COLUMNS — NOW AND THEN

Discoverer Fails To Go Into Orbit

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (AP)—The latest Discoverer rocket failed to go into orbit and destroyed itself in a flaming plunge into the earth's atmosphere, the Air Force said today.

The Discoverer XII was fired yesterday.

Air Force scientists worked through the night to pinpoint the spot where the rocket fell—and determine, if possible, why it didn't orbit.

It was intended to circle the earth on a north-south polar orbit and then, after 17 trips, to drop an instrument-loaded capsule into a target area in Hawaiian waters.

Regulations Announced On Trust Investments

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — New regulations to control the so-called "10 per cent" trust deed investment companies were announced yesterday by John G. Sobieski, California Commissioner of Corporations.

The commissioner announced that the regulations, which will go into effect July 29, followed public hearings held in Sacramento, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The regulations provide that companies pooling second trust deed funds and issuing certificates against these pools must have reserves protecting their investors.

Every company shall be required to maintain at all times a ratio of capital to aggregate liability of not less than 1 to 10 for the first three million dollars.

The commissioner also ruled that every company must maintain a net worth equal to its capitalization.

Among the ground rules proposed by the commissioner was one requiring that "promotional" second deeds of trust must not make up more than 5 per cent of the deeds of trust in the fund of the company.

Promotional deeds of trust are those on bare land backed by building plans or contracts. Such deeds of trust are the backbone of subdivision developments.

Second deeds of trust must have a cost to the company which does not exceed either the unpaid balance of the principal and interest owing; or the unpaid balance plus the balance owing on prior liens shall not exceed the following percentages:

Of 92 per cent of the appraised value of single family dwellings; of 90 per cent of the appraised value of residential income property; or of 85 per cent of the appraised value of commercial or industrial property.

School Board Meeting

An adjourned meeting of the Mill Valley School District board is scheduled tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the district office at 26 Miller Avenue.

TRADING STAMP LAW EFFECTIVE TOMORROW

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A new law goes into effect tomorrow giving customers the right to ask for cash or merchandise when they redeem books full of trading stamps.

The measure, passed by the 1959 legislature, was designed to prevent companies from redeeming books only with merchandise or from issuing stamps and then refusing to redeem them at all.

State consumer counsel Helen Nelson of Mill Valley said trading stamps must henceforth show their actual cash value along with the name of the company that issued them.

She explained that under the new law trading stamp companies must post a bond of $25,000 to $100,000—depending on volume of business—with the commissioner of corporations. Should the company refuse to redeem its stamps, the commissioner may then file a claim on behalf of the person holding them.

Underground Blasts Rock Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Five underground explosions beneath Public Square shook downtown Cleveland last night. The blasts cut off electric power to nearby buildings, flipped manhole covers into the air and smashed several plate glass windows.

The only injury was to a man who suffered minor cuts from flying glass.

The explosions were triggered when gas and air—heated by smoldering insulation covering high-power underground cables—came in direct contact with cool air from the street.

Thick black smoke poured from a dozen manholes and flames spouted 15 feet high from one of them.

Vehicles and pedestrians, endangered by the flying manhole covers, were cleared from the square. Buses were rerouted for nearly three hours. Sixty extra policemen were assigned to the busy hub of downtown Cleveland.

South Carolina has an area of 30,000 square miles.

NEA Elects New President

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A schoolteacher who has spared the rod in 27 years of teaching takes over as titular head of the world's largest professional organization Friday.

Miss Clarice Kline will assume the presidency of the National Education Assn. and its 714,000 members on the final day of the NEA's 98th annual convention.

Miss Kline is convinced that high school students are just about the best people there are. She should know; she has taught them 27 years.

"They are smart and poised, they know what they want, and they are aware of their responsibilities," she said in an interview. "I've never had to take a ruler to one yet."

For the next 12 months, Miss Kline will be on leave from her duties as social studies teacher at Waukesha, Wis., High School. She expects to visit all 50 states, as well as Europe, and will log more than 120,000 miles of travel.

Grace Sweeps Aside Queries On Report Of Marital Rift

NEW YORK (UPI) — Princess Grace of Monaco regally swept aside reporters at Idlewild Airport today when they tried to question her about reports there is marital trouble in the Monacan Palace.

"I really don't have time," she said as she brushed past inquiring newsmen.

A spokesman for the postage stamp principality said reports of trouble between Princess Grace and Prince Rainier were "utterly ridiculous."

The Prince, arriving at the airport for an earlier flight to Paris, was equally casual in dismissing the report.

"You read the columns," he said to a reporter who asked for comment. "I don't."

The story had said the Princess was "angry" because the Prince had made her return home while her father, the late John B. Kelly, was ill. Grace had arrived here May 31 to see her ailing father. She returned home two weeks later. The Prince and the Princess flew here June 21 for her father's funeral.

The departure on separate planes aroused some comment today until a spokesman for the public relations firm representing Monaco pointed out that the Prince was flying to Paris on business, while the Princess was returning directly home to her children.

Marcel Palmaro, Monacan consul general in New York, noted that the Prince and Princess usually avoid flying on the same plane "for the children's sake"—implying that their separate flights are to avoid the possibility of an air crash killing both parents.

They broke their rule when they flew here together for the funeral, he said, because there was an emergency.

Convention Delegate

Lt. Col. Ross F. Black of San Rafael is a state delegate to the Reserve Officers Assn. national convention which opened yesterday at New York City's Waldorf Astoria hotel. S.F. Seeks Title Go: Fullmer Vs. Giambra

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—The National Boxing Assn., world middleweight crown was still in Gene Fullmer's hands today after he stopped challenger Carmen Basilio in 2:54 of the 12th round in a bruising battle last night.

Fullmer's manager, Marv Jenson, today dismissed Basilio as a contender and said he has a $100,000 offer for his battler to meet Joey Giambra next.

Jenson said Matchmaker Benny Ford made the big-money bid for a Fullmer-Giambra match in San Francisco and that fights with Paul Pender or Ray Robinson were possible.

Basilio, enraged when the fight was stopped, pushed the referee, threatened to punch him and claimed he was the victim of a home town decision.

Fullmer, the 29-year-old West Jordan, Utah, mink rancher, was in charge from the beginning and was ahead on every card when the end came. Judge Del Markham and Referee Pete Giacoma had Fullmer ahead 108-102, Judge Bob Yocum saw it 109-101 and The Associated Press 108-101.

In winning the nationally televised bout, Fullmer extended his record to 52 victories. He has lost three and had one draw. Basilio is 54-15-7.

Basilio weighed 156½, the heaviest of his career, Fullmer 159¼.

Basilio, both eyes cut, his face swollen and wicked-looking welts on his body, delivered some angry blasts at everyone connected with the fight when it was over. He excepted Fullmer.

"Gene and I are good friends, but this Utah Athletic Commission belongs to Jenson," he charged.

"And that referee. He never should have stopped it. He could see the handwriting on the wall."

Did he mean he would have won had the fight continued?

"Sure," he snapped.

Basilio might have been hard pressed to find many in the crowd of 10,500 who would agree.

The battered ex-champion from Chittenango, N.Y., was obviously hurt by heavy Fullmer lefts to the body and right shots to the face. Bleeding, reeling around and holding on in the 12th, it appeared the end was near, one way or another.

Referee Giacoma of suburban Murray, Utah, who was working his first big fight, decided Basilio had had enough and stopped it.

As early as the end of the first round Fullmer had raised welts on Basilio's body. Carmen's face was red and started to swell by the third. Both fighters sustained eye cuts that bled freely in the middle rounds. Jenson was able to patch up Fullmer but Basilio's damage worsened.

There were no knockdowns, but in the eighth Fullmer crashed into Basilio as he was going away and Carmen went flat on his back, came up on his shoulder, then back on his feet again like a seasoned tumbler.

Fullmer, scarcely marked, told reporters he was surprised at Carmen's "lack of aggressiveness." Basilio saw it another way: "He (Fullmer) didn't want to make a fight of it."

Scheffing, Stanky, Gordon Leading Derby For Giant Manager's Post

CONNOLLY

Not so long ago Horace Stoneham, owner of the Giants, didn't know for sure whether he should re-hire Bill Rigney as the 1960 manager of his ball club.

There were a few violent antagonists against Rigney's re-appointment.

But Stoneham himself led the Putsch for Rigney. Soft-hearted Horace can flop with the facility of a traffic light going from red to green. So he switched to re-hiring Rigney in spite of vehement opposition. He decided, with his usual easy sense of candor, to kick over the traces and shoot the works for Rigney. It seemed to us, at the time, to be a twisted and whimsical reasoning on Stoneham's part. And as events turned out, Stoneham wound up by tying the "can" to the guy he didn't want to hire in the first place.

Today the Giant owner is debating on the successor to Rigney. He is torn between the choice of Eddie Stanky of the St. Louis Cardinal chain; Bob Scheffing, former manager of Chicago's Cubs and now coach of the Milwaukee Braves, and Joe Gordon, present manager of the Cleveland club.

FROM AUTHORITATIVE sources I am told that Scheffing is likely to plop into the job before the Giants return home from their present road trip.

Scheffing has the inside track because he is a grand person, baseball wise, young enough to handle youngsters and certainly on the same social plane as Boss Stoneham.

If my fran Lefty O'Doul is out like a light, I can think of no one more deserving of a chance than Scheffing. He has what it takes. He didn't get quite a fair shake with the Cubs, although he left them with the finest of separation papers. It was a friendly divorce, a mutual disagreement.

YOU HAVE to do a little scampering around to get the lowdown on what's happening in your own backyard. For instance, at Monterey over the weekend we were told that Charley Harney was going to sue the City of San Francisco and if he didn't get paid off, close down the ball park to the Giants.

At Santa Cruz, the thinking is that Clancy Sheehan will stay on the job another couple weeks and turn over the reins to either Scheffing or Gordon. The only hitch in that thinking is that Gordon is with the Cleveland Indians and might not get away until the season ends.

BUT ANYONE who thinks Stoneham is about to re-hire Bill Rigney had better switch tracks.

Rigney, as far as the Giants are concerned, is as dead as yesterday's newspapers.

O'Doul is "out" because Stoneham feels a "pub owner" isn't exactly the guy to snap the boys out of their doldrums; Durocher is out because he wants stock certificates in lieu of pay.

Those opposed to Stanky do not think he did any great job with the Cardinals when he was boss.

So there you have it, all the way from Carmel to San Rafael.

And the information is free.

British Champs Upset In Wimbledon Semis

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI)—Maria Bueno, top-seeded defending champion from Brazil, and Sandra Reynolds, the South Africa tennis champion, gained the women's singles final today at the Wimbledon Championships by defeating England's Christine Truman and Ann Haydon on the center court.

Miss Bueno, the slender brunette who won the United States crown at Miss Truman's expense last year after becoming the Wimbledon champion, defeated the six-foot English blonde, 6-0, 5-7, 6-1. Miss Reynolds, who bowed in last year's semi-finals to Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., ousted Miss Haydon, 6-3, 2-6, 6-4.

It was a historic occasion for veteran Wimbledon observers in the crowd of more than 15,000 that packed the center court stands and standing terraces. There were no United States players in the women's semi-finals for the first time since before World War II.

No Americans survived the men's or women's singles quarter-finals.

Karen Hantze of San Diego and Janet Hopps of Seattle reached the women's doubles semi-finals by ousting Sheila Armstrong and Deidre Catt of Britain, 8-6, 6-3. The Misses Hantze and Hopps next meet top seeded Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., and Miss Bueno.

N.Y. Grid Giants Sue Chargers For 250 Gs

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The New York Giants of the National Football League, who recently lost one Federal Court suit to prevent Mississippi star Charley Flowers from playing for the Los Angeles Chargers, filed a new one here yesterday.

The new action charges conspiracy and asks $250,000 damages from the Chargers of the new American Football League.

Nancy Swadesh Gets Demo Post

Mrs. Nancy Swadesh of Mill Valley was named yesterday to the platforms and resolutions committee at the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles starting July 11.

The appointment was made in Washington by Sen. Clair M. Engle, chairman of the California delegation, as he made delegate assignments to the four major convention committees.

Only one other California delegate, Rep. Chet Holifield of Montebello, was named to the committee with Mrs. Swadesh.

No Marinites were assigned to the other three committees.

BIG TWI-NIGHTER

Mac And Sanford Vs. Mizell, Friend

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates attempt to salvage the major portion of their crucial three-game series tonight when they meet in a scheduled twi-night doubleheader. Rain postponed last night's contest. A crowd of more than 20,000 waited patiently for an hour and 20 minutes before the contest finally was called without players ever taking the field.

A late curfew halted Tuesday's opener with the squads deadlocked, 7-7, after nine innings.

San Francisco's Mike McCormick (9-3) and Wilmer Mizell (4-4), slated to hurl last night, also are on tab tonight. Jack Sanford (6-5) is Giant Manager Tom Sheehan's choice in the nightcap against Bob Friend (9-4).

San Francisco remained in third place, six games behind the league-leading Pirates as runnerup Milwaukee lost a temporary chance to advance by splitting a doubleheader with Chicago. The Braves are two and one-half games back.

Sheehan last night defended his use of Sanford, along with two other starters, for relief duty in Tuesday's affair.

"This is the club we have to beat. I'd sooner beat them once than the Phillies twice," the skipper said. The Giants go to Philadelphia next.

'The Man' Acting Like Kid Again

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Stan "The Man" Musial is nearing 40 and has been riding the bench much of this season. But since returning to the starting lineup Saturday he's been acting like a youngster.

Last night Musial singled home the first two St. Louis runs and stroked a double in a 2-4 evening during which the Cardinals downed the Cincinnati Reds 5-2 and moved back into fourth place in the National League.

Sizzling Injuns Move Up In A.L.

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Since the start of the season, New York Yankee scouts have been whispering "watch the Orioles" into Casey Stengel's elephant-sized ears. But Ole Case and the rest of the Yankees had better start worrying about the Cleveland Indians. For while the Orioles are showing signs of skidding, the Indians are flying.

The Tribe, behind the six-hit pitching of rookie southpaw Dick Stigman, bounced back into second place in the American League race last night by handing Baltimore its third straight defeat, 5-3. The loss dropped the Orioles into third place by a single percentage point.

Cleveland now has won seven of its last nine games, but over that period Manager Joe Gordon has gotten only two route-going jobs from his prized pitching staff. And both of those efforts were turned in by Stigman, who stopped the Yankees with a four-hitter last week-end.

In his latest outing against the Orioles, Stigman was bothered by wildness, walking six while fanning five. But he permitted only one hit over the last three innings and was aided by three double plays.

Stigman, who earned a promotion to the Indians this year although he lost 17 games at San Diego in 1959, helped his own cause in the fourth inning with a key two-run single off loser Jerry Walker.

MARIS BELTS TWO

Two home runs by Roger Maris helped the Yankees to a 10-0 victory over the Kansas City Athletics and Ted Williams unloaded a 430-foot, two-run homer to give the Boston Red Sox a 4-2 triumph over the Detroit Tigers in other A.L. action. Rain washed out the Chicago at Washington night game.

Both of Maris' homers against the Athletics came with a man on base and raised his major league-leading total to 24. Jim Coates allowed only three singles in scoring his ninth consecutive victory of the season and his 13th in a row over two seasons.

Williams' homer at Boston was his 12th of the season and the 504th of his career, leaving him only seven behind Mel Ott's lifetime total. Russ Nixon also hit a two-run homer for the Red Sox, who broke a five-game losing streak.

Are Olympics Worth It? Rome Frets

ROME (AP) — Many Romans are beginning to wonder if the Olympics are worth all the trouble.

For three days recently most of them were without water.

For months traffic has been snarled, and the chances are it will get worse before it gets better.

And now many store owners are beginning to wonder if the Olympics will really make their cash registers ring.

It's not that Italians aren't proud and happy to be hosts to the summer games, starting in Rome Aug. 25. The great majority are right proud of it.

Their desire to put on a good show—and avoid any embarrassing predicaments—is at the root of the second thoughts.

For example, Rome faced a possible water shortage at the height of the games—in torrid August—because of the demands for water at the Olympic Village and the Olympic swimming pools.

WATER WOES

So the water company rushed completion of its new plant. Several days ago all water was turned off for two days while the company switched from the old system to the new one.

Then water was off an extra day because of breakdowns in the new system.

Automobile traffic is another headache. For months streets have been torn up as city authorities re-paved and widened them, and built underpasses. Officials said Rome's traffic was bad enough, and that the expected Olympic traffic made the repairs a necessary nuisance.

Last week the experts grappling with the traffic problem launched a new system of one-way streets around Piazza Venezia in central Rome. Traffic was more jammed than ever. Now they plan to modify the one-way streets and experiment some more.

Shotput Champion O'Brien To Marry

SANTA MONICA (AP)—Shotputter Parry O'Brien is going to marry a former University of Southern California schoolmate, Arden Arena.

They obtained a license yesterday. She's 25, hasn't been married before. O'Brien is 28, formerly was wed to Sandra Cordray, daughter of Palm Springs artist Earl Cordray.

O'Brien says they'll honeymoon in Rome during the Olympic Games, "but I've got to make the team next week in the tryouts in Palo Alto."

She's a psychologist; he's a banker.

BATTLE SCARRED CHALLENGER

McDaniel Compiling Great Mound Mark For Cardinals

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

No one's calling the St. Louis Cardinals cheap, you understand, but they set aside just one locker in the clubhouse for more than half of their pitching staff. It's the one with Lindy McDaniel's name on it.

The lean right-hander has figured in 17 of their 33 victories—saving 14 and winning three. And he's streaking along with an 0.64 earned run average, allowing just three runs in 42⅓ innings of relief.

The one-time $50,000 bonus kid hung up his seventh consecutive save last night, nailing rookie Ray Sadecki's second major league victory in a 5-2 decision over Cincinnati that put the Cards back in fourth place in the National League race.

The second place Milwaukee Braves, 2½ games out of the lead, split a doubleheader with the last place Chicago Cubs. The Braves lost the opener 3-2 then won the second game 3-1. First place Pittsburgh and San Francisco were rained out.

Los Angeles tied Cincinnati for fifth place by sweeping Philadelphia 6-3 and 5-2 in a twi-night doubleheader.

Stan Musial, bouncing back from the bench after a long slump singled home the Cards' first two runs in the third off loser Jay Hook (6-7).

A pinch single by Bob Will won the first game for the Cubs, tagging rookie Ron Piche (2-3) with the loss in relief of Bob Buhl. Southpaw Dick Ellsworth (4-5) won it.

The Braves had only five hits in the second game, but three of them were homers, two by Joe Adcock. After Hank Aaron hit his 18th home run in the second inning, Adcock broke a 1-1 tie with a fourth-inning shot off loser Bob Anderson (2-5), then hit his 11th of the year in the ninth off reliever Don Elston. Joey Jay (2-2) won it.

Rookie Frank Howard hit his 10th homer and drove in three runs for the Dodgers in the first game, driving in the winner in a two-run eighth with his second single. Larry Sherry (6-4) won it in relief of Don Drysdale. Dick Farrell (5-2) was the loser in relief.

Winner Sandy Koufax (3-8) and reliever Ed Roebuck held the Phils to four hits in the second game. A four-run fourth beat Gene Conley (3-4). Johnny Roseboro singled the winning run across after Norm Larker extended his hitting streak to 14 games with a two-run single.

The four Dodger pitchers, who stopped Pancho Herrera's hit streak at 20 games, fanned 24, tying the major league record for a double header.

Duck Hunters To Meet Tomorrow

Duck Hunters of Marin and members of the Marin Rod and Gun Club have been called to a special meeting tomorrow night to discuss plans for Ducks Unlimited activities for the 1960 season.

Hastings Named To Raider Staff

OAKLAND (UPI) — Paul (Bud) Hastings, former executive director of the Associated Students at the University of California at Berkeley, has been appointed assistant general manager of the Oakland Raiders.

Vacationers setting out on that annual two-weeks-away-from-it-all are going for just one thing. To have fun!

And they leave their cares behind.

But be sure that your cares are all that you leave behind!

Most states have laws with stiff penalties for people who litter the highways . . . Don't be a litterbug!

And back home your own newspapers are NOT littering your street . . . Not if you called Ol' Vacation Pak! It's your Independent - Journal saved while you're gone.

You'll have all your favorite comic characters, and two weeks of sports and society news. Politics is boiling over this summer and you don't want to miss any part of it.

Features you like will all be there such as Bennett Cerf, Hal Boyle and Marin Magazine.

All you need do is call GL 4-3020 or tell your carrier. Your newspapers will be saved while you vacation and delivered in a neat package when you return. There's no extra charge for this service and you'll enjoy catching up on what took place while you were away.

Man Guilty In Attempted Baseball 'Fix'

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A former night club manager convicted of offering Philadelphia Phillies pitcher Humberto Robinson $1,500 to throw a game last season was free on $15,000 bail today pending action on his plea for a new trial.

A jury of seven men and five women found Harold Friedman, 43, guilty in less than 30 minutes of deliberation in his one-day trial. Judge Ethan Allen Doty, deferring sentence, set a hearing Aug. 1 on Friedman's motion.

Doty said after the verdict that "we cannot have people tampering with our athletes. Philadelphia has always been known for clean athletics and we propose to keep it so."

BRIBE ATTEMPT

Robinson, a slim righthander, testified Friedman attempted to bribe him in Robinson's hotel room on the day he pitched and won the second game of a twi-night doubleheader with the Cincinnati Reds here last Sept. 22. Robinson was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the seventh.

Friedman, testifying in his own defense, said he merely offered to lend Robinson money after he learned that the pitcher had been robbed.

Commonwealth witnesses included Ruben Gomez, former roomate of Robinson; Eddie Sawyer, ex-manager of the Phillies, and John Quinn, Phils' general manager.

'Best Ever' Olympic Trials Predicted

STANFORD (AP)—"Competition here will be the best it ever has been. It has to be. Every other country will be better with only one or two exceptions," said Larry Snyder, coach of the United States Olympic track and field team, on the eve of the trials that will fashion his squad.

Tomorrow and Saturday at the Stanford Stadium crowds totaling 75,000 will watch the nation's top track stars vie for the coveted spots on the U.S. team.

Snyder, Ohio State coach, voiced approval of the U.S. system of elimination meets.

"Each year a new generation is making the old timers either do better or step aside."

It's this competition he feels, that will continue U.S. domination of world track and field.

There was a flurry of anxiety yesterday when it was reported Dyrol Burleson, the Oregon sophomore rated this nation's best bet in the 1,500 meters, was reported ill with a cold. But his doctor said he will be able to compete. Burleson this year became the second American ever to break four minutes for the mile.

Gold medal winners at Melbourne, Australia, four years ago competing here are Al Oerter in the discus, Bobby Morrow in the 200-meter dash, Parry O'Brien in the shot put, Lee Calhoun in the 110-meter high hurdles, Glenn Davis in the 400-meter hurdles, Harold Connolly in the hammer throw, Greg Bell in the broad jump and Charlie Dumas in the high jump.

ALL-STAR MANAGER

Dave McDougall has been selected to manage the Larkspur-Corte Madera Little League All-Stars in the annual post-season All-Star Tournament, League President Frank Simpson announced today.

BRAVES FACE KEY PERIOD IN SCHEDULE

CHICAGO (AP) — Chipper Charlie Dressen thinks that by July 4, a traditional date for die-casting in baseball, his second-place Milwaukee Braves may know whether smoother pennant-hunting will be ahead.

"We'll then have completed three doubleheaders in six days and that will tell whether our pitching will be set for things to come," said the Milwaukee skipper.

The Braves yesterday split a twin bill (2-3, 3-1) with the last-place Chicago Cubs. They have another brace with the Cardinals in St. Louis tomorrow night. But the really big doubleheader ahead is the July 4 pair with the pace-setting Pittsburgh Pirates in Milwaukee.

"If we can get through that mess without stripping our pitching gear, we may be okay," said Dressen. "After that, I can come in with any one of our starting pitchers as reliefers."

Golfer Gets Birdie, Bogey On Same Hole

EUREKA, Ill. (AP) — Golfer Gordon Linn got a bird and a bogey on the same hole at Kufman Park golf course.

Linn's fifth hole drive Tuesday hit a sparrow flying across the course. That stopped the ball about 150 yards out and he had to take a stroke over par to finish the hole. The sparrow was killed.

Greenbrae Club Plans Celebration; Trollers Enjoying Excellent Sport

STEVENS

Howdy, folks! Fore-warned is fore-armed, they tell us, so here is a tip to all fire departments in Marin County in general and in the vicinity of Greenbrae in particular: It will take place on July 30 at the Greenbrae Rod and Gun Club. The occasion? The burning of the mortgage on the club's car port. (Wish we could get rid of our house mortgage so easily.)

Ralph Wildt, secretary of the Greenbrae club, sent us word of the burning and added that there would be a turkey dinner followed by a dance in celebration of the gala event. Someone will win a rod, reel and landing net during the evening.

Wildt reports on the fishing thereabouts tersely: "The fishing over here has been very slow!"

FISHING hasn't been slow for the gals and guys who trailed lures behind a moving boat under the Golden Gate Bridge or in the Racoon Strait or the upper San Pablo Bay under and around the Carquinez Bridge, though.

WE TALKED with Sid McMullen of Caruso's Harbor in Sausalito on Tuesday. Learned that Skipper Louie Ritlaw of the good ship Ma-Ru, with a short load, trolled under the G. G. Gate Bridge in the morning, caught six nice stripers to 12 pounds and came in. Went out again for the trolling in Racoon Strait—but too late to get the results for our column. Sid told us salmon trolling slowed down to a walk after Saturday's hot take. On Monday, for example, E. W. Engberg piloted his boat Marion after salmon and caught only three fish. Then came back and tried trolling for bass under the G. G. Bridge. He netted three bass to the same weight as his salmon — 20 pounds.

ALSO, on Monday, Bill Davies and his boat, the My Three, collected five salmon. Average catch on Saturday was two to two and a half salmon per angler. Sunday and Monday less than half a fish per angler. Seems there are huge schools of extra large anchovies as well as beaucoup mackerel tempting the salmon at present.

SEVERAL reports came in of fair to good surf-casting for stripers on the beaches south of the San Francisco Cliff House. One of our dependable contact men fished off Sharps Park on Tuesday and called to tell us a good many bass were taken on either side of him, but all he had were heavy strikes and one broken line. The fish ran from around 8 to 16 pounds. Another report indicated a fair run off Flieshhacker beach with "standing room only" crowds along a half mile stretch of that beach.

JUST TURNED on our Halicrafter to the fishermen's band and learned that at least three boats, trolling for bass under the G.G. Bridge, lacked only one or two fish for limits all around. Sure must be hot stuff, eh? (Time: 2:30 p.m. Tuesday.)

BETTER GET in on some of that bass trolling while the fish are still around. Use your regular salmon trolling outfit (not the divided leader and two lures; too much chance of being snagged), three pound sinker and sinker release.

LAKES PHOENIX and Lagunitas were restocked this week with catchable-sized trout.

Signup Saturday For Rifle Class In San Rafael

Registration will take place Saturday for the Marin County Sheriff's Department's junior basic rifle and hunter safety course, Chief Instructor Jim Wright anounced today.

Signups will be held 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. at the Marin Police Range, San Quentin Road, San Rafael. Boys and girls 12 years and older are eligible to enter at a $3 fee, Wright said. The fee covers cost of materials used during the six two-hour classes.

Assisting Wright in the instructions will be Francis Duffy and Ed McDonald. More instructors are needed, Wright said. Adults experienced in rifle instructions are asked to contact Wright at Saturday's registration. Actual instruction will begin July 9.

Ted Nears Ott's Home Run Record

BOSTON (UPI)—Ted Williams, just two months short of his 42nd birthday, was a lucky seven away from Mel Ott's career home run total today.

Ted made it 504 lifetime home runs yesterday, hitting a Jim Bunning fast ball for his 12th of the season. The 430-foot drive into the center field bleachers at Fenway Park got Boston started on a 4-2 win over the Detroit Tigers and halted a five-game Red Sox losing streak.

Williams now needs seven more homers to tie the third-ranking Ott, who hit 511 while with the New York Giants.

Babe Ruth leads all home run hitters with 714, while Jimmy Foxx hit 534 for the Philadelphia Athletics and the Red Sox.

MARIN DRIVER SPEEDS TO VICTORY

As his rival in car 134 spins out of control, Marin County driver Ernest Mendenhall pilots his No. 33 Porsch Carrera toward finish and first place triumph in race for Gran Turisimo cars under 1600 cc Sunday at Cotati. The event was sponsored by the Racing Drivers Club. Car 134, a Porsche Super, was driven by Paul Bachman of San Francisco. Another Marin County winner Sunday was Odette Bigler of San Rafael who won the ladies race for production cars under 1600 cc. (Rich Armor photo)

THIRD and C STREETS SAN RAFAEL

MRS. ARTHUR LUCHETTI, president of the San Rafael Branch of the Needlework Guild of America, right, displays an article of the Guild which could be made by the Senior Citizens at a recent visit to the Center in San Rafael. Admiring the handiwork are, Senior Citizens, from left, Mesdames B. W. Praum and Mary Walls.

Senior Citizens To Participate In Guild Project

Members of San Rafael Branch, Needlework Guild of America, pay a visit to the Senior Citizens Center at 1824 Fourth Street, San Rafael and spend an afternoon learning of the many activities of this group.

Mrs. Arthur Luchetti, president of the Needlework Guild of San Rafael was accompanied by Mrs. Eleanor Henry, Treasurer and Shoe chairman, and told the group of nearly 20 women the story of Needlework Guild and showed samples of articles which could be made by the Senior Citizens. Mrs. B. W. Praun, chairman pro tem of the Center, told of the interest expressed by the members in any kind of sewing, and that there were two sewing machines in readiness.

Mrs. Mary Walls has accepted the chairmanship of the sewing group for Needlework Guild and will be assisted by all those present. "From now on, Mondays will be a busy day at the Center," Mrs. Walls said.

Mrs. Lucchetti expressed her deepest thanks to the members present and hopes to enlarge the number of articles considerably for the next Ingathering.

"Since there are 14 organizations calling on Needlework Guild for assistance, I feel the more hands that are kept busy, the more people we can make happy," says Mrs. Luchetti.

Buzzin Boots Host Club For Fair

The Buzzin' Boots Square Dance Club will be the host club tomorrow at the Marin Arts and Garden Fair.

The club will assemble at the open air pavilion at 7 p.m. Bill Owen, club caller for Buzzin' Boots, will start the first call at 7:30.

Other square dance callers who have been invited to participate are Merl Basim of the Double Diamonds; Dave Shephard of the Mill Wheelers; Sparky Sparks of the Haybalers; Milt Adams of the Charmin' Farmers; Joe Crumpler of the Fiddle Footers and Gordon Collins of the Cornhuskers.

The featured calls of the evening will be the Caribbean, Smoke on the Water, Kansas City, and Whirlwind.

The Buzzin' Boots officers responsible for the evening's festivities are Tom Parisi, president; Joan Sloan, vice president; Jerry Ziegler, treasurer; Marge Van Couwenberghe, secretary, and Bob Cooper, past president.

The colorful costumes and the formations of the squares should be of interest to those attending the Art and Garden show. The last square will be completed at 10 p.m.

Consumers Who Save Trading Stamps Redeemable For Cash

California Consumers who save trading stamps will now be able to redeem their filled stamp books for cash or merchandise, State Consumer Counsel Helen Nelson announced today.

"A new law takes effect July 1," Mrs. Nelson said. "It provides for State regulation of trading stamp companies. It requires the stamp companies to let stamp savers choose between cash and merchandise when they redeem their stamp books."

The trading stamps themselves must bear the name of the stamp company issuing them and the cash value of each stamp. Trading stamps presented for redemption in cash, however, must have an aggregate value of at least one dollar.

Under the new law, trading stamp companies must be licensed by the Commissioner of Corporations. To obtain a license, a stamp company must post a bond of from $25,000 to $100,000, depending upon its annual volume of business. Should the trading stamp company refuse to redeem its stamps, the Commissioner of Corporations can file a claim against the company and its surety on behalf of the holder of the stamps.

The new law provides that any merchant who intends to stop giving trading stamps must post a notice in every place in his establishment where stamps are issued, in letters equal in size to at least 18-point type, that he will stop issuing stamps and the date he will stop. The notice must also contain the name and address of the licensed stamp company that will redeem the stamps, the fact that the stamp company is licensed by the Corporations Commissioner, and the fact that the stamps may be redeemed either in merchandise or cash.

No trading stamp company may stop issuing stamps without giving 90 days' written notice to the Commissioner of Corporations and to each merchant in the State who issues its stamps. The merchants, in turn, must notify their customers that the stamps will be discontinued.

Violation of the new law on trading stamps is punishable by a fine of up to $1,000.

Mrs. Nelson noted that the new law—an amendment to the Business and Professions Code—does not apply to merchants who issue their own coupons to customers and redeem them in cash or from their own stocks.

Alos unaffected are redeemable certificates or devices used by a manufacturer or packer in an advertising or selling campaign, or those issued and redeemed by a newspaper, magazine, or other publication.

Trading stamps issued under the new law are exempt from the Corporate Securities Law.

Mrs. Nelson said the 1959 California Legislature passed the new law to protect California trading stamp savers.

Yates Pupils Give Recital In Inverness

"An Hour of Music" was the theme of the recent piano recital given by students of Mrs. Constance Yates at Frick Hall in Inverness.

Students performing included Georgie Hall, Hilda Griffith, Leslie Marks, Jeannette McCormick, Tamara Sheppard, Sharon Lobauch, Bill Sheppard, Collie Charter, Margaret Daly, Don Van Buskirk and Ann Purcell.

Tea followed the recital with Mrs. Stewart Purcell of Inverness and Mrs. William Sheppard of Novato presiding at the tea table.

B'nai B'rith To Hear Senator McCarthy

Featured guest speaker at the annual summer luncheon of Marin B'nai B'rith Women on Thursday, July 14, will be Sen. Jack McCarthy, Republican state senator from Marin.

The fund-raising luncheon, which marks the beginning of the 21st year of existence for B'nai B'rith Women, will be held in the gardens of the David Rosenberg home, 41 Moncado Way, San Rafael, at 12:30 p.m.

"Oriental Holiday" is the theme of the July 14 event, with menu, decorations and fashion show selected to fulfill the glamorous Far East scheme. Mrs. Lowell Simon is chairman of the luncheon.

SEN. JOHN McCARTHY

Senator McCarthy, elected to the state senate in 1950 to fill a vacancy left by Judge Tom Keating, has been re-elected to that body twice. In 1956 he achieved re-election in the primary by securing both the Republican and Democratic nominations. When elected in 1950, McCarthy was the youngest senator in the history of California.

Born in San Francisco 36 years ago, he attended St. Ignacius High School, University of San Francisco, and Heald's Engineering College. At present he is the minority leader in the senate, and vice chairman of the rules committee.

McCarthy has been influential in sponsoring legislation pertinent and beneficial to Marin, including the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge, San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit Authority, and Billboard Control. He is an active supporter of the Senior Citizens program in Marin and serves on the Senior Co-ordinating Council.

Accompanying Senator McCarthy will be his wife, Ursula.

Reservations for this event may be made with Mrs. Carl Schwartz, 1321 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, and Mrs. Harold Harris, 116 Hilldale Drive, San Anselmo.

Faustini Students In Final Recital

Amelia Faustini, faculty member of the Music Department of Dominican College, presented students from her San Rafael studio, in a final solo and two-piano recital, in Angelico Hall, Dominican Campus, after completing a series of Studio Demonstrations in "Fundamentals of Musicianship."

Participants were: Catherine Atterbury, Diane Barnard, Elaine Barnard, Rebecca Barrett, Carol Brennan, Mrs. Barry Cooke, Sherry De Haan, Thomas Dibblee, John Ficicchy assisted by his mother, Susan Ficicchy, Todd Hedin, John Houston, Joan Houston (assisted by her mother), Patricia Hrsidies, Jan Hunsinger, Cheryl Johnson, Valorie Langdon, Susan McIntyre, Tom Mehrten assisted by his mother, Mary Frances Moore, James Myers, Christine Owen, Jeannine Sarraille, Barbara Shipman, Molly Shipman, Dorothy Soden assisted by her mother, Madelon Walsh.

Mrs. Houston, who completed Piano-Teaching Course at Dominican under Mrs. Faustini, is now teaching a limited number of students in her San Rafael studio.

Academic Hostess Helps To Settle Yanks At Oxford

OXFORD, England (UPI) — Mrs. K. C. Wheare decided there were too many overseas wives at Oxford University who didn't know each other. She decided to do something about it, and got more than she bargained for.

Mrs. Wheare, wife of the rector of Exeter College, noted that many of the hundreds of overseas graduates studying at Oxford brought their wives and families, but that these wives had no way of contacting each other or making British friends.

She formed a committee and leaked word through the "grapevine" inviting foreign wives to a reception. Despite lack of formal notice, 150 wives showed up.

Now Mrs. Wheare has made her organization permanent, to helping overseas wives find housing, schools for their children, and British friends.

"We are anxious to show ourselves as good neighbors," she said.

MRS. ROBERT L. RHOADS Jr., left, past president of the Chi Omega Alumnae of Marin, and residents of the Marin County Farm in Lucas Valley, Mrs. Madeleine Mitchell and Lloyd De La Montanya are trying to select a television program to view on the new television set which the Chi Omegas presented to the Farm as one of the sorority's local projects. The set will be used in the recreation room.

A public presentation of "Dancer of the year 1958-59" was made to Diane Blackford.

This concluded the spring term, and now registrations are being taken for summer session at the Belrose Dance Studio which starts July 9 for 10 weeks, or for summer session at the San Rafael Recreation Department which starts July 11 and July 13 for seven weeks.

Watch The Eyes

Eyes of the normal infant should be straight by three months of age.

Any deviation beyond that age almost certain is indicative of a muscle imbalance or a lack of vision in one or both eyes, said Dr. Tullos O. Coston of the Oklahoma School of Medicine.

Novato Jr. Women's Club Greets Four New Members

The Novato Junior Women's Club held its initiation ceremony recently at the home of Mrs. Alan Chisholm, club president.

Present for the rites were three officers of the San Rafael Improvement Club, sponsors of the Novato Juniors. Mrs. Lewis A. Clapp, immediate past president of the San Rafael club, Mrs. Carl Riznik, Northern California representative of the Needlework Guild to the California Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. F. W. Schroeder, parliamentarian of the Golden Gate District, the CFWC, joined Mrs. Chisholm in the welcoming of new members Mesdames Kenneth Ruff, Richard Boldenweck, Jack Kidder and Lorna Butler.

Mrs. Clapp led the discussion in which Mrs. Schroeder gave a talk on the "Build a Better Community" projects carried on by other junior women's clubs throughout the state. She also gave highlights of the history of the California Federation of Women's Clubs and the joint projects carried on by the Senior and Junior Clubs in the United States in the sending of CARE packages to all parts of the world. The CFWC project this year, in which the Novato Junior took part, was in sending, through CARE, medical kits to the Philippines and student kits to Viet Nam.

Another Federated Women's Club project reported by Mrs. Riznik, recently returned from the Atlantic City convention of the Needlwork Guild of the United States Federation of Women's Clubs, was their charitable organization which provides new clothing and household linens to needy Americans of all ages. This is also a project in which the Juniors may take a part.

French Influence

French influence is noted through the pleated gussets found at the sides of boys' car coats and jackets, and deep cut Continental pockets, plus side-tabs enhancing the sports trousers. Tri-color appliques simulating the French beret and Left Bank garb decorate slack sets.

Dallas Center Aids Creative Children

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—The Dallas Museum of Fine Arts is pioneering a program to inspire children from six to 14 to try their hands at creating.

Special Saturday classes, cosponsored by Dallas College of Southern Methodist University, expose the youngsters to paintings, artifacts, prints and sculpture.

"The aim is to make the children go to work with paint brushes, crayons or clay and produce works of their own," said Mary Doyle, the program director.

She said the program also tries to stimulate family participation in art projects, and later will include art appreciation classes for adults.

"Creativity in the young can be stifled by adults who try to impose their own ideas of color and form," Miss Doyle said. "There is no one way to see any object and if you criticize a child's work on grounds it is unrealistic, you confuse him."

Richard J. Quinlan Claims Bride In Ceremony At St. Brendan's

In a recent noon nuptial mass in St. Brendan's Church in San Francisco before an altar banked with white stock and gladioli Jeanne Marie Ferrari became the bride of Richard John Quinlan of Kent Woodlands.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Reynold J. Ferrari of Saint Francis Woods, San Francisco, and the bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Quinlan Jr. of Kent Woodlands.

Rev. Edwards Higgins was the officiating minister.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk taffeta fashioned with Moyanage neckline detailed with Swiss Guipre lace and long sleeves. The princess line of the gown formed a back bow-pouff which extended into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a French imperial coronet and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

Patricia Ferrari as maid of honor for her sister, and bridesmaids, Mesdames H. Turner Croonquist, the bridegroom's sister of West Point, N.Y., and D. Richard Reynolds, Robert Rogers, L. Kent Wanlass and Eugene Markley and Miss Cynthia Sperry, all of San Francisco, were gowned in emerald green peau de soie sheaths. They had matching halos with circular veils and carried tuberous begonias in the sunset colors.

Capt. H. Turner Croonquist of West Point was best man.

Ushers were Gerald Ferarri, the bride's brother, Robert Besozzi, John Miggins, Peter Murphy, all of San Francisco, and John Kiefer, Hillsborough, and Robert Quinlan.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ferrari wore a dress of French blue silk brocade with matching velvet leaf hat and accessories.

The mother of the bridegroom chose a dress of seafoam green Italian silk with bronze accessories.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Bohemian Club.

The bride attended the Convent of the Sacred Heart and Stanford University. With her marriage, she relinquished her membership in the Spinsters. She is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Ferrari of San Francisco and the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. McLaughlin of San Francisco.

The bridegroom was graduated from Saint Ignatius High School and the University of Santa Clara. He is now associated with Wells Fargo and American Trust in San Francisco. He is the grandson of Mrs. John A. Donnelly of San Francisco and the late Mr. Donnelly, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Quinlan of San Francisco.

Following a wedding trip in Mexico, the newlyweds will take up their residence in San Francisco.

Elsie Whitlow Weds Donald G. Feliz

Donald George Feliz of Mill Valley claimed Elsie Patricia Whitlow of San Francisco as his bride Saturday afternoon, June 25, at the First Baptist Church of Mill Valley with relatives only present.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Walter Whitlow, in the double ring ceremony performed at 1 o'clock by Rev. Fred I. Drexler.

For her marriage the bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Whitlow of San Francisco, wore an ice blue organza dress fashioned with full skirt and fitted bodice having a round neckline and bracelet length sleeves. An organza headband held her short circular face veil and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

Her bridesmaid was Zoe Anne Feliz, only sister of the bridegroom. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. George C. Feliz of Mill Valley. Zoe wore a yellow sheath with jacket, a small white straw hat and white accessories, and her flowers were white carnations.

Stanton Ellis of Mill Valley served as best man.

The bride's mother was attired in a blue dress and wore a corsage of white carnations, and the bridegroom's mother chose a pale gray sheath with jacket, rose velvet hat and white accessories. Her corsage was of pale yellow orchids.

Among those attending the wedding were the bride's aunt, Mrs. Jack Bataiss of San Rafael and the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Will D. Mason of Mill Valley.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents for those attending the wedding.

The young couple will live in San Francisco, where the bridegroom is temporarily employed as a salesman until he begins service with the U.S. Air Force in about two months. He was graduated from Tamalpais High School and San Francisco State College.

The new Mrs. Feliz will be a senior at San Francisco State College next year.

LUCIANNE RITTER BETROTHED TO N. R. McINTYRE OF PALO ALTO

At a recent family dinner party, Mr. and Mrs. Irving O. Ritter of Greenbrae, announced the engagement of their daughter, Lucianne, to N. Ralph McIntyre of Palo Alto.

The bride-elect was graduated from the Katharine Branson School in Ross and is now a senior at Stanford. She is the sister of Nancy Ritter, who is in her freshman year at Stanford. Mrs. W. A. Sears of Greenbrae, and the late Mr. Sears and the late Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Ritter of Stockton are her grandparents.

The future benedict, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman F. McIntyre of Palo Alto, was graduated from Menlo-Atherton High School and is a senior at the Menlo School of Business Administration. Anne, Sherwood and James McIntyre of Palo Alto are his sister and brothers. He is the grandson of Dr. and Mrs. G. Ralph Combs of Leavenworth, Kan., and H. L. McIntyre of Seattle, and the late Mrs. McIntyre.

The wedding will be an event of 1961.

Is Your Family Getting The Nutrients It Should?

By DOROTHY WHIPPLE, M.D.

Most Americans have enough money to buy all the food they need, yet many are not nearly as well nourished as they should be.

We don't see real starvation around us, but we do see people with no vim and vigor, youngsters with poor posture and flabby muscles. We hear cross, irritable voices and see tired, drawn faces.

Not all human ills can be cured by improving the diet, but you may be surprised how much unnecessary misery is swallowed in the form of doughnuts and jam.

Good buoyant health is what we are after. Clear bright eyes, smooth firm skin, strong muscles, shiny hair, sound teeth, erect posture, straight bones, peaceful nerves.

If yourb ody works well, at least some of the tensions of our hectic world will roll off your back.

It is not always within our powers to reduce tensions, but it is within our power to nourish our bodies to the optimum. As the mother of a family you can do more. You provide good food for your family and teach your children the principles of good eating, so that when they leave home they will continue what you started.

Why is it that the knowledge of nutrition is not better applied? There are several reasons.

Food faddists have given nutrition a bad name. Some of the horrible concoctions that are supposed to be good for you are supposed to scare anyone off. The truth is, truly nutritious food is delicious to eat. There is no reason to eat anything you don't like. Nutrition is a question of selection and preparation of good food.

Mothers should take a course in nutrition, or look up a book on the subject. They may learn a lot they didn't know. They will be able to make food taste better, save money on food bills, and see the difference in their families.

Plastics Producer Buys Press To Help Mold Custom Products

A new 100-ton hydraulic press now partially installed in the Kimball Manufacturing Corp. plant in San Rafael will be used to produce plastic outboard billboard trim and other custom molded products.

More versatile than previously used types, the unit is expected to boost production efficiency by simplifying installation and removal of molds. The press will be operating in two or three weeks.

Kimball expects to replace other major plant equipment in the future as part of a stepped-up modernization program.

The firm recently became a joint owner of Artline-Kimball of California, producer of fiber glass decorative accessories.

A MULTI-MILLION DOLLAR contract has been awarded to J. H. Pomeroy and Co. and the Bechtel Corp. by Columbia-Geneva division of U. S. Steel Corp. for preparation and partial construction of a vast taconite iron ore mining facility near Lander, Wyo., it was announced by R. N. Pomeroy, Ross resident and president of the firm sponsoring the joint venture.

Work is to begin immediately and is expected to be completed by mid-1962. Design and detail engineering already have been completed by the Bechtel Corp. under terms of an earlier contract.

Pomeroy-Bechtel have contracted to expose the ore, provide all foundations, build a large reservoir and two earth-filled dams, place machinery and install about 78 miles of railroad from the mining site to Winton Junction near the Union Pacific main line.

When full production has been reached the facility is expected to produce in the neighborhood of 4,000 tons of high grade ore daily which will be shipped by rail to the Columbia-Geneva plant near Provo, Utah, where it will be made into steel.

THERE IS less of a market for steel in the automobile industry. New compact Oldsmobiles F-35 and Buick Specials will have aluminum, liquid-cooled engines. Corvair already uses 103 pounds, Rambler is to start limited output soon and Chrysler is working toward an aluminum engine for Valiant which now accounts for about 40 per cent of all deliveries by Plymouth dealers.

A NEW BOOK, "How to Protect Your Small Business Investment," by Nathaniel C. Berkowitz and published by Hesperian House, San Francisco will be released on July 14.

The volume deals with the Small Business Investment Act of 1958 and recommended amendments. It also gives a checklist for the small business investor on all phases of management and finance.

A foreword has been written by Harold L. Moose Jr., executive vice president of the Western Small Business Investment Co., 1005 A Street, San Rafael.

BEGINNING JULY 1, State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Co. will sell to unmarried men under 25 and persons over 65 in California. Many have not been able to get insurance except for limited coverage as assigned risks. Rates will be about 35 per cent higher.

Bank Plans Expansion In Mill Valley

The Bank of America at Mill Valley will be expanded, starting in about three months, to provide additional teller counters and other facilities.

G. A. Todaro, manager, said the expansion will be into the bank-owned space now occupied by Dimitroff's Picture Frames store. A temporary wall between the two businesses will be knocked out, he said. "Business will continue as usual during the remodeling," said Todaro.

"Our preliminary plans call for an increase in the number of teller stations from the present nine to 17," he added. There will be a new conference room, an enlarged staff lounge on the mezzanine and increased space for storage of records and supplies.

The bank is at the corner of Throckmorton and Corte Madera Avenues.

Stephen P. Dimitroff, owner of Dimitroff's Picture Frames, which has been in this location for nine years, said he has plans to move his shop to 173 Throckmorton Avenue. This is the location of Beal Art Studios, operated by Art Beal. He is moving at the end of August to Southern California.

Dimitroff said he intends to be in his new location Sept. 1. His other shop, Dimitroff's Art Store, will remain at 11 East Blithedale Avenue.

Phone Company Names D. S. Smith To Traffic Position

Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co. today announced appointment of D. S. Smith, of 404 Forbes Avenue, San Rafael, as assistant traffic superintendent in its district headquarters office here.

Smith comes from a position in the traffic department's general office in San Francisco, where he has been since 1955.

A veteran of 20 years with Pacific Telephone, Smith started his telephone career in the plant department in San Francisco. After a tour in the Army Signal Corps, 1943 to 1946, with duty in the European theater, he resumed his telephone work in Vallejo, where he rose to chief switchman.

In 1953 he transferred to the traffic department and became assistant traffic superintendent in Santa Rosa. He remained here until 1955 when he moved to his recent post in San Francisco.

A native of Sacramento, Smith grew up in San Jose and attended schools there.

Air Pollution Control Law Going Into Effect

The first air pollution control measure to have major bearing on Marin County will go into effect tomorrow.

It involves broad-scale registration under "Regulation 2" of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District.

Affected as "industrial burning" operations are apartment houses, schools, office buildings, retail or wholesale establishments, hotels, factories, hospitals and all types of public or semi-public buildings.

The first regulation of the district, which became effective in October of 1957, controlled only large scale open burning.

Arrangements for Marin registration have been handled by two directors from this county, Supervisor William Gnoss of Novato and Ross Councilman Arthur Kanzee Jr., as well as Fred F. Enemark of San Rafael as members of the district's advisory council.

Authorization was granted Tuesday by the Marin County Board of Supervisors for distribution of pamphlets on Regulation 2 at the courthouse in San Rafael.

Registration forms will be available from tomorrow in all six affected Bay Area counties at all city halls, county offices, city and county building inspectors' offices, city and county planning commission offices, principal fire stations and chambers of commerce.

Registration must be complete between July 1 and Sept. 1 by all industrial, institutional and commercial enterprises putting forth air contaminants from incineration, heat transfer, general combustion and other general operations.

Today is Thursday, June 30, the 182nd day of the year, with 184 to follow in 1960.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1834, Congress created the Department of Indian Affairs.

In 1870, Ada Kepley graduated from the Union College of Law in Chicago, the first woman to be graduated from an accredited law school.

In 1906, President Theodore Roosevelt signed the Pure Food and Drug Act.

In 1924, as a result of the Teapot Dome scandal, Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall and oilmen Harry F. Sinclair and Edward Doheny were charged with bribery and conspiracy to defraud the government.

A thought for today: President Theodore Roosevelt said: "I wish to preach, not the doctrine of ignoble ease, but the doctrine of the strenuous life."

Ross Valley Savings Fetes Anniversary

A week-long birthday party starts tomorrow for Ross Valley Savings and Loan Assn. in celebration of its 10th anniversary.

Ross Valley started with $88,290 in 1950 and has grown to over $12 million dollars in assets.

EUGENE A. OSTAGGI
'Man to See' at Ross Valley

"Some of the reasons include customer convenience, service, and sound management," said Eugene A. Ostaggi, executive vice president. "But we think the friendly, neighborly atmosphere and the lack of red tape are heavy contributors, also."

The 10th birthday party will include refreshments, favors, a special commuter open house next Wednesday from 6 to 8 p.m., and a completely redecorated interior and exterior of the offices at 380 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo.

Growth has brought changes to Ross Valley Savings. Starting on July 1, 1950 in a cubbyhole back of Brown's Store for Men and Boys at 706 San Anselmo Avenue, the firm moved to its present address a few years later and opened smart, modern offices. In 1958, progress (and more investors), brought needed expansion. The former offices were enlarged by almost 50 per cent—including an extension of the Sonoma stone and glass front, new lighting and acoustical tile ceiling and an increase in useable floor space from 1,300 to 1,800 square feet, plus a new record storage vault.

Work-load has increased over the years so that now a fulltime staff of nine services the 6,000 accounts at the San Anselmo business.

"We do a heavy save-by-mail business with commuters," Ostaggi said. "Also one of the conveniences of Ross Valley that has helped—as it has helped all of Marin County—is a full two-block-long parking lot at our back door."

Hours of the birthday celebration are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. from tomorrow through July 11 with the exception of weekends.

Officers of Ross Valley, all local businessmen and residents, include Dr. Earle M. Young, president; Ostaggi, executive vice president; L. Earle David, vice president; A. Von Rotz, vice president; Lawrence E. Wright, secretary and attorney for the board; Richard G. Fontana Jr., assistant secretary, and Thomas D. Minto, director.

Staff members include June Miller, Nancy Badger, Jack Rippe Jr., Helen Marcucci, Claudia Goldthwaite, O. Ross Turney, Sheila Nutto and Betty Skov.

Young is a retired dentist who also heads up the Trans-Western Title Co. in San Rafael, and resides in Kentfield. Ostaggi, former manager of American Trust Co.'s San Anselmo Branch, lives in Ross. David, who resides in Kentfield, is retired after 34 years with Shell Oil Co., where his latest position was general manager of the marketing department (Western United States Division). Von Rotz, former San Anselmo mayor and former chairman of the Marin County Planning Commission, has been a building contractor in Marin for 31 years. Wright is a Ross resident with offices in San Anselmo. Fontana is owner of San Anselmo's largest printing firm. Minto, an expert property appraiser, lives in Kentfield.

Assets Grow During Decade

Assets at Ross Valley Savings have increased more than 133 times since the San Anselmo savings and loan association opened its doors for business 10 years ago—July 1, 1950.

The firm started out with a modest $88,290 in assets and a December 31, 1959 statement of condition showed a gain to $11,852,617.

"And we'll be well over 12 million dollars for the six-months period ending June 30," said executive vice president Eugene Ostaggi.

Here's a breakdown of the growth of Ross Valley Savings since opening for business:

July 1, 1950, $88,290; Dec. 31, 1950, $183,622; Dec. 31, 1951, $495,173; Dec. 31, 1952, $797,495; Dec. 31, 1953, $1,417,349; Dec. 31, 1954, $3,210,754; Dec. 31, 1955, $4,941,030; Dec. 31, 1956, $6,611,133; Dec. 31, 1957, $7,749,312; Dec. 31, 1958, $9,329,070; Dec. 31, 1959, $11,852,617; June 30, 1960, more than 12 million dollars.

EXPANDED QUARTERS Interior of Ross Valley Savings is a busy place these days in preparation for the re-investment period and a 10th birthday party. Translucent light panels, accoustical tile ceiling, a curving counter, half wood paneled and rice paper covered walls form a display for the water colors of Howard Allen, San Anselmo realtor. New vault addition may be seen at left rear.

Every Ross Valley Savings, Loan Account Has Insurance

Each account at Ross Valley Savings is insured up to $10,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp.

Additionally, the San Anselmo firm, celebrating its 10th anniversary this week, and with a record of over a million dollars per year in assets, is a member of the Federal Home Loan Bank System, United States Savings and Loan League, California Savings and Loan League, Bay Cities Saving and Loan League, North Bay League of Savings and Loan Assns., and The Savings and Loan Foundation.

Sweden is almost 1,000 miles long, though seldom wider than 300 miles.

Marin Woman To Exhibit Art

Oil paintings by Mill Valley artist Helen Gapen Oehler will be on exhibit for a month at the Del Preston Realty, 322 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley.

Mrs. Ooehler has a studio and residence at 630 West Blithedale Avenue. She is chairman of Art Associates.

On exhibit are landscapes and seascapes, including one of old Sausalito waterfront dwellings.

4th SCHOOL PLAN GAINS

Trustees In Larkspur Approve County Pacts

Larkspur School District trustees Tuesday night approved three contracts with the Marin County superintendent of schools, covering library services, audio-visual aid and services for physically handicapped and mentally retarded children.

Also approved were preliminary plans for a fourth district elementary school.

The year-long library contract, at $4,000, provides for supplementary textbooks and materials to be supplied by the county.

The audio-visual education services contract, for which the district pays $1.50 per child, would furnish models, films, tapes and similar educational materials.

The physically handicapped and mentally retarded children are served by the county, which pays for the rental of special rooms, teachers' salaries, transportation and materials. Cost to the district will be approximately $2,500, which is matched by state funds. For the past two years the district has rented a special room for this program at $1,200 a year.

Preliminary plans for the fourth school, which would be built on 10 acres on Paradise Drive, east of Marin Estates subdivision, were approved following individual study of the plans by each board member.

Plans will now go to the state board of education for final approval, according to Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel, then to the state Dept. of Finance for approval of funds.

The trustees will meet in special session, July 5, at 7:30 p.m., to elect a board president for the coming year.

Measles Mumps Top Disease List

Measles and mumps still head the list of communicable diseases in Marin County.

Last week 16 cases of measles and 12 cases of mumps were reported to the county health department, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, health officer.

Also reported: five cases of gonorrhea, one case of streptococcus infection, one of syphilis, one of tuberculosis, and one mumps meningitis.

'NON-SKID' PONTOON DEVELOPED

A 64-foot pier assembly manufactured by H. Koch and Sons, Corte Madera, was floated from San Rafael Harbor to the San Francisco Marina this week. This firm has recently developed a four by four foot molded fiberglass deck and pontoon unit which may be assembled in combinations of various sizes. Units are molded under heat and are resistant to petroleum products and marine borers. They are topped with a safety grid which prevents slipping. Harry Scott, project engineer for Koch, is shown in the foreground during the launching.

Report Cards Well Received In San Rafael

Most San Rafael parents apparently like the multiple-mark type of report card now in use in the city's elementary schools.

In an opinion survey reported Tuesday night to the board of education, 658 parents of children in grades 1-3 and 613 parents of children in grades 4-6 said the report card tells them what they want to know about their children's progress. A total of 72 answered "no" to the question.

Would they like to continue using the card as it is? A total of 622 in grades 1-3 and 579 in grades 4-6 said "yes." Fifty parents in grades 1-3 and 33 in grades 4-6 said "no."

The parents' reaction was reported to the board by Dr. Mildred Barnard, assistant superintendent in charge of elementary instruction.

There was "greater parent acceptance than had been anticipated," she commented.

The cards have been in use on an experimental basis for two years. Parents had said the card in use previously did not tell them enough about their children.

The new cards use an intricate system of grading. Some of the parents commented there were too many markings, Dr. Barnard reported.

The point of greatest controversy was over the marking for "acceptable progress for the child." The faculty committee working on the report cards feels the parents still don't understand what the district is trying to do with this type of marking, Dr. Barnard said.

The committee may be able to work the cards over a little and make some improvements, she said.

Air Fares Rise 5% At Midnight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most U.S. air fares will increase by about 5 per cent at midnight tonight.

The Civil Aeronautics Board said that all of the domestic trunk airlines, and all except three of the local service operators, have filed for the higher fares. The CAB announced on June 17 that it would approve them.

These amounted to a straight 2½ per cent increase in all fares, plus an added $1 charge for each one-way ticket.

Disabled Vets Can Get Benefits

Veterans who are more than 50 per cent disabled due to service incurred disabilities will be eligible fir additional compensation if they have four or more children, it was announced today by W. P. (Doc) Duhamel, Marin County veterans service officer.

The additional compensation becomes effective in August under a law passed by the 86th Congress. Previously benefits have been paid for no more than three children.

Duhamel said his office at 519 Fourth Street, San Rafael, was checking records in order to notify veerans who qualify for the additional compensation. He asked any veteran who thinks he will qualify to contact him.

Baby's Arrival Will Cause Worry, But Good Far Outweighs The Bad

"Our first baby will come in October," a woman writes, "and I'm worried.

"Friends tell us our life will change. They say we won't have any money to spend on ourselves. They tell me I will not be able to keep up my gardening. I'm afraid I'll be miserable. Do babies really make such changes in their parents' lives?"

Yes, they do. You'll have less spending money. You'll work harder than ever. You'll have many new worries, and you'll age more rapidly.

Does this sound bad? Really, it isn't.

Up to now you've lived chiefly for yourselves. You've enjoyed pursuing your own interests. All of us are that way, before our babies come. Then suddenly we change. A new set of instincts emerge. You'll be glad to make sacrifices for your baby. You'll place his interests first. You'll thrill as he gains weight and grows strong. You'll be unbelievably proud of his first tooth, first word, first step. You'll feel a new importance because of him. Your life will have real meaning at least. You'll find new happiness.

Your housband? He has paternal instincts. Have him help with the baby from the start. Let him sense the wonder of the new life the two of you have created. Watch his eyes glisten when he holds your baby for the first time. He'll be a father, and proud of it.

Childless people have trouble understanding us parents. To them a baby is—a baby.

But to us, babies are different. Our babies are the miraculous expression of our love. They are the focus of our universe.

Change? Yes, your life will never be the same. But you won't mind. You'll love it. Wait and see.

Group Of Air Force Cadets Due At Hamilton Saturday

The first of two groups of Air Force Academy cadets, totaling 640 sophomores, will tour Hamilton Air Force Base and the Bay Area this week.

Among the cadets will be Judson B. Vandervort, 845 Marin Drive, Mill Valley.

The first group of 320 cadets will arrive at the base Saturday, after having spent a week on a Navy aircraft carrier. That group will leave the base July 10 as the second group arrives for a week's stay.

Cadets will get 10 hours of instruction on the flight line at Hamilton and 220 of them will ride in two-place F-101 and F-102 jet fighters. The remainder will have flights at other air defense command bases.

Groups also will tour the radar site on Mount Tamalpais, view Nike installations, hear lectures and have intensive instruction in various phases of the defense system.

A formal dance will be staged for the first group at the Hamilton Officers Club; the second group will have a swimming party on the base.

Cadets will show their precision marching in a public parade at 1 p.m., July 9, at the Hamilton football field. The second group will march in ceremonies July 16 when base commander Col. George Ceuleers formally turns over command to Col. Havey E. Henderson. Ceuleers will attend the national war college.

It is estimated that each cubic mile of sea water contains three tons of the element nickel.

REDS EXECUTED FATHER

Emigre Mother Of 3 Hunts For Job Daily

Ever since Mrs. Alla King moved to San Rafael two weeks ago she has walked out each morning to find a job and returned each night without one.

Hardship is not new to her life. But the move to a hillside house at 203 Tiburon Boulevard, San Rafael, seemed a new beginning for the 35-year-old widow and her three children. So far they have been able to buy groceries with money earned by babysitting, but their rent is due on July 15.

Her story begins in Sevastopol, a Crimean city by the Black Sea, and threads through Tokyo, Shanghai and Hong Kong before 1955 when she emigrated to the United States.

Her father and her mother's brothers were executed by the Bolsheviks when she was a small child. Her mother and she fled from Sevastopol and made their way across Siberia to Vladivostok, arriving there in 1931. With a guide sent by her two aunts, then in Japan, they crossed the Manchurian border in May, 1931, and joined the aunts, her mother's sisters.

It was in the latter part of November, 1941, Mrs. King said, that her mother decided to take a trip to Shanghai to have her outfitted as a "young lady." They arrived on Dec. 5, three days before war was declared. They lost all their possessions in Japan.

She and her mother stayed in Shanghai throughout the war. In March, 1945, she married James King, son of an American and his Hawaiian wife.

"He renounced his American citizenship and was working for the Japanese," Mrs. King said. "I was the one who sent him to jail when the war was over." Her husband was jailed by the British in Hong Kong. He escaped once, but was killed during a second escape attempt in 1949, Mrs. King said.

"I didn't know my husband was working for the Japanese until after the war," she said. She began divorce proceedings but became a widow before a divorce came through, she said.

Mrs. King and her two sons boarded the President Cleveland to join her mother, who had returned to Japan in 1947. On board she gave birth to a daughter, Anna, now 11. The ship's captain insisted that her middle name ought to be "Cleveland" and that's how it was on the birth certificate the captain issued.

Her first two jobs in Japan ended because of the forces of history, so to speak. The first was for the Philippine Airlines, which soon shut down its Tokyo office becaues of Filippino-Japanese antagonism. The second job, working for the U.S. Navy at Yokosuka naval base as supervisor of 22,000 Japanese workers and 800 Americans at the base, ended with the signing of the Japanese peace treaty in 1952. All aliens were required to give up their jobs at the base.

Until her entry papers for the U.S. came through in 1955, Mrs. King then worked as secretary to George T. Folster, National Broadcasting Corp. bureau chief in Tokyo.

Since she and her children arrived in San Francisco on Oct. 5, 1955, Mrs. King has held clerical and secretarial jobs in San Francisco. Her last permanent job she was forced to leave for emergency surgery in January. "I wasn't well until the middle of March and they couldn't wait for me," she said.

Since moving to San Rafael, Mrs. King and the two boys, now 15 and 13, have eked out enough for groceries by babysitting.

She is prevented from working for the federal or state governments until she becomes a citizen, which should be this fall if no red tape develops. Oct. 5 will be five years since she immigrated.

Neighbors in the hillside section of San Rafael above California Park have taken on the duty of helping by driving Mrs. King on her job searches.

"She doesn't want charity," one neighbor said. "She just wants a job."

Among her qualifications is the ability to speak not only English, but French, Russian and Japanese as well.

Flood Advisor From Almonte Quits Board

Donald J. Taylor, president of the Tamalpais Valley Fire District board of commissioners, is relinquishing a second post as Almonte representative on the advisory board of Zone 3, Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District.

His resignation from the advisory board is tendered in a letter to the County Board of Supervisors, received too late to be read at Tuesday's meeting.

"My work on the fire board has to do with actual operations of a vital department rather than just opinions that need not be followed as on the advisory board. The former quite logically should take precedence," Taylor wrote.

The Almonte Improvement Club has recommended that Francis M. Gelardi of 222 Julia Avenue, Mill Valley, be appointed to Taylor's post on the flood control advisory board.

AND LOAN ASSOCIATION

380 SAN ANSELMO AVENUE • SAN ANSELMO, CALIFORNIA

In ten short years, Ross Valley Savings has risen, at an over-a-million-dollars-a-year clip, to a leading position among Marin County savings and loan associations. This is no accident.

Shrewd management . . . accessibility . . . friendly service . . . complete absence of the usual red tape . . . sound policies administered by directors you know . . . that, and money solidly re-invested in Marin's future through hundreds of home loans have turned the trick. Frankly, the last decade has been a dizzy one for us. But a mighty successful one.

Happily, therefore, greetings to our 6,000 clients from the directors and staff. And we herewith invite every man, woman and child in Marin to our birthday party, starting tomorrow and all next week. Refreshments. Favors. And if the menfolk can't get in during the week, there will be a special commuter open house next Wednesday from 6 to 8 p.m.

Gates To Marin's Art-Garden Fair Swing Open Today

Gala Show Runs Through Monday; Judges Hand Out Coveted Awards

The gates will open to the public at 6 p.m. today to the 15th annual Marin Art and Garden Fair in Ross.

The show will run through Monday, the Fourth of July, with hours starting tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

The members of the Marin County Board of supervisors, who sponsor the event as the offical Marin County Fair; the board members of the Marin Art and Garden Center, who conduct the show for the supervisors, and the management of the 1960 fair, headed by Marcelle B. McCoy, joined today to welcome the public to the show.

Authorities from the Bay Area in the fields of floriculture, horticulture, art and landscaping began judging exhibits at 10 a.m. today, and by late this afternoon had awarded the coveted blue ribbons for first prize and red for second.

The fresh array of floral displays, gardens, flower arrangements, boat show, a beautiful fountain, the art-in-action, art shows and attractive commercial and novelty booths will be the main "entertainment" tonight. Informal opening ceremonies will be held on the Northgate stage, square dancing will be in full swing on the amphitheater platform and various education films will be shown.

Tomorrow at 10 a.m. a queen and her jester will distribute free gifts to children, the Lesselli Puppets, Gerry Geraldo the clown, organ concerts and Hawaiian singers are scheduled, with the "Barbershoppers" in a variety act set for 8 p.m.

State, Novato Confer, Differ On 101 Route

City, Chamber Representatives Remain Adamant

State highway engineers and Novato city representatives met yesterday but remained far apart on ideas of where a superhighway should be located in the Novato area.

"The town is quite unified against" expanding the present highway 101 into eight lanes on an elevated dirt-fill through Novato, commented Dan Aughney, co-chairman of the city council-chamber of commerce highway committee.

With Peter Farrarese, the other co-chairman, acting as spokesman for the Novato group, state and city representatives spent two and one-half hours in the district highway office in San Francisco in discussion which apparently changed no one's point of view.

MAPS DISPLAYED

District engineers displayed five huge maps on which alternate routes had been laid out, including one closely following the city's suggested route to the east of Novato.

But the consensus of engineers, expressed by R. A. Hayler, district engineer, was that the present plan for highway 101 expansion was the best, financially and for the service it would give motorists.

"We realize there are other factors which it is difficult to put a dollar sign on," Hayler said.

The state-proposed road would mean 16 commercial and five residential buildings in Novato would come down for highway expansion, state figures show.

BUILDING ESTIMATE

The state figures on the city-backed route, curving to the east from approximately the Ignacio Wye and back in the area of the Marin County Airport, show nine residential and one commercial buildings would be destroyed.

Ferrarase and other city representatives at the meeting contended that city traffic would be disrupted in a large area around the freeway if it were put on the present route. Also, they held, most of the only north-south business street would be diverted.

The highway proposed by the state would be on elevated, landscaped dirt fill so that Grant and Olive streets could pass beneath. There would be a complex of on-off ramps in the area of Diablo-Machin-Delong streets, and there would be access in the Atherton Avenue area. There would be frontage roads which the state says would aid traffic flow.

ASSESSED VALUATION

Hayler estimated that a little more than half a million dollars in assessed valuation ultimately would be lost. Total cost of right of way and utility relocation is figured at three million dollars.

The state opposes the eastern route as costing more—$9,570,000 compared to $6,870,000 for the route through town, as needing too much grading, and as not being near enough to population center and motorists' needs.

Alfred Bowman, president of the chamber of commerce, noted that assessment of business district property he owns had been lowered. He blamed this on the highway plan.

Hayler countered that he

West Starts Shutting Off Supply Of Oil To Cuba

HAVANA (UPI)—The Western nations began cutting off their supply of oil to Cuba today in the start of a huge squeeze play which could make expropriation of foreign property boomerang against the Cuban economy.

Cuba seized the 20-million-dollar Texaco oil refinery yesterday and seizure of all other major American holdings in Cuba, including the 300-million-dollar Cuban Electric Co. and the 100-million-dollar Cuban Telephone Co., was imminent.

Oil circles said tonight the American Standard Oil Co. was joining the British-Dutch Shell Co. in refusing to import any more oil into Cuba because the government is reported to owe 67 million dollars for oil brought in during the past year.

Refusal would force the government's quick intervention and probably provoke a major oil crisis. Cuba's economy—its sugar mills, factories, transportation—depends on oil to keep going, and a critical situation could develop immediately.

RUSS TECHNICIANS

Oil experts said the Cubans could operate all the foreign refineries, particularly if they had help from behind the Iron Curtain, but it was believed unlikely Russia could rush in sufficient technicians to keep things going.

The Esso refinery handles 35,000 barrels daily and Shell 28,500. The Santiago de Cuba Texaco plant seized yesterday handles 20,000, and unconfirmed reports reaching Havana said Soviet technicians unloaded from a Russian tanker already were at work there.

CUTS SHIPMENTS

Canadian Shell Ltd., announced formally today it was cutting off further shipments to Cuba for non-payment of 17 million dollars worth of crude oil. There was no formal Esso announcement but oil circles insisted that company, too, would stop bringing in oil.

(Standard Oil officials in New York would not comment. They said they had "no contact" with the Cuban subsidiary whatsoever to avoid involvement. They indicated they expected the plant to be taken over and reiterated they would not refine Russian oil.)

Oil circles in Havana said the Standard Oil refinery was down to a two-day supply of crude oil.

Demo Scores Apparent Win In N. D. Vote

FARGO, N. D. (AP) — Democratic Rep. Quentin Burdick scored an apparent hairline victory today over GOP Gov. John E. Davis in the special Senate election in historically Republican North Dakota, on the basis of nearly complete, unofficial returns.

But the narrowness of Burdick's margin, 762 votes with nine precincts unreported, made it certan that the contest would go to the state canvassing board for a final verdict.

Returns from 2,304 of 2,313 precincts showed these unofficial totals:

Burdick—104,161.
Davis—103,399.

The 52-year-old Burdick caught Davis late yesterday after trailing for nearly 24 hours.

Recess Of Congress Voted By Senate

House Expected To Agree; Return Scheduled Aug. 8

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted today to adjourn Congress Saturday for the political conventions and return to work Aug. 8.

The 63-26 vote backed up the proposal by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and sent the question onto the House.

On that side of the Capitol, Republicans were in revolt against returning to session after the political conventions.

But Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) said the recess plan would be approved. He said the House proably would vote on it Saturday.

Fifty-three Democrats and 10 Republicans voted for the recess resolution. Six Democrats and 20 Republicans opposed it.

Meeting in a forenoon caucus, 125 GOP House members overwhelmingly approved a stand of opposition to what their spokesman, Rep. Charles B. Hoeven of Iowa, called the "politically inspired" Johnson-Rayburn move to bring the Congress members back after the conventions.

Johnson came back with a free-swinging speech in the Senate to reply to all his critics. He then asked the Senate to approve a formal resolution for adjournment of Congress this Saturday with resumption of legislative work on Monday, Aug. 8.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois announced his support for Johnson's resolution.

The Senate agreed to vote after three hours of debate.

In pressing his resolution, Johnson argued that those who think Congress can complete its work before the opening of the Democratic convention in Los Angeles July 11 are daydreaming.

He told the Senate the members of Congress did not set up the Democratic National Convention or fix the dates for its meeting.

He said Paul Butler, Democratic national chairman, set up and "his supporters are running this convention."

He asked whether opponents of a recess are suggesting Butler "and his little group proceed without the senators?"

Butler professedly is neutral in the batle for the Democratic presidential nomination, but Johnson backers consider that he has given aid to Sen. John F. Kennedy's bid for it.

On the House side, Rayburn expressed surprise at the stand taken by the Republicans but declared their opposition would be turned back.

DONALD NEWMARK
Fills Vacant position

New Planner Starts Work In San Rafael

San Rafael, which has been without a city planner since Mitchell Baird quit last April, hired a new planner today at starting pay of $650 per month.

The new planner, who goes to work immediately, is Donald Newmark, 34, of San Francisco, who has been with the Urban Renewal Agency for the past two years.

Newmark has a master's degree in city and regional planning from University of California. His other experience includes work as assistant planner in Contra Costa County, planning technician for the Oakland city planning department, and planning work in Stockton and in Solano County.

City Manager Dan E. Andersen announced the appointment, after Newmark had been interviewed this morning by him, Councilman Fred Jensen, and chairman Pat Hetherton of the San Rafael Planning Commission.

Newmark's salary is to go to $700 after six months.

Miss Joan Castrillon, who has been handling the city planner's office single-handed the past two months, will be offered the job of assistant city planner, according to City Manager Andersen.

Mother, Seven Children Saved As Kitchen Burns

A fast-acting cleaning man and a level-headed 12-year-old girl prevented what could have been tragedy in a San Rafael home yesterday.

Mrs. Robert Jeffrey Jr. of 178 Palm Avenue was in the bedroom with seven of her eight children when she heard crackling sounds from her kitchen downstairs.

When she reached the kitchen, all she could see was flame and smoke. She called the San Rafael Fire Department while her oldest daughter, Mary Frances calmly led her six brothers and sisters from the house.

Peter Pascual of San Francisco, who had been cleaning the yard, heard Mrs. Jeffrey shout. He ran into the kitchen with a garden hose. By the time firemen arrived, he had put down the blaze caused damage estimated at $3,000.

The fire destroyed kitchen cabinets, scorched walls, blistered the ceiling and caused smoke damage to dining room, hallway, sun porch and utility room.

Mrs. Jeffrey said "our electrician said it could have been caused by faulty wiring."

Her husband, Dr. Robert Jeffrey, a pathologist at St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco was at work and their 13-year-old son was at summer school when the fire broke out.

"We are very grateful to Mr. Pascual and very proud of Mary," said Mrs. Jeffrey.

DUTCH FAMILY 'DERAILED' AT SALT LAKE CITY

A San Rafael-bound Dutch family boarded the wrong train and landed in Salt Lake City, Utah, today.

Mr. and Mrs. Desi Karpus of 177 D Street, San Rafael, today were frantically making arrangements for Mr. and Mrs. Gerardus De Graaf and their three daughters to continue westward. Karpus and his wife are sponsoring the De Graaf family, who left their native land to seek a future with more opportunity in the United States.

The De Graafs left for Marin from New York City,

San Rafael Woman, 75, Falls In Rubbish, Badly Burned

Mrs. Ruby Quilitch, 75, was severely burned today when she fell onto a pile of burning rubbish in the back yard of her home at 317 Paloma Avenue, San Rafael.

A driver for Colonial Bakeries discovered Mrs. Quilitch lying in the yard, unable to get to the house to telephone for help. She had started the rubbish fire, then slipped and fell upon it.

At San Rafael General Hospital, where she was taken by United Ambulance, it was reported Mrs. Quilitch had extensive burns on hands, neck and chest.

The woman, a widow since the death last year of her husband, E. T. Quilitch, lives alone.

Army Plans Test Of Claim That Zeus Can Down Missiles

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States is preparing a series of spectacular rocket tests in the Pacific which will give the Army a chance to prove its claim that missiles can shoot down missiles.

The tests may have a major bearing on whether the Army's Nike Zeus anti-missile missile goes into large production as a weapon for defending U.S. cities against Soviet intercontinental ballistic missiles in the mid-1960s. A Zeus system deployed throughout the United States could cost up to 15 billion dollars.

MUST CONVINCE

No other such defense weapon is now under development in the free world, but the Army has yet to convince Defense Department and White House scientists that the Zeus is the right answer.

In the coming tests, Zeus missiles will be fired from Kwajalein Island in an effort to knock down Atlas intercontinental missiles streaking across the Pacific from Vandenburg Air Force Base, Calif., at speeds approaching 18,000 miles an hour.

In announcing the long-awaited decision late yesterday, the Defense Department refused on security grounds to say when it would pit the Air Force and Army missiles against each other. But 1961 or 1962 was considered a good estimate.

WORKING FOR YEAR

Work on facilities at Kwajalein has been under way for about a year. The island is 4,800 miles from the California Base.

A defense official said some of the planned shots would involve use of decoys to see whether the Zeus' radar can tell a real missile warhead from a fake.

Methods of building decoys into ICBMs are secret, but an obvious one is to have the rocket's tanks break up into many pieces that might resemble warheads when viewed by tracking radar.

The Zeus is a weapon that could shoot down Russian intercontinental missiles. The Atlas is an ICBM, that, with decoys and possibly evasive action, would be able to elude Soviet-type Zeus missiles.

The Army is confident its Zeus cannot be spoofed. The Air Force suspects that by the time Zeus could be deployed widely in the United States, attacking missiles could spoof it good.

Nepal Moves To Ward Off Red Threat

KATMANDU, Nepal (UPI)—This tiny Himalayan country moved quickly to bolster its armed forces today in the face of Communist Chinese attacks from Tibet on Nepalese border outposts.

The upper house of Parliament unanimously passed a resolution calling for formation of auxiliary armed forces and compulsory military training for boys and girls over 14 years old.

WANTS TREATY VOIDED

At the same time a leader of the rightwing opposition, Bharat Shamsher, demanded that the government declare the newly signed treaty with Communist China "null and void."

The government last night sent a strong protest note to the Communist Chinese embassy in Katmandu charging that Red army troops entered Nepalese territory at Mustang, in the northwest, "fired at unarmed civilian officers and looted their belongings and horses."

"Seventeen Nepalese civilians are still missing," a government statement on the note said.

DEATH NOT NOTED

The communique did not mention the killing of a Nepalese officer which Premier B. P. Koirala had reported earlier. Nor did it mention any dates.

Mustang is in the northwest of Nepal, and communications between the frontier and the capital are primitive.

Various reports have filtered into Katmandu. Some of the government dispatches are confused and contradictory.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Japanese Submarine

KOBE, Japan (AP) — The first submarine made in Japan since World War II was delivered to Japan's sea defense force today.

Filmland Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actress Jean Simmons and actor Stewart Granger yesterday announced they would dissolve their 10-year marriage.

A spokesman for the couple said a divorce would be filed within the next month, probably in Arizona where both are residents.

Rejects Sex Law

LONDON (UPI) — The House of Commons last night rejected an appeal to show homosexuals "compassion rather than contempt" by removing their behavior from the category of a crime.

The parliamentarians voted 213 to 99 against any revision after a frank debate of nearly three hours.

The original recommendation to remove consenting homosexuals from the shadow of prosecution was contained in a report of a parliamentary committee headed by Sir John Wolfenden.

Housing Occupancy

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Negro occupants of public housing have more than doubled in the past eight years but less than 20 per cent of the nation's public housing projects are integrated.

That is what Philip Sadler, public housing administration intergroup relations chief, told the Fisk University Race Relations Institute yesterday. Sadler said Negroes occupy more than 45 per cent of the public housing dwelling units.

Payola Bill Delay

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Commerce Committee has put off until August any action on a House-passed bill to crack down on payola and other broadcasting abuses.

Liberty Island

NEW YORK (AP) — Now it's Liberty Island which is the home of the Statue of Liberty.

In ceremonies yesterday, the old name of Bedloe's Island disapeared. The renaming had ben approved in a bill by the 84th Congress and signed by President Eisenhower.

Steelworker Demand

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The United Steelworkers Union will seek a 32-hour week and retirement at 60 years of age to combat automation, says a union district director, Joseph P. Molony.

He blamed automation for steel layoffs.

Bus Strike Grows

NEW YORK (AP) — Insurgent drivers ordered mass picketing today in an attempt to widen their wildcat strike into a total shutdown of the city's biggest private bus company.

Attempts to do it by picketing bus garages failed yesterday. The 1,500 strikers rallied their forces last night for stronger maneuvers today.

The strike has caused an almost complete shutdown of the 21 lines of the omnibus division of the Fifth Avenue Coach Lines Inc.

Finch Setbacks

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The retrial of Dr. R. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregoff on murder charges is still in the jury-choosing stage, but the defendants already have suffered two setbacks.

In Superior Court yesterday, prosecutors announced they would again seek the death penalty for both.

In Washington, D.C., the Supreme Court denied Miss Tregoff's request that trial Judge LeRoy Dawson be disqualified.

Argentina Shivers

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—Argentines shivered today in the subfreezing temperatures of the nation's coldest winter in years.

At the southern town of Zapala the mercury had dropped to 22 degrees — a 26-year low — and even in subtropical northern Argentina temperatures as low as 30 degress were reported.

Forest Fire Stubborn

SEQUOIA NATIONAL PARK (AP) — Some 1,200 men today battled a stubborn forest fire that has burned 2,800 acres of brush and scrub oak trees near the Ash Mountain entrance to Sequoia National Park.

The fires — burning since Sunday—does not threaten the park's famed redwood trees.

"I don't know when we'll get it under control," a spokesman at fire control headquarters said.

Civil War Shell

NEW IBERIA, La. (AP) — A housewife, turning over some soil in her back yard, found a live artillery shell from the Civil War.

The date stamped on it was Oct. 16, 1861.

Demolition crews at the New Iberia Naval Auxiliary Air Station deactivated the shell yesterday.

Does Truman Think Cause Hopeless For Symington? He'll Talk Saturday

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A canny old politician, Harry S. Truman, dominated the political news today simply by announcing that he wouldn't attend the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles.

Truman's announcement that he was withdrawing from Missouri's convention delegation came as a surprise to Washington, which speculated what his action meant.

The former president assured himself of further headlines by refusing to say why he did it. He said he'd tell all at a Saturday news conference in Independence.

Truman has been an ardent backer of Sen. Stuart Symington, his fellow Missourian, for the Democratic presidential nomination. Symington said he is still running hard.

Among the speculative theories: Truman has decided Symington can't make the grade and doesn't want to preside over a hopeless cause in Los Angeles a week and a half from now.

Another: Truman suspects a "deal" is in the making between Symington and Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the front runner for the nomination. As this theory goes, Symington would become secretary of defense in a Kennedy cabinet, while his delegate strength would rally mainly to Kennedy at the convention and perhaps put Kennedy over the top.

Backers of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas hoped Truman would switch his support to Johnson.

Other political developments:

Congressional leaders decided they would recess Congress at the end of this week, and come back again after the conventions. This releases Johnson, Kennedy and Symington to go to Los Angeles and get in what licks they may before the convention starts.

At the governors conference in Glacier National Park, Mont., the news again centered around Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. While he didn't say he would go out and stump for Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the all-but-nominated GOP presidential candidate, Rockefeller did say he's a Republican and would not bolt the party.

But he continued criticism of administration policies, this time in the field of medical care for the aged.

The extraordinary close race in the special North Dakota senatorial election was still up in the air. With 30 outlying precincts still unheard from, Democratic Rep. Quentin Burdick was 569 votes ahead of GOP Gov. John E. Davis.

This election was watched closely in Washington as possibly indicating how the political land lies in the farm belt.

Homing Pigeon Club Holds Last Races Of Season

The Tamalpais Homing Pigeon Club held its last two races of the season Saturday and Sunday, from The Dalles, Ore., and Yakima, Wash.

Robert Brockman of Mill Valley won the 550-air mile race from The Dalles. His bird averaged over 40 miles per hour. Second place went to Don Fraser of San Anselmo. Don Laroach of Novato placed third.

There were 100 birds from 11 Marin lofts entered in this race.

In the 600-air mile race from Yakima, Don Fraser of San Anselmo captured first and second places. The pigeons from Yakima were released Saturday morning, and Fraser got his first bird early Sunday morning as it averaged more than 34 miles per hour. Del Krelle also of San Anselmo captured third. Entered in this race were 24 pigeons from seven Marin lofts.

Hub City Bakery Asks Incorporation

Kientz's Pastry Shop of San Anselmo has filed articles of incorporation with Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan in Sacramento, to be capitalized at $100,000 in $100 par shares.

Directors of the company are August L. and Alice T. Kientz of Fernhill Road, Ross, and their son, Richard A. Kientz of 163 Oak Manor Drive, Fairfax.

The San Anselmo bakery business, formerly owned by Mr. and Mrs. Kientz, was begun by his parents in 1922.

Jordan also announced incorporation of European Asiatic Airways, Inc., an Alameda County airline, with a firm of San Rafael attorneys, Robert L. Oates, Phillip A. Kennedy and James M. Fletcher, listed as directors. It is capitalized at $100,000 in $10 par shares.

HOSTED IN LUCAS VALLEY

Four 'Friendship Ambassadors' From Foreign Lands Tour Marin

By DOROTHY SIMPERS

Six young men—four of them from foreign lands—rode into Marin County in a red station wagon this week on a nationwide trip to find out what America is all about.

The four foreigners and their two American guides on on a seven-week "Ambassadors for Friendship" tour, supported mainly by the contributions of individual Americans.

During their three days and four nights in the area they are the guests of Abbott E. Stinchcomb Jr. or 634 Miller Creek Road, Lucas Valley.

Stinchcomb was one of more than 12,000 Americans who responded to a "Reader's Digest" story about the "Ambassadors for Friendship" program started by a Rutgers University student..

The Stinchcomb home was one of 30 selected to be hosts to the young men on this summer's tour.

The "Ambassadors" program of educational travel for foreign students in the United States was started by Harry Morgan of Rutgers to give the young people an opportunity to see for themselves how Americans live and work and play and think.

Touring Marin and the Bay Area this week are George Lymberis, 22, of Greece, a business administration student at Macalester College in St. Paul, Minn.; T. (Rajah) Kirupairajah, 24, of Ceylon, an educational administration student at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio; Manouchehr Movasseghi, 21, an Iranian civil engineering student at Macalester College; Nicholas Hobson, 23, from England, an apprentice in a New York advertising agency.

With them are two Americans, Lee A. Mitchell, 21, of Madelia, Minn., a Macalester psychology major, and Geoffrey A. Thompson, 19, of Central Valley, N. Y., a Columbia University history major.

The six made a scenic tour of Marin Tuesday, visited the Smith Co. in San Francisco, a direct mail firm of which Stinchcomb is treasurer, and visited Pacific Telephone and Telegraph in Oakland.

Tuesday night they met a group of Marinites at the Stinchcomb home.

Yesterday they visited the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. Vallecitos atomic plant and attended the First Church of Christ, Scientist, tonight in San Rafael.

Today they tour the Soule Steel plant in San Francisco, the San Francisco Stock Exchange, and the IBM plant in San Jose.

They leave here tomorrow for Los Angeles, then the South and up the East Coast. The group started in St. Paul, drove through South Dakota, saw Mount Rushmore, then on to Greybull, Wyo., where the boys spent a day on a ranch, branding cattle and riding with the cowboys.

In Yellowstone Park they camped out. "It was very cold, and we were frightened of the bears," said the Britisher, with a twinkle in his eye.

They spent a few days in Salt Lake City, and in Reno they "put a lot of small change in the slot machines." The money poured into the machines astonished them.

Although the main stops on the trip had been planned in advance, there are many impromptu meetings and opportunities to make friends. In Sacramento they met a woman at a flower show who took them sightseeing and to dinner.

"The individual friendships that we made were what was so great about the tour," said the Englishman, most articulate of the "Ambassadors."

"It's real people doing real things," he said. "We meet Americans of all classes. We stay in a barn one day, a big house the next day. We meet governors and mayors—and truck drivers."

"We were all very impressed with the colossal hospitality. We not only learned about them and they about us—but we also learned about ourselves. We've had our minds enormously broadened."

They got rid of a lot of stereotyped opinions about Americans, the young men said, by getting around and talking to people personally.

The Ceylonese student was impressed by the wealth of America, the various types of backgrounds and religions here.

All agreed that "American children are very beautiful," but felt that in some families there is not enough respect for parents and discipline.

With many more miles still ahead of them, the "Ambassadors" are looking forward to the rest of their tour. "We make lots of friends wherever we go," they smiled.

Said Stinchcomb: "We're very happy to have them. They are a very interested and cordial group, full of questions about many things in this country."

Carnival Workers Plead Innocent

Four carnival workers, arrested Saturday night at the Corte Madera Shopping Center, pleaded innocent yesterday to charges of contributing to the delinquency of a 15-year-old runaway girl from Mill Valley.

Gilbert Gene Lockard, 25, from Kentucky; Frank J. Strange, 19, Richmond; William Leroy Myers, 20, Castro Valley and Larry Vernon Morton, 18, of San Jose appeared in Marin Municipal Court with attorney Fred Robbins Jr. They denied the charges and were bound over to superior court for prosecution.

The girl left home about 7:30 Saturday night. When she failed to return after midnight, her father called police. Corte Madera police said they found the girl with two of the men at the carnival ground, getting ready to retire for the night in back of one of the carnival trucks.

Dag Opposes Immediate Arms Meeting

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold advised today against any United Nations meeting on the disarmament question at this time.

Hammarskjold took this position at a new conference held while the United States and its Western allies disagreed on convoking the U.N. Disarmament Commission as an aftermath to the collapse of the 10-power talks in Geneva last Monday.

MEETING ASKED

The United States wanted to convene the 82-nation commission here next Wednesday. France led opposition to the plan unless the Western powers could agree on a unified position to be taken in such a meeting.

Hammarskjold not only opposed a quick meeting of the disarmament commission, but added that he saw no useful possible result from putting the arms question before a special General Assembly session or the Security Council.

"There is always some dust which should settle before you start driving again," Hammarskjold said.

"If you are not ready to start constructive discussions and risk getting stuck in a rehash, it would not help disarmament or the disarmament commission or the United Nations."

Although he characterized both the Russian and Western revised disarmament plans as "advances," Hammarskjold, in an unusually frank statement, offered support for the West's demand for balanced and controlled disarmament.

"Disarmament which is not balanced disarmament increases risks and does not reduce them," he said. "Control is necessary, because there must not only be balance, but an awareness of it as well."

Chessman Case Figure Due Texas Arraignment

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Charles S. Terranova, 38, who was mentioned in a final petition by Caryl Chessman before his execution May 2, was scheduled for arraignment in El Paso today on a fugitive complaint from California.

Terranova was arrested by the Federal Bureau of Investigation Saturday at an El Paso supermarket where he was employed as a butcher. He faces two counts of burglary in California. Yesterday, the U.S. district attorney in El Paso dismissed a federal charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

Meanwhile, the non-fiction editor of Argosy Magazine, Milt Macklin, wired California Gov. Brown from El Paso urging lie detector tests of Terranova and of officials involved in the prosecution of Chessman.

Terranova had been mentioned by Chessman as a "prime suspect" in the red light bandit crimes for which Chessman was executed.

Terranova has denied any connection with the Chessman case.

In the telegram to Brown, Macklin said he was convinced the lie detector tests would prove Chessman was innocent of the red light bandid crimes. Macklin urged the governor to have Terranova returned to California to the governor's personal protection and to have independent experts conduct the tests.

Auto Overturns; Nurse Injured

A 40-year-old San Quentin nurse, Lilyan Mae Nunes of 109 Golden Hind Passage, Corte Madera, escaped with minor injury when her southbound station wagon overturned on Highway 101 about 800 feet north of the Alto interchange at 6:20 p.m. yesterday.

She told California Highway Patrol Officer Duncan Snell that she started to shift to the left lane, noticed a car approaching from behind in that lane, so shifted suddenly back to her lane, losing control of the station wagon. The vehicle rolled over. It was totally wrecked.

$500 Million Surplus Due In Nation's Books

WASHINGTON (AP) — Uncle Sam reached the end of his 1960 bookkeeping year today with a budget surplus of 500 million dollars or more.

This is the first surplus in three years. It follows two deficits that totaled more than 15 billion dollars. The surplus is more than twice as big as the 217 million dollars President Eisenhower predicted in January.

With one eye on election year politics, the administration is debating whether to have Eisenhower anounce the surplus as soon as rough calculations are available. This could be done in a week or so.

No decision has been made, and some officials are urging that there be no departure from the customary procedure of withholding an announcement until final figures are available about July 20.

The surplus has exceeded expectations because revenues have been higher and spending lower than was predicted.

52 YEARS OF COLONIAL RULE END

Belgian King Warns Independent Congo To Beware Of Outsiders

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (UPI) — King Baudouin of the Belgians handed the Congo its independence today but warned it to watch out for certain foreign powers "ready to profit from your slightest failure."

The sprawling territory, a third the size of the United States, and containing 14 million people, shed 52 years of Belgium rule at one minute past midnight.

It is the 14th African nation to gain its independence since World War II.

Baudouin, speaking before a joint session of the Congolese Parliament, said one of the big hazards was tribal rivalry which could be exploited and divide the nation.

Outside the still unfinished building which was to have been the Belgian governor-general's new residence, huge crowds danced and sang celebrating their independence.

Belgian flags still flew side-by-side with the new republic flags and there was no hostility toward Europeans.

Motorized troops were everywhere, backed up by infantrymen wearing anti-gas goggles on their steel helmets and carrying tear-gas bombs at their sides.

The emergence of the Congo as a republic was significantly marked last night by the signing of mutual cooperation pacts which will go a long way to preserve Belgium's economic and military interests in the Congo.

The agreements will also allow Belgium to maintain army and air bases in the Congo Republic. Pending establishment of diplomatic service by the Congolese, Belgium diplomats will represent Congo interests abroad.

Baudouin and Congo President Joseph Kasa Vubu attended religious services at Notre Dame Church this morning and heard a message from Pope John XXIII.

Nikita Given Cool Vienna Reception

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev arrived in neutral Austria for a nine-day state visit today and got a cool reception. Except for a small contingent of Communists, the response was apathetic.

About 6,000 persons were at the Soviet War Memorial as Khrushchev's motorcade swept into the center of the city from the airport. Most of the crowd just stood and stared. A knot of about 200 Austrian Communists sent up a thin cheer but Khrushchev may not have heard or seen them. They were lined up on the far side of the street as he sped by in a closed car.

Some customers at sidewalk tables of nearby coffee houses didn't bother to look up from their newspapers as the motorcade pulled up in front of the Imperial Hotel, where Khrushchev is staying. In general the average citizen appeared bored.

Khrushchev's Austrian visit is expected to be all smiles and talk of peaceful coexistence.

The Soviet premier and his party of more than 80 persons were met at Vienna's Schwechat Airfield by President Adolf Schaerf, Chancellor Julius Raab and other top Austrians.

The Russians in Moscow were saying that Khrushchev's visit would show the world that Communist and capitalist states can live in peaceful coexistence.

The Austrians were intent on making sure that Khrushchev would irritate nobody in the West or make anti-Western propaganda. They planned the full tourist treatment for him—visits to the opera and Hapsburg palace, trips through the Alps and to Salzburg, the music festival city.

Only two hours were set aside during the Soviet premier's stay for private talks with Austrian government leaders—and these were expected to deal with trade.

Traveling with the Soviet leader were his wife, Nina, daughter Yelena, 22-year-old Moscow University law student, and the top-ranking woman Communist official, Culture Minister Ekaterina Furtseva.

Others included the first deputy premier, Alexei N. Ksygin and Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

PARADISE TOO MIGHT BE FUN FOR A VISIT

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A Montreal woman asking directions to Hell, Mich., was counselled today to visit Paradise as well.

Mrs. E. Cartmell wrote the State Highway Department, explaining she planned a visit to the Detroit area and "we thought it would be fun to be able to say we had been to Hell."

The department repsonded by mailing a marked map showing the location of Hell, a tiny unincorporated community.

"To complete your trip you might also visit Paradise in upper Michigan," suggested John Takacs in an accompanying message.

Photos Exhibited

Photographs by Carl Harleen and Les Walsh of San Rafael, Tom Moulin of San Anselmo and Lisa Stephens of Kentfield are included in an exhibit of 270 best-of-professional photographs that opened today at the Jack Tar Hotel in San Francisco. Harleen and Moulin served on the jury for the eighth annual Western States Photographic Exhibition.

Hail, Winds Batter Four Central States

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thundershowers dampeded a wide stretch of the country from the northern Rockies to the East Coast today.

Damaging winds, heavy rain and hail hit portions of Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri and Kentucky during the night.

The southwest Nebraska area around Kimball was thrashed by hailstones the size of baseballs. Windows were smashed, cars were dented and wheat crops were flattened.

Winds in excess of 90 miles an hour howled across central Nebraska during a severe thunderstorm. Hardest hit were the areas around North Platte and Kearney.

DEMISE OF GOLDEN GATE BRIDGE DISTRICT URGED

Authority Commission Exec Asserts Second-Span Talk Is Smokescreen

The Golden Gate Authority Commission must force the Golden Gate Bridge District to go out of business, the vice chairman of the commission told the Marin Council of Mayors last night in Fairfax.

Commissioner Leo H. Strauss of San Rafael accused bridge directors of putting up a smoke screen by pretending they will build a second bridge — which they are forbidden to do until bonds for the present crossing are retired. If they persist in their attitude, he said, the Golden Gate Authority Commission "may have to resort to its yet-unused investigating powers."

He said the commission has the power to examine "every inch" of bridge, air and sea facilities in the Bay Area to see how they operate.

"The public wants total solutions to our total transportation problem. We can never have a coordinated plan to meet these problems if the Golden Gate Bridge continues to go its way alone," declared Strauss.

He predicted that if the proposal to dissolve the bridge district in favor of operation of the span by the authority is submitted to voters of the six counties in the district, "the voters will overwhelmingly endorse the change."

The Golden Gate Authority Commission is to draft a plan to be presented to the 1961 state legislature which would bring all Bay Area bridges, airports and seaports "under one umbrella," but the bridge district and the City of Oakland are attempting to block it, he asserted.

Bridge district directors "will not even listen to reason when engineers tell us that in four years, transportation over the bridge will be impossible, and in six years, chaotic," declared Strauss.

"All the bridge directors want to do is hold out until the balance of the bridge bonds is paid off in 1971," he said.

"During the commission's hearings we have heard representatives of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District recall the foresight of the birdge's original sponsors — the pioneering spirit, so to speak of the men who carried this undertaking through in the face of mass criticism and protest.

"No one can dispute the fact that those early sponsors did have foresight. One can't help wondering what has happened to it in the intervening 25 or 30 years."

Strauss gave the Oakland airport and seaport as examples of "isolationism," which he added, "is actually stagnation." He said that the Oakland airport handles only 3 per cent of Bay Area air traffic, while San Francisco has about 95 per cent. "This indicates a lack of coordination," said Strauss.

"As far as efficiency, the Port of Oakland last year received a one-million dollar subsidy from the city."

He said that an authority would use revenues from all facilities to benefit the whole area, which would eventually include an airport and seaport for Marin County. He pointed out that the authority would have the power to issue revenue bonds, but not to levy taxes.

San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis asked during a question period whether the authority, if established, could legally assume the bond responsibility of the Golden Gate Bridge, now held by local taxpayers who must pay more taxes should the bridge revenue default.

"I feel sure that the burden could be legally assumed by the authority," answered Strauss, "but I do not feel there is much risk of default."

The bridge now has 18 million dollars in reserve — eight million dollars more than is required by law — and "none of it can be used to build another bridge until the balance of this one is paid," Strauss added.

San Rafael Councilman Charles W. Aby criticized the commission's proposal that a majority of the authority members be chosen by boards of supervisors of the nine Bay Area counties.

Aby felt local representation is a "good platitude that does not work." He cited the Golden Gate Bridge District as an example, saying its directors "either by want of prestige or vested interest" resist any change in the makeup of their board.

Strauss suggested that one-third of the authority members be appointed by the governor. Aby asserted that a higher percentage should be appointed by the governor and that the authority should be made up of as many as 50 representatives.

Answers given by Strauss to questions by the city officials included:

1. To Mill Valley Mayor Robert D. Huber: If the authority tok over the Golden Gate Bridge, the revenue would be used not only to pay off the balance but to finance a new crossing to Marin County.

2. To Belvedere Mayor Robert Watkins: The authority would not control rapid transit.

3. To Fairfax Councilman Waldemar E. Radtke: Seaports must be under the authority's control because transportation systems today are inter-dependent.

4. To Corte Madera Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow: There is no conflict between the authority commission and advocates of Bay Area-wide government; "they seek a similar goal."

WELLINGTON RESCUED

80-Pound English Bulldog Hoisted Up Belvedere Cliff

Wellington had a happy day yesterday.

The 80-pound English bulldog was rescued from a cliff where he'd spent a lonely 24 hours perched in a crevice 60 feet above the Belvedere beach.

Mrs. V. P. Trembley of 8 Tamalpais Circle, Belvedere, first missed her dog at about 2:30 p.m. Tuesday. Yesterday, while taking a walk, she heard him bark and spotted him 40 feet down the cliff. She called Police Chief William S. Woodington, who looked at the straight angle of the cliff and called the Marin County Humane Society.

Woodington then tied a rope to a water culvert nearby and descended the cliff to give Wellington a pail of water. "He was a most happy dog—for the company and the water," the chief said.

Later, when two men from the Humane Society arrived, a sack was tried to bring Wellington up, but he was too big. So, a leash was put around him, the Humane Society men gave a pull, Woodington gave a push and Wellington went home again.

Library In Fairfax Plans Story Hour

A story hour for children will be held at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow at the Fairfax branch of the county library.

Signups will be taken after the story hour for a summer reading club called "North Bay Adventures," which will serve to acquaint youngsters with localities and lore of north bay counties, including Marin County. A record card contaning a picture map of the area will be given to each club member.

Mechanic, 46, Arrested For Beating Child, 2

A husky San Rafael mechanic was jailed today on suspicion of severely beating the 2-year-old son of a woman with whom he was living.

In Marin County Jail in lieu of $10,500 bail was Lyle Wilson Hancock, 42, of 105 Auburn Street, San Rafael. He was charged with child beating and assault with intent to do great bodily harm.

Hancock was arrested shortly before noon today by Sheriff's Inspector Bowen Bridges and San Rafael police at an auto agency where he works.

Hancock steadfastly denied hitting the boy, Billy Jack Stamper, aged 2. The youngster has bruise marks about his face and eyes, and on his body. Hancock told Inspector Bridges and Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich that the boy fell down an embankment and bounced off a car engine, injuring himself.

The boy's mother is Elizabeth Roberta Ann Hoffman, 20, who has been living with Hancock at the Auburn Street home.

A complaint filed in Marin Municipal Court accuses Hancock of cruel and inhuman corporal punishment resulting in a traumatic condition of the boy. The beating allegedly occurred last Friday night.

Whether the mother complained to authorities was not clear. Sheriff's inspectors said the mother and son went to relatives in Sonoma County. The relatives noticed bruises on the boy and took him to a hospital. Hospital officials called the Sonoma sheriff, who notified Marin officials.

Hancock, who is 5 feet 9 inches tall and weighs 220 pounds, was tried in 1958 on morals charges involving a 17-year-old girl. He was acquitted of the charges by a jury. He was previously married and has children of his own.

North Marin Water Budget Approved At $1,589,300

Directors of the North Marin Water District have approved the largest budget in the district's history, $1,598,300 for work and improvements; $168,500 for operating expenses.

Work scheduled for 1960-61 includes $1,440,000 for construction of a pipeline from Petaluma to Novato which will bring Russian River water to the district. Voters have approved a $3,790,000 bond issue to pay for the complete water project.

Revenue is expected to be $375,000, with surplus funds going toward repaying the bonds, in line with vote promises that rates and district taxes would not be raised to pay for the bonds, district manager Jerome Gilbert explained.

The operating budget of $168,500 is $9,000 less than the previous year, primarily due to transfer of workers to bond-financed projects and "improved efficiency," Gilbert said.

The district this year also plans to replace some old water lines in downtown Novato, mainly on Sweetser, Machin, Delong and Reichert Streets.

Thieves Take 2 Recorders

Two tape recorders, worth almost $400, vanished from the Marin Music Center in San Rafael during broad daylight yesterday, the owner reported to police.

Ruth Velati, part owner of the music shop at 1331 Fourth Street, said one was a remote control tape recorder worth $200, and the other worth $190. They were displayed in front of the store.

Mrs. Velati left the store about 11:30 a.m., leaving another employee in charge. When she returned about 2 p.m., the tape recorders were gone. The employee told Mrs. Velati there had been two customers in the store while she was away.

did not believe property values would be lowered. Hayler said the state would continue to buy right of way along the present 101 route if it appeared it would be developed, to protect the present state route plans.

Mayor Wayne Womack asked for a year's delay in public hearings to be held by the state, so the city could back a restudy of the North Marin master plan which the highway follows.

"We could give you verbal argument all day long and we wouldn't convince you and you wouldn't convince us," was Womack's parting comment.

Convicts Fighting Sequoia Blaze

One hundred Indian firefighters from Arizona and New Mexico yesterday were sent to aid 1,100 men, 100 of whom are San Quentin Prison inmates, battling an uncontrolled grass and brush fire in Sequoia National Park.

Associate Warden Dale B. Frady said the San Quentin inmates were on the firelines near Ash Mountain all night combating a blaze that Park Supt. John M. Davis reported was "in a very rugged rocky and mountainous place." Davis said he did not know when it would be under control.

President Quits Chrysler Firm

NEW YORK (UPI) — L. L. Colbert's handpicked heir to the presidency of Chrysler Corp. resigned from the post today, apparently in a dispute with Colbert, after less than three months on the job.

The Chrysler board of directors, in a surprise move, announced in a special meeting here that it had accepted the resignation of W. C. Newberg and restored the powers of president of the automobile company to Colbert.

Novato Takes Up Its First Budget Today

The first city budget for Novato will be up for discussion tonight at a special meeting of the city council.

Robert O. Bailey, city administrative consultant, will present preliminary figures to the council which is expected to come up with a budget ranging from $200,000 to $250,000 for the fiscal year. The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. at the city hall.

Each budget item will be considered individually, Mayor Wayne Womack said. "It's a new procedure for the entire council. We'll proceed with caution," he said.

Boy, 5, Rushing To Fire, Injured

Robert Loback, 5, suffered minor cuts and bruises today when he ran into the side of a car in the Loma Verde subdivision in Ignacio.

Robert and a group of other youngsters were racing to see a grass fire on Alameda Del Prado when a car driven by A/3c Robert G. Taylor, of the 78th Installation Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base slowly pulled from behind a fire truck. The boy ran into the side of the care, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The boy, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Loback of 480 Calle Arboleda, was taken to the Hamilton base hospital.

Patient, 18, Escapes From Napa Hospital

An 18-year-old escapee from Napa State Hospital, who broke into a Point Reyes summer cottage and lived there two days last February before being recaptured, is missing from the hospital again, Inspector William Bradley of the Marin sheriff's office disclosed today.

The missing inmate is Dennis Raymond Bach, 18, whose home is in Gridley, Butte County. Inspector Bradley said there is a slight possibility that Bach may be wearing the same type of clothes he wore when captured the last time—red corduroy jacket and blue jeans.

Last Feb. 13, John Joseph Powell of San Francisco went to his weekend cottage on the Mendoza Ranch on the Point Reyes peninsula, and found Bach and another inmate making themselves at home. They had been there two days, eating from Powell's freezer and sleeping on his bed. The other youth, Ralph L. Elser, 19, did not escape this time.

Bach is 6 feet 2 inches tall, weighs 160 pounds, and has dirty blond hair and blue eyes.

Inspector Bradley said Napa officials missed Bach yesterday afternoon. They do not know in which direction the inmate fled.

Four Persons Suggested For Reed Position

Four recommendations for appointment to a vacancy on the Reed Union School District board have ben received by county Supt. Virgil S. Hollis, he reported today.

Three women and one man have been recommended for the post, created when Mrs. Ahleen Tresnon resigned this month.

They are Mrs. Frederick Parke, Greenwood Beach; Mrs. Craig Gilbert, Bel Aire; Mrs. Edward Ryall, Belverson Gardens, and Henry Schubart, Paradise Drive.

Mrs. Parke is past president of the Reed District Parent-Teacher Club. Mrs. Gilbert is serving her second term as president of the Bel Aire unit of the club, and Mrs. Ryall is a teacher at the Belvedere Nursery School. Schubart is chairman of the trustee committee studying use of community service override tax funds for recreation in the district.

Drunken Drivers Draw $158 Fines

Two drunken drivers drew $158 fines an dsix-month suspension of their licenses yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas sentenced Robert Edward Banker, 29, of San Francisco and LeRoy Wesley Hewit, 60, of 137 Avenida Mira Flores, Tiburon.

Banker was caught on Bridgeway in Sausalito on May 14. Hewitt was arrested on Miller Avenue in Mill Valley on June 18. Hewitt has a previous conviction in 1945, but this was stricken from the records.

Dixie Trustees Meeting Tonight

The Dixie School District board will hold a special meeting tonight to discuss and approve a tentative budget for the 1960-61 school year, announced Supt. Dennie B. Willis.

He said the meeting would begin at 8 p.m. at the district office at 4775 Redwood Highway.

Miller Spent $11,836 In Vote Push

Rep. Clement W. Miller of Corte Madera spent a total of $11,836 in the June primary campaign, according to his campaign expense statement filed today with County Clerk George S. Jones.

Miller's statement shows total receipts of $12,158, contributed by various committees in Del Norte, Humboldt, Mendocino, Sonoma and Marin Counties.

Frederic D. Kerr of Ross spent $1,068 in his unsuccessful fight to oust Supervisor William D. Fusselman of San Anselmo. Kerr reported that his backers put up $1,044, and he himself paid $24.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas, elected to the Marin Municipal Court bench, reported his only campaign expense was the $160 filing fee, which he paid himself.

Jack Brandon and John P. Namle, elected to the Terra Linda Community Services District board, spent $31 and $15 respectively.

Group Will Meet On Unionization

A public hearing will be held by the County Committee on School District Organization on a proposal to form a union district of Stinson Beach and Bolinas school districts at 8 p.m. today at the Bolinas School.

The two school boards have been operating on an inter-district attendance agreement for the past two years. They held their first joint graduation exercises this month.

Escapee Costs

DARTMOOR, England (UPI) — The Devonshire County Council wants the whole nation to bear the costs in hunting for escaped prisoner Henry Brett.

The council claimed that every 36 hours that he's on the loose it costs the county $2,800 in police patrols, dog patrols and radio-telephone communications tolls.

Ike Vacation Slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced today that President and Mrs. Eisenhower will leave July 7 for at least a month's vacation at Newport, R. I.

Nike Change Won't Effect Marin County

A new Defense Department plan calling for replacement of Nike Ajax batteries with more powerful Nike Hercules missiles will not affect Marin County missile sites because they are already equipped with the Hercules type.

A Fort Baker public information office spokesman said San Rafael, Fort Barry and Fort Cronkhite Nike sites are equipped with Hercules missiles. Ten other Nike sites in the Bay Area will have to be converted from Ajax to Nike.

The conversions will take about nine months, the spokesman said.

The Defense Department plan will deploy the nuclear tipped Hercules missiles around seven metropolitan areas on the east and west coasts and in the north-central part of the United States.

CAREFUL MAYOR INVESTIGATES

San Rafael's Mayor John F. McInnis is a careful man, judging from this photograph. Not just because he's wearing and using safety equipment, but also because before he would sign a Safe Boating Week in San Rafael proclamation he wanted first-hand information on what makes for safe boating. Here he is instructed by Marin Power Squadron commander Dr. Alfred Schwarz (left) and squadron secretary E. F. Sweeney. Safe Boating Week starts Sunday. (Ken Molino photo)

Bill To Raise Federal Pay Vetoed By Ike

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower today vetoed as "indefensible by any light" the bill to raise the pay of federal workers by 750 million dollars a year.

The chief executive in a special message to the House said the present federal pay system was badly antiquated and the pay bill would make the situation worse.

He called the pay raise an example of "fiscal and legislative irresponsibility" and said it would discriminate against certain federal employees "in such a manner that would offend all thinking Americans."

The president said that under the bill federal employees making higher salaries would have gotten larger pay raises on a percentage basis than those whose present pay is below comparable levels in private business.

"To thus heighten the present distortion would be grossly unfair and highly discriminatory," Eisenhower said.

THIRD TRY AT LAW MAKES BOAT AMERICAN, THEN OWNER SELLS

DEER ISLE, Mne. (UPI)—The Edith Q is now an honest lady.

President Eisenhower has signed a special act of Congress making the 43-foot motor boat an American citizen.

A native of Nova Scotia, the Edith Q originally was brought to Deer Isle by James O. Quinn to carry mail, passengers and freight during the summer to Penobscot Bay Islands.

But then the Coast Guard stepped in, and refused to grant the inspection ticket for such duties as the law forbids a "foreign bottom" to operate in coastal trade.

Quinn then set to work to get a bill through Congress making the Edith Q an American boat. He failed twice in two sessions of Congress, but finally, Sen. Edmund Muskie (D-Mne.) managed to put the bill through.

But to Quinn, the Senate's passage of the bill two months ago and the president's signature yesterday meant nothing.

He had sold the Edith Q just a week before the bill passed.

Contractor Expects To Start 2nd Hub Firehouse Soon

Contractor Joseph R. Filippo said today he expects to start work next week on San Anselmo's long-awaited second firehouse at Butterfield Road and Arroyo Avenue.

The San Rafael contractor said he hoped next Wednesday or Thursday to start drilling for pilings to support the understructure of the firehouse in a creekbed passing through the property.

The San Anselmo City Council in a special meeting Tuesday night approved payment of $3,700 to J. B. Hanauer & Co. of Chicago as fee for financial consultation on the lease-option plan by which the firehouse will be financed.

Art-Garden Fair Plans Ballet Program Sunday

The Bay Area Ballet will be one of the varied entertainment features at this year's Marin Art and Garden Fair.

Dancers will bring "Danse Pastorale," Pas de Deux from "Don Quixote" and Act 3 of "Coppelia" to the outdoor amphitheater at the fair grounds in Ross.

Leading dancers in the production will be Irina Borowska and Alan Howard, both formerly with the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo. Miss Borowska was prima ballerina with the company.

They will appear in "Don Quixote" and have the leading rolls of Swanhilda and Franz in "Coppelia." Gracie Doty and Bradford Craig will dance the leading parts in "Danse Pastorale." Kathy Phillips of Ross, is featured in "Coppelia."

The Bay Area Ballet developed from the Marin Ballet led by Leona Norman of San Rafael. Miss Norman continues as ballet director with Carolyn Parks and Vern Nerden. Charles Orgibet is music director; Marc Wilde is artistic director.

The ballet company will appear at 8 p.m. Sunday.

Novato May Seek Road Opinion Poll

Novato city officials, fighting to re-locate Highway 101 to the east of its present route, will probably take an opinion poll to back their stand, Mayor Wayne Womack said today.

Pressed this morning on radio station KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" program on whether opposition to an eight-lane dirt-fill freeway on the present route came from a majority or minority of Novato residents, Womack said: "If it comes to it, the city of Novato will probably take a poll."

T. Fred Bagshaw, assistant state director of public works, entered a plea that "all the facts be made known" before a poll is taken.

Some of the facts presented on this morning's program by R. A. Hayler, district engineer of the California Division of Highways, were that the dirt-fill highway on the present route would cost $6,870,000 and re-routing about one mile east would cost $9,600,000.

Asked by a listener if three million dollars would outweigh the effects of dividing Novato's business district, Bagshaw replied that the state highway commission was charged by law with choosing the "most direct and most practical route." He said it was no light matter to vote on spending "three million dollars of the taxpayers' money."

The fourth panelist of the program, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, was George Barnwell, publisher of the Novato Advance, who said the city could use the space now occupied by Highway 101 as a shoppers' mall with parking for 1,000 cars.

The KTIM program will be rebroadcast by tape recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday. (See also story on page 1.)

REPRIEVE BY COURT RULING

Belvedere Must Continue Hilartia Sewer Service

Homes in the Hilarita Housing Project in Tiburon, threatened with a sewer service cutoff from today, won a reprieve yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

Judge Richard M. Sims ruled that the City of Belvedere must continue its sewer service to Hilarita Housing until March 1, 1962, or until the Hilarita lines are hooked up with facilities of Tiburon Sanitary District 5, whichever comes first.

In any event, when March 1, 1962 rolls around, Belvedere may sever lines to 120 families of Hilarita.

The judge also ordered the Marin County Housing Authority, which controls Hilarita Housing, to pay $275 per month sewer charge to Belvedere beginning July 15.

Under an agreement made in December, 1959, Belvedere was to serve Hilarita until March, 1962 for $225 per month.

Belvedere had served notice that Hilarita sewer lines would be cut off at the end of June. Guy Ciocca and Howard Morehouse, attorneys for the Housing Authority of Marin, went to court to restrain Belvedere from doing so. They contended that Hilarita homes would be made untenantable and subject to pestilence and disease if sanitary service were severed.

Both the housing authority and Belvedere agreed that after March of 1962, Hilarita will find some other method of disposing of its sewage, probably by tying in with Tiburon Sanitary District.

Twin Cities Open Registration For Summer Program

Registration opens tomorrow for the Larkspur-Corte Madera summer recreation program, director Bill Gordon announced today.

Representatives of the department will take applications at Eastman Hall at William Avenue and Holcomb Street in Larkspur from 10 a.m. until noon, and at the Neil Cummins School in Corte Madera from 1 to 3 p.m. Those unable to sign up at these times may register during the program, which begins July 5, Gordon said.

No supervision is provided for children under 5.

The program includes general sports as well as special activities with supervision and instruction. Complete program schedules are available at the city halls of Corte Madera and Larkspur.

$12,645 Pegged For Recreation

The Strawberry Recreation District adopted a $12,645 budget last night, an increase of $145 over the present year.

L. J. (Budd) Smith and Mrs. James W. Gowen were re-elected president and secretary, respectively, and sworn in by County Clerk George S. Jones for a one-year term.

A proposed bond issue to provide recreational facilities was discussed but no action taken. The meeting was recessed to July 13.

College Board May Appoint Austin Aide

A College of Marin administrative assistant—the man who will be in line to succeed President Ward H. Austin on his retirement at the end of the next school year — expected to be named tonight by the college trustees.

The successful candidate for the post will be selected from an original list of more than 90 applicants, which was reduced to seven by a screening committee headed by Marin County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis.

ALL INTERVIEWED

The seven have since been interviewed by a committee of the college board, made up of Chairman Rupert E. Kempf and trustees Elizabeth M. Deedy, Kent O. Seymour and Robert E. Oliver.

According to Mrs. Deedy, secretary of the board, the personal interviews lasted more than five hours each and covered education in general, the candidate's attitude toward the college in particular, as well as his personal "experience, philosophy and attitude."

Whenever possible, Mrs. Deedy said, the committee visited the community of the applicant.

SIX HAVE DOCTORATES

All but one of the seven, whose ages range from 34 to 58, holds a doctorate, only one of these being honorary. Their educational training is not limited to California schools and covers elementary, secondary and college experience, she said. All have been top administrators in public school systems and several have had administrative experience in the establishment or development of junior colleges.

Several of the applicants have had top-level experience in industry, Mrs. Deedy said.

In addition to tonight's adjourned meeting, the board has called a special organizational meeting for tomorrow at 11 a.m. in room 1 of Harlan Hall.

Survey Funds Assured For Flood Project

Funds for an army engineer survey on flood control of two streams flowing into Richardson Bay were assured yesterday.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel reported that Senate and House conferees agreed to retain the survey projects in a final compromise version of an omnibus Public Works Authorization Bill.

Congress is expected to finish legislative action on the measure and send it to the White House within a few days, the senator said in a telegram to the Independent-Journal.

The bill includes money for army engineer flood control study of Tamalpais Valley's Coyote Creek and Mill Valley's Arroyo Corte Madera del Presidio.

The Coyote Creek project was originally planned under the Small Project Act, which sets federal participation at a maximum of $400,000. When army engineers found that the apparent cost would be $527,000 this left a sum which Marin County has not found means to provide.

'WHITE LIES' ADMITTED

Marin Man's Divorce Suit To Be Retried

A tape-recorded admission of "white lies" at an earlier trial resulted yesterday in a court order for retrial of the divorce suit of Alan Ferber of Sausalito vs. Carol Sorkin Ferber.

The order was issued by Judge Arthur Crum of Los Angeles Superior Court after 26-year-old Mrs. Ferber played the recording in his court, reported United Press International.

The brunette divorcee, dissatisfied with terms of her divorce, turned detective. She concealed a microphone in her blouse and attached it to a tiny tape recorder in her purse. Then she went to the men's wear shop operated by Harry Ferber, her ex-husband's father, in Azusa.

She asked the elder Ferber why he and his son lied at the trial.

This was the reply Judge Crum heard from the tape recorder:

"In order to have grounds for a divorce, you have to create grounds for a divorce . . . All these things that were said were just something we were advised to say because grounds had to be created so there could be a divorce. Otherwise, there would have been none."

Objected Mrs. Ferber to her ex-father-in-law: "But there were so many lies."

"Sure, I admit it," was his reply. "They were white lies."

Judge Crum commented that the elder Ferber "virtually sticks his foot in his mouth and admits perjury."

Mrs. Ferber also told the judge that her father-in-law told her young Ferber had remarried although the interlocutory decree of divorce was not final.

Alan Ferber's telephone in Sausalito has been disconnected, and it could not be learned whether he is still residing in Marin.

House Approves Defense Measure

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House today approved a 40-billion-dollar money bill carrying $661,608,000 more than President Eisenhower requested to finance the nation's defense efforts.

The roll call vote was 402 to 5.

The measure, a compromise between differing bills originally passed by the House and Senate, was sent to the Senate where it was expected to win quick and overwhelming approval.

700 Canines Ready For Show Sunday

More than 700 entries have been received for the Sir Francis Drake Kennel Club's first annual licensed dog show and obedience trial on Sunday.

Judging will begin at 9 a. m. at Albert's Field in San Rafael.

Two Marin residents, W. E. Radtke of 214 Marinda Drive, Fairfax, and J. A. Boegman of 200 East Strawberry Drive, Mill Valley, will be among the 10 judges. Radtke will judge German shorthaired pointers and Weimaraners. Boegman will judge terriers of all descriptions: Airedale, Bedlington, Cairn, West Highland White, Smooth foxterriers, wire foxterriers, miniature Chanauzers, Kerry blue terriers, standard Manchester terriers, Scottish, Lakeland and Welsh terriers.

The dog show and obedience trial is not benched. Exhibitors need only bring their dogs to the show one hour before the scheduled time of judging.

READY FOR SHOW — Judo of Dan Bar, champion German Shepard of Mr. and Mrs. Chester C. Vargas Jr. of Belvedere, will be entered in the Sir Francis Drake Kennel Club show Sunday.

Corte Madera Doctor Heads Heart Association

Dr. Paul Kingsley of Corte Madera was named to head the Marin County Heart Assn. as president for the 1960-61 term during the association's annual dinner meeting at Rancho Rafael in Ignacio.

Elected to serve with him were A. Leonard Bjorklund, Jr., Sausalito, vice president; Mrs. Delbert Brown, San Rafael, secretary, and Charles M. Geller, San Anselmo, treasurer.

Named to serve on the heart board were Dr. Katherine Leicester, Dr. C. R. Leininger, Dr. W. Scott Polland, Chris Jenkins, Mrs. Delbert Brown and S. Ames Pence of San Rafael; Mrs. George Stapleton and Mrs. M. R. Baruh, Ross; Mrs. Walter Johnson and Geller, San Anselmo; William Everts Jr., Mill Valley, and Dr. Gerson Jacobs, Terra Linda.

Distinguished service medallions were awarded to Drs. Richard Hahn and Robert Schell for their volunteer service in organizing and conducting heart massage programs at Marin General Hospital for the past two years, during which time some 95 Marin doctors participated in learning the life-saving technique.

In the field of fund raising, recognition awards went to Bjorklund, 1960 Heart Fund chairman; William Kiehl of the Bank of America, Heart Sunday treasurer for three consecutive years; Mrs. Baruh, Heart Sunday chairman; Mrs. Richard Powell of Marinwood, Mrs. Leo Gosliner of Sleepy Hollow and Mrs. U. H. Blake of Santa Venetia for second and third year heart fund volunteer work.

Quentin Camp Escapees Caught

Shasta County sheriff's deputies yesterday caught two San Quentin Prison convicts who escaped from the prison's honor camp at Crystal Creek near Redding Sunday.

The escapees, Edward Lester Williams and Robert T. Chamberlain, were nabbed as they waled along Mule Town Road between Igo and Whiskey Town. They put up no resistance, said Associate Warden Dale B. Frady.

Frady said the convicts will be tried in Shasta County on escape charges.

Marin Cities Get $196,000 In Gasoline Tax Revenues

Marin County cities received a total of $196,297.09 in state gasoline tax revenues for city street work during the fiscal year ending today, State Highway Engineer J. C. Womack announced today.

The amount is the revenue from five-eighths of a cent per gallon out of the State gasoline taxes paid by highway users. It is apportioned by the State Division of Highways on a population basis.

Largest share in the county went to San Rafael, which received $48,826.80. San Anselmo received $33,682.96. Mill Valley, $28,516.91; Corte Madera $16,040.10; Sausalito, $15,718.15; Larkspur, $14,951.07; Fairfax, $13,807.46; Novato, $12,436.14; Ross, $7,096.82 and Belvedere, $5,220.68.

Novato was one of ten new cities incorporated during the past year to become eligible for a share of the 1959-60 apportionment.

State law requires the cities to spend at least 60 per cent of the apportionment for construction on streets included within the major street system as designated by the city council and approved by the State Department of Public Works. Up to 40 per cent may be spent for maintenance of city streets.

In all, California's 364 incorporated cities received a record total of $32,080,631 in revenues from gasoline taxes during the year, a total of $1,637,078 more than last year's record.

Cities also receive an additional allocation of state highway funds each year for engineering expenses.

Social Studies

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state board of education will meet in San Diego July 7-8 to talk about separate teaching of geography, history and government instead of the current mixing in a social studies course.

A five-year survey of social studies, recently completed, recommends keeping the integrated course but with more study of the contemporary world and fewer or no "life adjustment" features.

Sugar and tobacco are government monopolies in Iran.

Rabies Clinic Slated Tonight

A public clinic for vaccination of dogs against rabies will be held at the County Fire Department in Point Reyes Station Tuesday, from 7 to 9 p.m.

This is one of a series of dog vaccination clinics being operated by the County Health Department during June and July. A fee of $2 per dog is charged.

The County-operated clinics are provided to assist dog owners in complying with the law which requires vaccination against rabies and licensing for all dogs over four months old.

Dogs vaccinated at clinics in 1958 must be revaccinated before they can be licensed again, said Dr. Carolyn Albrecht, county health officer.

A clinic will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. tomorrow at the county firehouse, Woodacre.

Thousands Of Marinites Make Fair A Success

Tonight in Ross, the lights are on for the five-day run of the Marin Art and Garden Fair, Marin's unique county fair.

Each year we wax eloquent about what our friends and neighbors have done in the Art and Garden Center. Each year, they seem to have outdone themselves.

And it is true again this year. Everything seems prettier, and there is more of it, than ever before.

Those of our readers who have never been to the Marin Fair shouldn't go there expecting merry-go-rounds, wild horses, carnivals, professional barkers, or rows of pig displays. This is a Marin fair, designed for Marin and with the people of Marin in mind.

Not only that, but Marin people do the work of setting up the exhibits and manning the booths.

You may see your banker cooking hamburgers and an insurance executive on his hands and knees in a fuchsia exhibit. There may be a well-known authoress selling balloons or a socially prominent woman offering 50-starred flags.

Of course the works of well-known painters will be exhibited and the painters themselves often will be around somewhere, taking part in the art-in-action displays. The same may be said of the weavers, sculptors, and other artists.

Literally thousands of Marin's residents take part personally in the fair. Many of them you will see "at work," others will have completed their chores and departed.

The Marin Fair has indeed become a "county" fair, with Marin people doing a wonderful job of providing entertainment and enjoyment for other Marin people.

Truly, there is no other county fair like the Marin Art and Garden Fair. We're proud of it. We're proud of our neighbors who put it on.

And we hope you'll go to Ross this holiday weekend for a day or two of enjoyment at The Fair.

Wild English Daisies

One prolific flower in Marin gardens is the tiny English daisy. It needs little care. In fact, many people think of it as a weed and strive mightily to rid their gardens of what they consider to be a pernicious pest.

We encourage it along the walks in our yard. We like the small golden-disk centers and the multitudes of tiny white or pink petals. The plants grow about ten inches high and are covered with flowers from early spring to late autumn.

It may surprise some of those who have tried to rid their gardens of this alleged weed to learn that this wee flower is one of the kinds of English daisy which inspired great verse in such men as Burns, Shakespeare and Wordsworth.

Weeds? Perhaps. But to some people they are loveliness itself.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

HE COULDN'T RESIST $30,000

The driver of an armored car disappeared with $30,000 in cash while two other guards were delivering money to a bank in a midwest city.

He was found two hours later buying the fourth round of drinks for everyone in a tavern.

He had spent only $60 of the $30,000 by the time the three detectives caught up with him.

The 57-year-old guard had worked for the armored car service for 27 years without a blot on his record.

The only explanation he could give when arrested was: "I'm a sick man. I feel sick all over."

Company officials, happy that most of the money was recovered, were willing to forgive and forget as well as help the "sick man."

As sons of Adam, all of us are subject to human weakness. Guard yourself against the subtle beginnings of temptation by recalling that you are always in God's presence. You will rarely succumb to sinful allurements if you do.

"My soul hath stuck close to Thee: Thy right hand hath received me."

One Way To Stay On The Wagon Stay Sober At Cocktail Parties

NEW YORK (AP)—The only exercise some men get after 40 is climbing on—and falling off—the water wagon.

During these periods of temporary abstinence they avoid their former bottle buddies and usual haunts. They often don't know what to do with themselves. They feel lonely and forgotten.

There is a simple, easy cure for such a feeling. They should go to more cocktail parties.

But if you suggest this to them, they exclaim: "What! Go to a cocktail party when I'm on the wagon? Why, I'd be bored to death!"

Actually, they couldn't be wronger. For pure downright malicious pleasure you can't beat the enjoyment possible to a man who goes to a cocktail party as a tee-totaler.

When you drink at a cocktail party you are like an animal in a zoo. But when you go stone sober—and stay that way—you are a spectator at the zoo.

You stand apart, on Olympus, quietly munching antiacid tablets instead of peanuts or canapes, as the orgy unfolds.

At most cocktail parties there is usually a lion of the hour who is being feted. You note how the guests rush up to shake his hand, then grab a drink and run away — so they won't have to listen to him. Five martinis later the lion of the hour has his lonely paw around the shoulder of an imprisoned waiter and is telling him the story of his life.

The guests look like nice normal people when they arrive. Two hours later they look as if they had weathered a hurricane, which is about what they have done.

That sweet young girl, who swam in as pretty as a mermaid, now appears to have crashed into a coral reef.

The dignified middle-aged matron wears the air of a charlady on a bender.

Her pompous husband teeters in a corner, trying to ambush every passing woman under 80.

All the chins that came in held so high now are slack-jawed and sunken. The faces so human are like pagan gargoyles, with jaws endlessly wagging.

The conversation that began in monosyllabic inanities has progressed to polysyllabic absurdities.

You reach under the table, shake the host's hand and assure him, "I never had a better time in my life."

Nothing gives a man a smugger feeling of total virtue than to attend a cocktail party as a wide-eyed teetotaler.

SOVIET UNION REVISITED—II

Consumers Realize They're Way Behind

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

An enterprising Muscovite, with an eye to a quick ruble, looks at your suit with undisguised admiration. He runs his fingers over the material with appropriate exclamations of approval.

"Want to sell it?" he asks, apparently willing to buy your clothing right off your back.

Do you have an American ballpoint pen? A West European wristwatch? What do you have? The young hustler is in a buying mood and will pay well. There's a big market for quality in the Soviet Union. He can resell at a spanking profit.

SOVIET AUTHORITIES have tried to discourage this sort of thing, but it persists and grows as tournists flood into Moscow.

This is called dealing "na lyevo"—on the left. It reflects the Soviet hunger for better consumer goods. And it underscores some serious domestic Soviet problems.

The Communists have been unable to escape the laws of supply and demand. The Soviet regime frequently has had to resort to spy scares and noisy belligerence to divert the attention of its public.

Soviet communism's problem is that the nation's domestic economy is perpetually frozen. Something similar might be the case for Americans if wartime price controls and priorities had become permanent fixtures in peacetime—an economy of shortages.

KHRUSHCHEV'S regime is harassed by a constantly recurring problem of inflation. Money accumulates in the pockets of better-paid Soviet citizens, without goods in the stores to match it.

The experience is not new in the U.S.S.R. It happened in Stalin's time, too. He dealt with it, occasionally, with sudden relaxations, and sometimes by suddenly changing the value of money.

Premier Khrushchev, too, is about to revalue the ruble, although he has given forewarning. The process begins in January, when rubles in circulation will be exchanged, 1 new ruble for 10 old.

Basically, what has happened has been a wage inflation. It resulted from the programs of Stalin's immediate successor, Premier Georgi Malenkov.

THESE PROGRAMS were first denounced and then adopted by Khrushchev. They involve higher prices for collective farm products, raises in minimum wages, pensions, the end of enforced loans to the state.

The revalution will not reflect the real worth of the ruble. On Moscow's streets today, a visitor who risks running afoul the law can buy 40 rubles for a dollar. The official rate is four to the dollar. The tourist rate 10 to the dollar.

What happens to dollars purchased on the black market is anybody's guess, but the practice is commonplace in the Soviet capital.

The average Soviet wage still hovers in the neighborhood of 700 rubles monthly. At the tourist rate, that would be $70, but it is worth a bit less in actual purchasing power. Prices for clothing, household goods and thing affected by seasonal shortages remain extremely high.

A two-pound cabbage, for example, as of June 12 cost 15 rubles—the tourist rate equivalent of $1.50 — and cabbage is a Russian staple.

AT THE SAME time, the Soviet citizen has more in his pockets now that he has been accustomed to having. And while the average wage remains low, many are paid well.

The money competes for scarce quality goods. Many a citizen is willing to pay under the counter to have his name moved up on the waiting list for something like a television set.

When the pressure gets too great, the government adopts measures to let off steam. This requires companion preventive measures and a strong hand at the helm to keep consumers from running away with the economy.

ONE SAFETY measure is ADD—edit—RED Consensus.. the often used spy scare. In this respect the American spyplane incident of May 1 and the noise raised about it by the Communist leadership take on added significance. The enemy is pictured as at the door, menacing the state, so patriotic Soviet citizens can more reasonably be asked to be patient regarding their private complaints.

The pressure on the Kremlin is not revolutionary, but it is steady and nagging. Counter pressure by some Communist party elements on Khrushchev also is noticeable, and once again he likely will have to tell the public to deter its dreams.

KHRUSHCHEV'S promises of better living generated much optimism among the average Russians. But skeptics who have been through it all before expect strong measures once again, with dangerous international tensions as the excuse.

On the whole, an American in Moscow feels that the hungers of the Soviet consumer public are a token of shame for Soviet communism: that for all the U.S.S.R.'s vaunted might and scientific spectacles, for all its abundance of natural riches, it remains in many respects a backward nation, far behind the standards of much weaker neighbors to the west.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Butterflies Were 'Tortoise Shell'

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Having collected lepidoptera (a family hobby) and the raising of several species for many years, read with interest your editorial (June 27) regarding the "Hordes of Brown Butterflies."

Believe what you are referring to is called the California Tortoise Shell (Aglais californica).

We, too, last week had a swarm, which we believe were the same reported seen in Kentfield, almost completely covering a tree in our yard. And while up around Mt. Shasta several years ago, while hiking through a manzanita meadow, we were practically "attacked" by what seemed to us millions of these creatures.

Quoting from the book "Butterflies of California" by Comstock:

"The California Tortoise-Shell is a common insect in the mountains, and is distributed over a wide area west of the Rockies. In certain seasons it appears in such tremendous numbers as to cause a complete defoliation of the wild lilac over tensive areas. When this occurs a swarming and migrating instinct seems to take possession of the butterflies and they travel for great distances. It is an interesting sight to witness one of these movements. Such a migration was observed in the Tahoe region some years ago. The flight was continuous for a period of three days. More than 50 butterflies were taken with a single stroke of the net, at a point where they were passing between two bushy obstructions."

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Deborah Kerr and David Niven co-starred in a motion picture some time ago, and discovered that as children in England they had lived within a few miles of each other. While waiting for new scenes to be set up (there is almost as much time spent sitting around and waiting for something to happen in movie making as there is in active service in the army), Miss Kerr and Niven fell to playing an almost-forgotten game with old London music hall gags. Miss Kerr would call out in a cockney accent, "Say something soft and sweet." Niven would oblige with "Rice pudding!" Or niven would begin, "My father has no nose at all." Miss Kerr, on cue, would exclaim, "Fancy that! How does he smell?" "Awful," Niven would admit.

Fortunately, about this time the director would call, "Everybody on the set," and the game was over.

Father Of Judge Hopes To Waken America From 'Frittering Fifties'

A July 4 explosion from Tiburon Peninsula may rock the whole nation.

That's the hope of the fuse-toucher, a puckish party with a bald dome—hitherto known to Marin only as father of Judge David R. Baty of Northwest Marin Judicial District. Otherwise, he is a retired Chicago banker.

The judge's dad is currently in contempt of 'most everything and will express himself freely in a book to be published Monday by Viking Press of New York under the title "Citizen Abroad."

EBEN NEAL BATY'S volume was accepted only May 16 and rushed on a crash program to combat what its author terms "that false security today threatening America almost more than thermonuclear weapons."

Something of a fanner of the flames of discontent myself, I take a dim view of many competitors who tend to be bombastic windbags different, naturally, from me.

But Baty clearly has something to say, starting with—"When you're satisfied, put in a call to the undertaker!" He approves Fred Bonfil's slogan, "There is no hope for the satisfied man."

Baty thinks that his native land slumbered through what he calls the "frittering fifties" and is now iniquitously satisfied with mediocrity, all the way from the schoolhouse to the White House.

WE ARE DOPED, says he trenchantly, with a narcotic prosperity. We're all hopped up with self-righteousness.

This merry Andrew is so loaded with general goodwill that it must have been some time before his gorge began to rise in the course of an eight-month freighter cruise from his Paradise Cove home through 23 countries.

But soon he began to realize that foreigners were hating us, and not just for Moscow hire; plenty were glad to do it for free. Baty wanted to see ourselves as others saw us, and to them, we were Smug—cap S.

"That's why, finally, I wrote my first book and I hope my last," says Baty. "I tried to mix an anti-tranquilizer pill between covers. It's high time we saw our own faults, all too visible to everybody else.

"Constantly the international waters grow more troubled, the rocks ahead more jagged, yet no one charts our course. That includes Mr. Eisenhower whom I helped nominate, but lived to regret it."

"AS RECENTLY as two years ago there was little anti-Americanism in Japan," notes Baty. "Today, obviously, there is a tremendous amount. We do ourselves great disservice by glibly explaining it's 'Kremlin-inspired.'

"Of course there were Communists among those thousands of snake-dancing students, those unionites, those tens of thousands of oldsters belonging to no union. Communists lose no chance to fish in troubled waters.

"Our U2 fiasco and other tragic mistakes have created troubled waters for Americans almost everywhere. But attempting to catalog 300,000 marching Japanese as Kremlin stooges is just one of our retreats from reality."

BATY GAZED on his sixty-third birthday yesterday at a red, white and blue dust-cover for his Fourth of Julk book. I tactlessly mentioned Dr. Johnson's crack about patriotism being the last refuge of the scoundrel.

"Just what I think!" beamed Baty. "I've been called half-witted too because when I retired I went to Los Angeles and it took me a year before I saw the light of Marin.

"A banker friend told me I couldn't have all my sense or this wouldn't have taken me more than a week, or two at most.

"Well, I waked up and I hope to wake up a lot of my fellow-Americans from their slumbers during our just-past Decade of Decline. It's not too late—yet."

Labor Gives Testimonial Dinner For Republican Office Holder

WASHINGTON—The interests of American labor have never been better represented in government than during the six-year tenure of James P. Mitchell in the Eisenhower administration.

Partisanship and presidential politics aside, the labor leaders gave almost unanimous evidence of their high regard for Mitchell with the testimonial dinner in Washington last night, sponsored by the combined union movement, including the C.I.O.-A.F. of L. and the United Mine Workers.

U. S. labor leaders are rarely united on anything. They are completely united in paying this tribute to Mitchell.

THERE IS NO political purpose in this gathering of some 500 leaders of the labor union movement to express their appreciation for his public service. Though not one of their own—like Martin Durkin—Mitchell has proved an able spokesman for, but not a prisoner of organized labor.

Nearly all of his hosts will be supporting the 1960 Democratic presidential nominee a month hence. On this occasion they will be acknowledging the fairness and the effectiveness of Secretary Mitchell, who is working for the nomination of Vice President Nixon.

Mitchell would himself not be averse to being Nixon's running mate and it is known that this would give President Eisenhower no pain.

OTHER THAN Atty. Gen. William Rogers, no one has worked more intimately with the Vice President than Secretary Mitchell. They have been close allies in the administration. Together they negotiated the settlement of the steel strike last fall. They have developed great respect for each other.

The labor movement's testimonial dinner does not imply political support for Secretary Mitchell if he becomes the Republican vice presidential candidate. He would be entirely on his own.

It is Mitchell's foremost conviction that U. S. unions must do more than they have thus far in seeing that their own interests are parallel with the public interest.

"TOO MANY LABOR leaders," Mitchell told me on one occasion, "tend to make the same mistake which many industrialists made a half-century ago when their attitude was interpreted as being — 'The public be damned'."

Mitchell is not suggesting in the last that labor's national role should be narrowed, but rather that its national responsibility should be equal to its power. What he is saying is that he would like to see labor more consistently and, symbolically, accept the motto that "what's good for the nation is good for labor" —rather than vice versa.

'More Able Learners' Due Special Program

A program for pupils considered the "more able learners" will begin next year in the San Rafael School District, probably, at first, in grades four, five and six.

Dr. Mildred Barnard, assistant superintendent in charge of elementary instruction, and Robert Shore, rapid learner consultant, discussed plans for these pupils Tuesday night with the board of education.

Just what form the program will take has not yet been determined. Shore first will spend at least a semester in the district, becoming acquainted, verifying the screening of children, and generally "feeling his way around."

He already is working with children in the summer school, however, "putting into action some things we are going to do in the whole district," Shore said. One of these is fostering the "scientific method of thinking." He hopes to have a science fair at the end of the summer session.

Dr. Barnard explained that about a year ago the administrative staff decided to study what was being done elsewhere for the "more able learners."

They decided, after study, that the program begun here must be tailored for San Rafael. They also decided there was no one criterion for identifying these children. Intelligence quotient is not enough, Dr. Barnard said. Their purpose and goals, their "ideal qualities" and their handicaps or shortcomings need to be looked at, she said.

Dr. Barnard observed that teacher judgment is an excellent place to begin in identification of the more able group. Standardized tests are helpful, and social leadership is considered.

"We need to determine how to detect the gifted earlier. There must be a way to do it at the kindergarten level," Dr. Barnard said.

Four committees are working on the program. One will concentrate on identification of the "more able learners"; one on "aims and objectives;" one on "plans and procedures," and another on lang range planning.

The administrative committee agreed that "more able learners" was the best title for the program, and that it probably should begin in grades 4, 5 and 6. Later it could operate also on the junior high level.

"Teachers in kindergarten through grade 3 should not be discouraged if they want help," Dr. Barnard said.

An advisory committee will work with Shore to help get the program under way.

Shore told the board there were three main types of programs: segregated, non-segregated and accelerated. The latter, in which grades are skipped, is not recommended, he said.

He has worked three years with a segregated program in Castro Valley and two years with a non-segregated program in Kentfield where the "more able" youngsters have been given special attention in their regular classrooms.

The chief advantage of a program where these children are segregated is that "you get to the immediate needs of the gifted children," Shore said. Many activities are possible that are not carried on in regular classrooms.

Classes Start Tomorrow In Sausalito

Summer school for students in the Sausalito School District will begin tomorrow and continue through July 29.

Classes will be conducted Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. All children in the first seven grades who have registered will be eligible to attend.

Robert D. Thomson, principal of Richardson Bay School, where classes will be held, said the program will be essentially the same as in the regular school session.

Fernando Silva, foreign language instructor, will conduct a class in Spanish. Mrs. Jane Pokorny will have classes in instrumental and vocal music.

No transportation will be provided.

Navy Captain Retires Today

A 27-year naval career ends today for Capt. George P. Unmacht of 210 Manor Drive, Mill Valley.

Captain Unmacht retires as chief of staff to Rear Adm. Eugene B. McKinney, commander of Military Sea Transportation Service, Pacific Area, at Fort Mason.

A graduate of the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., Captain Unmacht has an outstanding World War II record.

He holds the Silver Star and two Bronze Stars.

Jerry Livingston, composer of "Mairzy Doats"and other hit songs, was born in Denver.

Sausalito Fireworks Scheduled

The Sausalito Lions Club will stage its annual aerial fireworks display at 9 p.m. Monday.

"Safe and sane" fireworks, such as sparklers and roman candles, were put on sale yesterday at Shell Beach on the Sandspit. A percentage of the profits go to the Lions Club, according to Fire Chief Mathew J. (Matts) Perry.

Perry, a member of the Lions Club, said today that persons wishing to set off "safe and sane" fireworks may do so Monday between 6:30 and 11 p.m. on the Sandspit.

He said that people will be allowed to fire them during the organized 50-minute aerial show. This show, sponsored by the Lions, will be handled by Sausalito firemen, who will do the shooting. An ambulance and a fire truck will be at hand in case of any accident, Perry said.

Perry added that "absolutely, there will be no firing of firecrackers." And, he said, no one is to use any fireworks anyplace in Sausalito outside of the Sandspit nor any time except the designated hours.

Parking meters in New York City add revenue of about 7 million dollars annually.

RESERVIST COMMANDER —Maj. Joseph B. Goff will succeed Lt. Col. Robert P. Smith as commanding officer of Volunteer Training Unit 12-44, Marin Corps Reserve, Kentfield. Major Goff, assistant superintendent of Dixie School District, lives at 791 Las Colindas Road, San Rafael, with his wife and four children.

20,000 Barrels Of Whiskey Burn

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP) — Lightning set fire to a distillery warehouse today, destroying the storage building and 20,000 barrels of whiskey.

The fire broke out at the Medley Distilling Co. during a morning thunderstorm that later moved eastward across Kentucky. The building flamed intensely as barrel after barrel of newly distilled whiskey burst.

Quake Relief Put To Use By Chileans

Clothing gathered by Sausalito and throughout the Bay Area and sent to Chile for victims of the earthquake and tidal wave has been received and put to good use.

This word has been received by Mrs. M. Justin Herman, chairman of the Sausalito people-to-people program. Mrs. Herman said that clothing was flown to Chile by Pan-American World Airways and was received in the city of Valdivia and "put to immediate and good use."

She said, too, that Sausalito Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. has received a letter from the mayor of Sausalito's sister city, Vina Del Mar.

The letter, from Gustavo Lorca Rojas, said: "The sister city of Vina Del Mar and myself thank you for the deep sympathy in the tragedy that has overcome the south of Chile.

"We hope with God's mercy, and the wonderful help of our neighbor countries, and in a very excelling way yours, and your efficient and brotherly people who have been the first to come in our aid, to be able to rebuild new cities out of the disastrous ruins. Vina Del Mar has not suffered with the earthquakes, and is helping in every way to assist our brothers in misfortune."

Party To Raise Funds For New Paperbacks

A party will be held at the "Bar With No Name" in Sausalito from 8 to 12 p.m. tomorrow to raise funds for "Contact" magazine, which plans to publish three paperback books this fall.

Karl Herreshoff will play the guitar. The staff of Contact, which is published in Sausalito, and Bay Area literary personalities will attend, according to Neil Davis, new owner of the bar. The party is open to the public.

CAPITOL COLUMNS — NOW AND THEN

Discoverer Fails To Go Into Orbit

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (AP)—The latest Discoverer rocket failed to go into orbit and destroyed itself in a flaming plunge into the earth's atmosphere, the Air Force said today.

The Discoverer XII was fired yesterday.

Air Force scientists worked through the night to pinpoint the spot where the rocket fell—and determine, if possible, why it didn't orbit.

It was intended to circle the earth on a north-south polar orbit and then, after 17 trips, to drop an instrument-loaded capsule into a target area in Hawaiian waters.

Regulations Announced On Trust Investments

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — New regulations to control the so-called "10 per cent" trust deed investment companies were announced yesterday by John G. Sobieski, California Commissioner of Corporations.

The commissioner announced that the regulations, which will go into effect July 29, followed public hearings held in Sacramento, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The regulations provide that companies pooling second trust deed funds and issuing certificates against these pools must have reserves protecting their investors.

Every company shall be required to maintain at all times a ratio of capital to aggregate liability of not less than 1 to 10 for the first three million dollars.

The commissioner also ruled that every company must maintain a net worth equal to its capitalization.

Among the ground rules proposed by the commissioner was one requiring that "promotional" second deeds of trust must not make up more than 5 per cent of the deeds of trust in the fund of the company.

Promotional deeds of trust are those on bare land backed by building plans or contracts. Such deeds of trust are the backbone of subdivision developments.

Second deeds of trust must have a cost to the company which does not exceed either the unpaid balance of the principal and interest owing; or the unpaid balance plus the balance owing on prior liens shall not exceed the following percentages:

Of 92 per cent of the appraised value of single family dwellings; of 90 per cent of the appraised value of residential income property; or of 85 per cent of the appraised value of commercial or industrial property.

School Board Meeting

An adjourned meeting of the Mill Valley School District board is scheduled tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the district office at 26 Miller Avenue.

TRADING STAMP LAW EFFECTIVE TOMORROW

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A new law goes into effect tomorrow giving customers the right to ask for cash or merchandise when they redeem books full of trading stamps.

The measure, passed by the 1959 legislature, was designed to prevent companies from redeeming books only with merchandise or from issuing stamps and then refusing to redeem them at all.

State consumer counsel Helen Nelson of Mill Valley said trading stamps must henceforth show their actual cash value along with the name of the company that issued them.

She explained that under the new law trading stamp companies must post a bond of $25,000 to $100,000—depending on volume of business—with the commissioner of corporations. Should the company refuse to redeem its stamps, the commissioner may then file a claim on behalf of the person holding them.

Underground Blasts Rock Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Five underground explosions beneath Public Square shook downtown Cleveland last night. The blasts cut off electric power to nearby buildings, flipped manhole covers into the air and smashed several plate glass windows.

The only injury was to a man who suffered minor cuts from flying glass.

The explosions were triggered when gas and air—heated by smoldering insulation covering high-power underground cables—came in direct contact with cool air from the street.

Thick black smoke poured from a dozen manholes and flames spouted 15 feet high from one of them.

Vehicles and pedestrians, endangered by the flying manhole covers, were cleared from the square. Buses were rerouted for nearly three hours. Sixty extra policemen were assigned to the busy hub of downtown Cleveland.

South Carolina has an area of 30,000 square miles.

NEA Elects New President

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A schoolteacher who has spared the rod in 27 years of teaching takes over as titular head of the world's largest professional organization Friday.

Miss Clarice Kline will assume the presidency of the National Education Assn. and its 714,000 members on the final day of the NEA's 98th annual convention.

Miss Kline is convinced that high school students are just about the best people there are. She should know; she has taught them 27 years.

"They are smart and poised, they know what they want, and they are aware of their responsibilities," she said in an interview. "I've never had to take a ruler to one yet."

For the next 12 months, Miss Kline will be on leave from her duties as social studies teacher at Waukesha, Wis., High School. She expects to visit all 50 states, as well as Europe, and will log more than 120,000 miles of travel.

Grace Sweeps Aside Queries On Report Of Marital Rift

NEW YORK (UPI) — Princess Grace of Monaco regally swept aside reporters at Idlewild Airport today when they tried to question her about reports there is marital trouble in the Monacan Palace.

"I really don't have time," she said as she brushed past inquiring newsmen.

A spokesman for the postage stamp principality said reports of trouble between Princess Grace and Prince Rainier were "utterly ridiculous."

The Prince, arriving at the airport for an earlier flight to Paris, was equally casual in dismissing the report.

"You read the columns," he said to a reporter who asked for comment. "I don't."

The story had said the Princess was "angry" because the Prince had made her return home while her father, the late John B. Kelly, was ill. Grace had arrived here May 31 to see her ailing father. She returned home two weeks later. The Prince and the Princess flew here June 21 for her father's funeral.

The departure on separate planes aroused some comment today until a spokesman for the public relations firm representing Monaco pointed out that the Prince was flying to Paris on business, while the Princess was returning directly home to her children.

Marcel Palmaro, Monacan consul general in New York, noted that the Prince and Princess usually avoid flying on the same plane "for the children's sake"—implying that their separate flights are to avoid the possibility of an air crash killing both parents.

They broke their rule when they flew here together for the funeral, he said, because there was an emergency.

S.F. Seeks Title Go: Fullmer Vs. Giambra

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) —The National Boxing Assn., world middleweight crown was still in Gene Fullmer's hands today after he stopped challenger Carmen Basilio in 2:54 of the 12th round in a bruising battle last night.

Fullmer's manager, Marv Jenson, today dismissed Basilio as a contender and said he has a $100,000 offer for his battler to meet Joey Giambra next.

Jenson said Matchmaker Benny Ford made the big-money bid for a Fullmer-Giambra match in San Francisco and that fights with Paul Pender or Ray Robinson were possible.

Basilio, enraged when the fight was stopped, pushed the referee, threatened to punch him and claimed he was the victim of a home town decision.

Fullmer, the 29-year-old West Jordan, Utah, mink rancher, was in charge from the beginning and was ahead on every card when the end came. Judge Del Markham and Referee Pete Giacoma had Fullmer ahead 108-102, Judge Bob Yocum saw it 109-101 and The Associated Press 108-101.

In winning the nationally televised bout, Fullmer extended his record to 52 victories. He has lost three and had one draw. Basilio is 54-15-7.

Basilio weighed 156½, the heaviest of his career, Fullmer 159¼.

Basilio, both eyes cut, his face swollen and wicked-looking welts on his body, delivered some angry blasts at everyone connected with the fight when it was over. He excepted Fullmer.

"Gene and I are good friends, but this Utah Athletic Commission belongs to Jenson," he charged.

"And that referee. He never should have stopped it. He could see the handwriting on the wall."

Did he mean he would have won had the fight continued?

"Sure," he snapped.

Basilio might have been hard pressed to find many in the crowd of 10,500 who would agree.

The battered ex-champion from Chittenango, N.Y., was obviously hurt by heavy Fullmer lefts to the body and right shots to the face. Bleeding, reeling around and holding on in the 12th, it appeared the end was near, one way or another.

Referee Giacoma of suburban Murray, Utah, who was working his first big fight, decided Basilio had had enough and stopped it.

As early as the end of the first round Fullmer had raised welts on Basilio's body. Carmen's face was red and started to swell by the third. Both fighters sustained eye cuts that bled freely in the middle rounds. Jenson was able to patch up Fullmer but Basilio's damage worsened.

There were no knockdowns, but in the eighth Fullmer crashed into Basilio as he was going away and Carmen went flat on his back, came up on his shoulder, then back on his feet again like a seasoned tumbler.

Fullmer, scarcely marked, told reporters he was surprised at Carmen's "lack of aggressiveness." Basilio saw it another way: "He (Fullmer) didn't want to make a fight of it."

Scheffing, Stanky, Gordon Leading Derby For Giant Manager's Post

CONNOLLY

Not so long ago Horace Stoneham, owner of the Giants, didn't know for sure whether he should re-hire Bill Rigney as the 1960 manager of his ball club.

There were a few violent antagonists against Rigney's re-appointment.

But Stoneham himself led the Putsch for Rigney. Soft-hearted Horace can flop with the facility of a traffic light going from red to green. So he switched to re-hiring Rigney in spite of vehement opposition. He decided, with his usual easy sense of candor, to kick over the traces and shoot the works for Rigney. It seemed to us, at the time, to be a twisted and whimsical reasoning on Stoneham's part. And as events turned out, Stoneham wound up by tying the "can" to the guy he didn't want to hire in the first place.

Today the Giant owner is debating on the successor to Rigney. He is torn between the choice of Eddie Stanky of the St. Louis Cardinal chain; Bob Scheffing, former manager of Chicago's Cubs and now coach of the Milwaukee Braves, and Joe Gordon, present manager of the Cleveland club.

FROM AUTHORITATIVE sources I am told that Scheffing is likely to plop into the job before the Giants return home from their present road trip.

Scheffing has the inside track because he is a grand person, baseball wise, young enough to handle youngsters and certainly on the same social plane as Boss Stoneham.

If my fran Lefty O'Doul is out like a light, I can think of no one more deserving of a chance than Scheffing. He has what it takes. He didn't get quite a fair shake with the Cubs, although he left them with the finest of separation papers. It was a friendly divorce, a mutual disagreement.

YOU HAVE to do a little scampering around to get the lowdown on what's happening in your own backyard. For instance, at Monterey over the weekend we were told that Charley Harney was going to sue the City of San Francisco and if he didn't get paid off, close down the ball park to the Giants.

At Santa Cruz, the thinking is that Clancy Sheehan will stay on the job another couple weeks and turn over the reins to either Scheffing or Gordon. The only hitch in that thinking is that Gordon is with the Cleveland Indians and might not get away until the season ends.

BUT ANYONE who thinks Stoneham is about to re-hire Bill Rigney had better switch tracks.

Rigney, as far as the Giants are concerned, is as dead as yesterday's newspapers.

O'Doul is "out" because Stoneham feels a "pub owner" isn't exactly the guy to snap the boys out of their doldrums; Durocher is out because he wants stock certificates in lieu of pay.

Those opposed to Stanky do not think he did any great job with the Cardinals when he was boss.

So there you have it, all the way from Carmel to San Rafael.

And the information is free.

British Champs Upset In Wimbledon Semis

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) —Maria Bueno, top-seeded defending champion from Brazil, and Sandra Reynolds, the South Africa tennis champion, gained the women's singles final today at the Wimbledon Championships by defeating England's Christine Truman and Ann Haydon on the center court.

Miss Bueno, the slender brunette who won the United States crown at Miss Truman's expense last year after becoming the Wimbledon champion, defeated the six-foot English blonde, 6-0, 5-7, 6-1. Miss Reynolds, who bowed in last year's semi-finals to Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., ousted Miss Haydon, 6-3, 2-6, 6-4.

It was a historic occasion for veteran Wimbledon observers in the crowd of more than 15,000 that packed the center court stands and standing terraces. There were no United States players in the women's semi-finals for the first time since before World War II.

No Americans survived the men's or women's singles quarter-finals.

Karen Hantze of San Diego and Janet Hopps of Seattle reached the women's doubles semi-finals by ousting Sheila Armstrong and Deidre Catt of Britain, 8-6, 6-3. The Misses Hantze and Hopps next meet top seeded Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., and Miss Bueno.

N.Y. Grid Giants Sue Chargers For 250 Gs

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The New York Giants of the National Football League, who recently lost one Federal Court suit to prevent Mississippi star Charley Flowers from playing for the Los Angeles Chargers, filed a new one here yesterday.

The new action charges conspiracy and asks $250,000 damages from the Chargers of the new American Football League.

Nancy Swadesh Gets Demo Post

Mrs. Nancy Swadesh of Mill Valley was named yesterday to the platforms and resolutions committee at the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles starting July 11.

The appointment was made in Washington by Sen. Clair M. Engle, chairman of the California delegation, as he made delegate assignments to the four major convention committees.

Only one other California delegate, Rep. Chet Holifield of Montebello, was named to the committee with Mrs. Swadesh.

No Marinites were assigned to the other three committees.

BIG TWI-NIGHTER

Mac And Sanford Vs. Mizell, Friend

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates attempt to salvage the major portion of their crucial three-game series tonight when they meet in a scheduled twi-night doubleheader. Rain postponed last night's contest. A crowd of more than 20,000 waited patiently for an hour and 20 minutes before the contest finally was called without players ever taking the field.

A late curfew halted Tuesday's opener with the squads deadlocked, 7-7, after nine innings.

San Francisco's Mike McCormick (9-3) and Wilmer Mizell (4-4), slated to hurl last night, also are on tab tonight. Jack Sanford (6-5) is Giant Manager Tom Sheehan's choice in the nightcap against Bob Friend (9-4).

San Francisco remained in third place, six games behind the league-leading Pirates as runnerup Milwaukee lost a temporary chance to advance by splitting a doubleheader with Chicago. The Braves are two and one-half games back.

Sheehan last night defended his use of Sanford, along with two other starters, for relief duty in Tuesday's affair.

"This is the club we have to beat. I'd sooner beat them once than the Phillies twice," the skipper said. The Giants go to Philadelphia next.

'The Man' Acting Like Kid Again

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Stan "The Man" Musial is nearing 40 and has been riding the bench much of this season. But since returning to the starting lineup Saturday he's been acting like a youngster.

Last night Musial singled home the first two St. Louis runs and stroked a double in a 2-4 evening during which the Cardinals downed the Cincinnati Reds 5-2 and moved back into fourth place in the National League.

Sizzling Injuns Move Up In A.L.

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Since the start of the season, New York Yankee scouts have been whispering "watch the Orioles" into Casey Stengel's elephant-sized ears. But Ole Case and the rest of the Yankees had better start worrying about the Cleveland Indians. For while the Orioles are showing signs of skidding, the Indians are flying.

The Tribe, behind the six-hit pitching of rookie southpaw Dick Stigman, bounced back into second place in the American League race last night by handing Baltimore its third straight defeat, 5-3. The loss dropped the Orioles into third place by a single percentage point.

Cleveland now has won seven of its last nine games, but over that period Manager Joe Gordon has gotten only two route-going jobs from his prized pitching staff. And both of those efforts were turned in by Stigman, who stopped the Yankees with a four-hitter last week-end.

In his latest outing against the Orioles, Stigman was bothered by wildness, walking six while fanning five. But he permitted only one hit over the last three innings and was aided by three double plays.

Stigman, who earned a promotion to the Indians this year although he lost 17 games at San Diego in 1959, helped his own cause in the fourth inning with a key two-run single off loser Jerry Walker.

MARIS BELTS TWO

Two home runs by Roger Maris helped the Yankees to a 10-0 victory over the Kansas City Athletics and Ted Williams unloaded a 430-foot, two-run homer to give the Boston Red Sox a 4-2 triumph over the Detroit Tigers in other A.L. action. Rain washed out the Chicago at Washington night game.

Both of Maris' homers against the Athletics came with a man on base and raised his major league-leading total to 24. Jim Coates allowed only three singles in scoring his ninth consecutive victory of the season and his 13th in a row over two seasons.

Williams' homer at Boston was his 12th of the season and the 504th of his career, leaving him only seven behind Mel Ott's lifetime total. Russ Nixon also hit a two-run homer for the Red Sox, who broke a five-game losing streak.

Are Olympics Worth It? Rome Frets

ROME (AP) — Many Romans are beginning to wonder if the Olympics are worth all the trouble.

For three days recently most of them were without water.

For months traffic has been snarled, and the chances are it will get worse before it gets better.

And now many store owners are beginning to wonder if the Olympics will really make their cash registers ring.

It's not that Italians aren't proud and happy to be hosts to the summer games, starting in Rome Aug. 25. The great majority are right proud of it.

Their desire to put on a good show—and avoid any embarrassing predicaments—is at the root of the second thoughts.

For example, Rome faced a possible water shortage at the height of the games—in torrid August—because of the demands for water at the Olympic Village and the Olympic swimming pools.

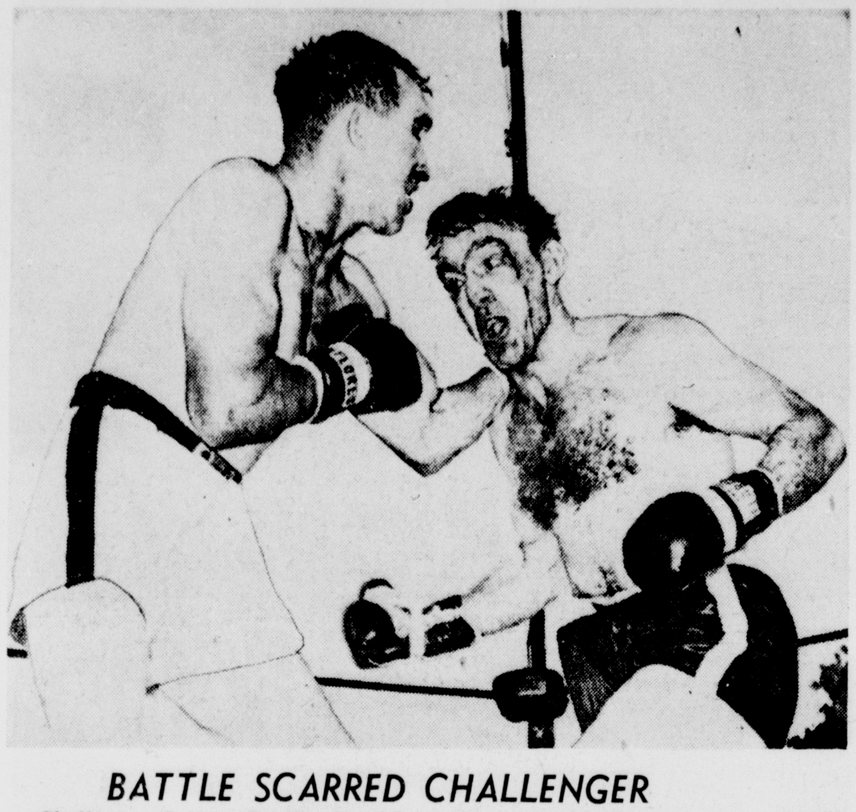
WATER WOES

So the water company rushed completion of its new plant. Several days ago all water was turned off for two days while the company switched from the old system to the new one.

Then water was off an extra day because of breakdowns in the new system.

Automobile traffic is another headache. For months streets have been torn up as city authorities re-paved and widened them, and built underpasses. Officials said Rome's traffic was bad enough, and that the expected Olympic traffic made the repairs a necessary nuisance.

Last week the experts grappling with the traffic problem launched a new system of one-way streets around Piazza Venezia in central Rome. Traffic was more jammed than ever. Now they plan to modify the one-way streets and experiment some more.



BATTLE SCARRED CHALLENGER

Challenger Carmen Basilio showed the scars of his futile attempt to capture Gene Fullmer's middleweight championship last night at Salt Lake City. Photo shows blood streaming down the challenger's face shortly before the referee stopped the punishment and awarded Fullmer a technical knockout victory. Story on page 13. (AP Wirephoto)

McDaniel Compiling Great Mound Mark For Cardinals

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

No one's calling the St. Louis Cardinals cheap, you understand, but they set aside just one locker in the clubhouse for more than half of their pitching staff. It's the one with Lindy McDaniel's name on it.

The lean right-hander has figured in 17 of their 33 victories—saving 14 and winning three. And he's streaking along with an 0.64 earned run average, allowing just three runs in 42⅓ innings of relief.

The one-time $50,000 bonus kid hung up his seventh consecutive save last night, nailing rookie Ray Sadecki's second major league victory in a 5-2 decision over Cincinnati that put the Cards back in fourth place in the National League race.

The second place Milwaukee Braves, 2½ games out of the lead, split a doubleheader with the last place Chicago Cubs. The Braves lost the opener 3-2 then won the second game 3-1. First place Pittsburgh and San Francisco were rained out.

Los Angeles tied Cincinnati for fifth place by sweeping Philadelphia 6-3 and 5-2 in a twi-night doubleheader.

Stan Musial, bouncing back from the bench after a long slump singled home the Cards' first two runs in the third off loser Jay Hook (6-7).

A pinch single by Bob Will won the first game for the Cubs, tagging rookie Ron Piche (2-3) with the loss in relief of Bob Buhl. Southpaw Dick Ellsworth (4-5) won it.

The Braves had only five hits in the second game, but three of them were homers, two by Joe Adcock. After Hank Aaron hit his 18th home run in the second inning, Adcock broke a 1-1 tie with a fourth-inning shot off loser Bob Anderson (2-5), then hit his 11th of the year in the ninth off reliever Don Elston. Joey Jay (2-2) won it.

Rookie Frank Howard hit his 10th homer and drove in three runs for the Dodgers in the first game, driving in the winner in a two-run eighth with his second single. Larry Sherry (6-4) won it in relief of Don Drysdale. Dick Farrell (5-2) was the loser in relief.

Winner Sandy Koufax (3-8) and reliever Ed Roebuck held the Phils to four hits in the second game. A four-run fourth beat Gene Conley (3-4). Johnny Roseboro singled the winning run across after Norm Larker extended his hitting streak to 14 games with a two-run single.

The four Dodger pitchers, who stopped Pancho Herrera's hit streak at 20 games, fanned 24, tying the major league record for a double header.

Duck Hunters To Meet Tomorrow

Duck Hunters of Marin and members of the Marin Rod and Gun Club have been called to a special meeting tomorrow night to discuss plans for Ducks Unlimited activities for the 1960 season.

President Peter Bertoni announced the meeting will be held at the MRGC clubhouse, Pt. San Quentin, starting at 8 o'clock.

Man Guilty In Attempted Baseball 'Fix'

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A former night club manager convicted of offering Philadelphia Phillies pitcher Humberto Robinson $1,500 to throw a game last season was free on $15,000 bail today pending action on his plea for a new trial.

A jury of seven men and five women found Harold Friedman, 43, guilty in less than 30 minutes of deliberation in his one-day trial. Judge Ethan Allen Doty, deferring sentence, set a hearing Aug. 1 on Friedman's motion.

Doty said after the verdict that "we cannot have people tampering with our athletes. Philadelphia has always been known for clean athletics and we propose to keep it so."

BRIBE ATTEMPT

Robinson, a slim righthander, testified Friedman attempted to bribe him in Robinson's hotel room on the day he pitched and won the second game of a twi-night doubleheader with the Cincinnati Reds here last Sept. 22. Robinson was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the seventh.

Friedman, testifying in his own defense, said he merely offered to lend Robinson money after he learned that the pitcher had been robbed.

Commonwealth witnesses included Ruben Gomez, former roomate of Robinson; Eddie Sawyer, ex-manager of the Phillies, and John Quinn, Phils' general manager.

'Best Ever' Olympic Trials Predicted

STANFORD (AP)—"Competition here will be the best it ever has been. It has to be. Every other country will be better with only one or two exceptions," said Larry Snyder, coach of the United States Olympic track and field team, on the eve of the trials that will fashion his squad.

Tomorrow and Saturday at the Stanford Stadium crowds totaling 75,000 will watch the nation's top track stars vie for the coveted spots on the U.S. team.

Snyder, Ohio State coach, voiced approval of the U.S. system of elimination meets.

"Each year a new generation is making the old timers either do better or step aside."

It's this competition he feels, that will continue U.S. domination of world track and field.

There was a flurry of anxiety yesterday when it was reported Dyrol Burleson, the Oregon sophomore rated this nation's best bet in the 1,500 meters, was reported ill with a cold. But his doctor said he will be able to compete. Burleson this year became the second American ever to break four minutes for the mile.

Gold medal winners at Melbourne, Australia, four years ago competing here are Al Oerter in the discus, Bobby Morrow in the 200-meter dash, Parry O'Brien in the shot put, Lee Calhoun in the 110-meter high hurdles, Glenn Davis in the 400-meter hurdles, Harold Connolly in the hammer throw, Greg Bell in the broad jump and Charlie Dumas in the high jump.

ALL-STAR MANAGER

Dave McDougall has been selected to manage the Larkspur-Corte Madera Little League All-Stars in the annual post-season All-Star Tournament, League President Frank Simpson announced today.

BRAVES FACE KEY PERIOD IN SCHEDULE

CHICAGO (AP) — Chipper Charlie Dressen thinks that by July 4, a traditional date for die-casting in baseball, his second-place Milwaukee Braves may know whether smoother pennant-hunting will be ahead.

"We'll then have completed three doubleheaders in six days and that will tell whether our pitching will be set for things to come," said the Milwaukee skipper.

The Braves yesterday split a twin bill (2-3, 3-1) with the last-place Chicago Cubs. They have another brace with the Cardinals in St. Louis tomorrow night. But the really big doubleheader ahead is the July 4 pair with the pace-setting Pittsburgh Pirates in Milwaukee.

"If we can get through that mess without stripping our pitching gear, we may be okay," said Dressen. "After that, I can come in with any one of our starting pitchers as reliefers."

Golfer Gets Birdie, Bogey On Same Hole

EUREKA, Ill. (AP) — Golfer Gordon Linn got a bird and a bogey on the same hole at Kufman Park golf course.

Linn's fifth hole drive Tuesday hit a sparrow flying across the course. That stopped the ball about 150 yards out and he had to take a stroke over par to finish the hole. The sparrow was killed.

Greenbrae Club Plans Celebration; Trollers Enjoying Excellent Sport

STEVENS

Howdy, folks! Fore-warned is fore-armed, they tell us, so here is a tip to all fire departments in Marin County in general and in the vicinity of Greenbrae in particular: It will take place on July 30 at the Greenbrae Rod and Gun Club. The occasion? The burning of the mortgage on the club's car port. (Wish we could get rid of our house mortgage so easily.)

Ralph Wildt, secretary of the Greenbrae club, sent us word of the burning and added that there would be a turkey dinner followed by a dance in celebration of the gala event. Someone will win a rod, reel and landing net during the evening.

Wildt reports on the fishing thereabouts tersely: "The fishing over here has been very slow!"

FISHING hasn't been slow for the gals and guys who trailed lures behind a moving boat under the Golden Gate Bridge or in the Racoon Strait or the upper San Pablo Bay under and around the Carquinez Bridge, though.

WE TALKED with Sid McMullen of Caruso's Harbor in Sausalito on Tuesday. Learned that Skipper Louie Ritlaw of the good ship Ma-Ru, with a short load, trolled under the G. G. Gate Bridge in the morning, caught six nice stripers to 12 pounds and came in. Went out again for the trolling in Racoon Strait—but too late to get the results for our column. Sid told us salmon trolling slowed down to a walk after Saturday's hot take. On Monday, for example, E. W. Engberg piloted his boat Marion after salmon and caught only three fish. Then came back and tried trolling for bass under the G. G. Bridge. He netted three bass to the same weight as his salmon — 20 pounds.

ALSO, on Monday, Bill Davies and his boat, the My Three, collected five salmon. Average catch on Saturday was two to two and a half salmon per angler. Sunday and Monday less than half a fish per angler. Seems there are huge schools of extra large anchovies as well as beaucoup mackerel tempting the salmon at present.

SEVERAL reports came in of fair to good surf-casting for stripers on the beaches south of the San Francisco Cliff House. One of our dependable contact men fished off Sharps Park on Tuesday and called to tell us a good many bass were taken on either side of him, but all he had were heavy strikes and one broken line. The fish ran from around 8 to 16 pounds. Another report indicated a fair run off Flieshhacker beach with "standing room only" crowds along a half mile stretch of that beach.

JUST TURNED on our Halicrafter to the fishermen's band and learned that at least three boats, trolling for bass under the G.G. Bridge, lacked only one or two fish for limits all around. Sure must be hot stuff, eh? (Time: 2:30 p.m. Tuesday.)

BETTER GET in on some of that bass trolling while the fish are still around. Use your regular salmon trolling outfit (not the divided leader and two lures; too much chance of being snagged), three pound sinker and sinker release.

LAKES PHOENIX and Lagunitas were restocked this week with catchable-sized trout.

Signup Saturday For Rifle Class In San Rafael

Registration will take place Saturday for the Marin County Sheriff's Department's junior basic rifle and hunter safety course, Chief Instructor Jim Wright anounced today.

Signups will be held 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. at the Marin Police Range, San Quentin Road, San Rafael. Boys and girls 12 years and older are eligible to enter at a $3 fee, Wright said. The fee covers cost of materials used during the six two-hour classes.

Assisting Wright in the instructions will be Francis Duffy and Ed McDonald. More instructors are needed, Wright said. Adults experienced in rifle instructions are asked to contact Wright at Saturday's registration. Actual instruction will begin July 9.

Ted Nears Ott's Home Run Record

BOSTON (UPI)—Ted Williams, just two months short of his 42nd birthday, was a lucky seven away from Mel Ott's career home run total today.

Ted made it 504 lifetime home runs yesterday, hitting a Jim Bunning fast ball for his 12th of the season. The 430-foot drive into the center field bleachers at Fenway Park got Boston started on a 4-2 win over the Detroit Tigers and halted a five-game Red Sox losing streak.

Williams now needs seven more homers to tie the third-ranking Ott, who hit 511 while with the New York Giants.

Babe Ruth leads all home run hitters with 714, while Jimmy Foxx hit 534 for the Philadelphia Athletics and the Red Sox.

MARIN DRIVER SPEEDS TO VICTORY

As his rival in car 134 spins out of control, Marin County driver Ernest Mendenhall pilots his No. 33 Porsch Carrera toward finish and first place triumph in race for Gran Turisimo cars under 1600 cc Sunday at Cotati. The event was sponsored by the Racing Drivers Club. Car 134, a Porsche Super, was driven by Paul Bachman of San Francisco. Another Marin County winner Sunday was Odette Bigler of San Rafael who won the ladies race for production cars under 1600 cc. (Rich Armor photo)

MRS. ARTHUR LUCHETTI, president of the San Rafael Branch of the Needlework Guild of America, right, displays an article of the Guild which could be made by the Senior Citizens at a recent visit to the Center in San Rafael. Admiring the handiwork are, Senior Citizens, from left, Mesdames B. W. Praun and Mary Walls.

Senior Citizens To Participate In Guild Project

Members of San Rafael Branch, Needlework Guild of America, pay a visit to the Senior Citizens Center at 1824 Fourth Street, San Rafael and spend an afternoon learning of the many activities of this group.

Mrs. Arthur Luchetti, president of the Needlework Guild of San Rafael was accompanied by Mrs. Eleanor Henry, Treasurer and Shoe chairman, and told the group of nearly 20 women the story of Needlework Guild and showed samples of articles which could be made by the Senior Citizens. Mrs. B. W. Praun, chairman pro tem of the Center, told of the interest expressed by the members in any kind of sewing, and that there were two sewing machines in readiness.

Mrs. Mary Walls has accepted the chairmanship of the sewing group for Needlework Guild and will be assisted by all those present. "From now on, Mondays will be a busy day at the Center," Mrs. Walls said.

Mrs. Lucchetti expressed her deepest thanks to the members present and hopes to enlarge the number of articles considerably for the next Ingathering.

"Since there are 14 organizations calling on Needlework Guild for assistance, I feel the more hands that are kept busy, the more people we can make happy," says Mrs. Luchetti.

Buzzin Boots Host Club For Fair

The Buzzin' Boots Square Dance Club will be the host club tomorrow at the Marin Arts and Garden Fair.

The club will assemble at the open air pavilion at 7 p.m. Bill Owen, club caller for Buzzin' Boots, will start the first call at 7:30.

Other square dance callers who have been invited to participate are Merl Basim of the Double Diamonds; Dave Shephard of the Mill Wheelers; Sparky Sparks of the Haybalers; Milt Adams of the Charmin' Farmers; Joe Crumpler of the Fiddle Footers and Gordon Collins of the Cornhuskers.

The featured calls of the evening will be the Caribbean, Smoke on the Water, Kansas City, and Whirlwind.

The Buzzin' Boots officers responsible for the evening's festivities are Tom Parisi, president; Joan Sloan, vice president; Jerry Ziegler, treasurer; Marge Van Couwenberghe, secretary, and Bob Cooper, past president.

The colorful costumes and the formations of the squares should be of interest to those attending the Art and Garden show. The last square will be completed at 10 p.m.

The Continental

The Continental flavor is seen in fall sportswear and outerwear for children. Woven rayon plaids with surface interests, imported from Italy, have been used in the styling of slacks; print flannels for tailored button-down collar shirts and blouses.

Consumers Who Save Trading Stamps Redeemable For Cash

California Consumers who save trading stamps will now be able to redeem their filled stamp books for cash or merchandise, State Consumer Counsel Helen Nelson announced today.

"A new law takes effect July 1," Mrs. Nelson said. "It provides for State regulation of trading stamp companies. It requires the stamp companies to let stamp savers choose between cash and merchandise when they redeem their stamp books."

The trading stamps themselves must bear the name of the stamp company issuing them and the cash value of each stamp. Trading stamps presented for redemption in cash, however, must have an aggregate value of at least one dollar.

Under the new law, trading stamp companies must be licensed by the Commissioner of Corporations. To obtain a license, a stamp company must post a bond of from $25,000 to $100,000, depending upon its annual volume of business. Should the trading stamp company refuse to redeem its stamps, the Commissioner of Corporations can file a claim against the company and its surety on behalf of the holder of the stamps.

The new law provides that any merchant who intends to stop giving trading stamps must post a notice in every place in his establishment where stamps are issued, in letters equal in size to at least 18-point type, that he will stop issuing stamps and the date he will stop. The notice must also contain the name and address of the licensed stamp company that will redeem the stamps, the fact that the stamp company is licensed by the Corporations Commissioner, and the fact that the stamps may be redeemed either in merchandise or cash.

No trading stamp company may stop issuing stamps without giving 90 days' written notice to the Commissioner of Corporations and to each merchant in the State who issues its stamps. The merchants, in turn, must notify their customers that the stamps will be discontinued.

Violation of the new law on trading stamps is punishable by a fine of up to $1,000.

Mrs. Nelson noted that the new law—an amendment to the Business and Professions Code—does not apply to merchants who issue their own coupons to customers and redeem them in cash or from their own stocks.

Alos unaffected are redeemable certificates or devices used by a manufacturer or packer in an advertising or selling campaign, or those issued and redeemed by a newspaper, magazine, or other publication.

Trading stamps issued under the new law are exempt from the Corporate Securities Law.

Mrs. Nelson said the 1959 California Legislature passed the new law to protect California trading stamp savers.

You're not prepared to treat the injuries properly unless your medicine chest contains cotton, adhesive tape, improved gauze bandage, sterile gauze pads and a good antiseptic.

Yates Pupils Give Recital In Inverness

"An Hour of Music" was the theme of the recent piano recital given by students of Mrs. Constance Yates at Frick Hall in Inverness.

Students performing included Georgie Hall, Hilda Griffith, Leslie Marks, Jeannette McCormick, Tamara Sheppard, Sharon Lobauch, Bill Sheppard, Collie Charter, Margaret Daly, Don Van Buskirk and Ann Purcell.

Tea followed the recital with Mrs. Stewart Purcell of Inverness and Mrs. William Sheppard of Novato presiding at the tea table.

B'nai B'rith To Hear Senator McCarthy

Featured guest speaker at the annual summer luncheon of Marin B'nai B'rith Women on Thursday, July 14, will be Sen. Jack McCarthy, Republican state senator from Marin.

The fund-raising luncheon, which marks the beginning of the 21st year of existence for B'nai B'rith Women, will be held in the gardens of the David Rosenberg home, 41 Moncado Way, San Rafael, at 12:30 p.m.

"Oriental Holiday" is the theme of the July 14 event, with menu, decorations and fashion show selected to fulfill the glamorous Far East scheme. Mrs. Lowell Simon is chairman of the luncheon.

SEN. JOHN McCARTHY

Senator McCarthy, elected to the state senate in 1950 to fill a vacancy left by Judge Tom Keating, has been re-elected to that body twice. In 1956 he achieved re-election in the primary by securing both the Republican and Democratic nominations. When elected in 1950, McCarthy was the youngest senator in the history of California.

Born in San Francisco 36 years ago, he attended St. Ignacius High School, University of San Francisco, and Heald's Engineering College. At present he is the minority leader in the senate, and vice chairman of the rules committee.

McCarthy has been influential in sponsoring legislation pertinent and beneficial to Marin, including the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge, San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit Authority, and Billboard Control. He is an active supporter of the Senior Citizens program in Marin and serves on the Senior Co-ordinating Council.

Accompanying Senator McCarthy will be his wife, Ursula.

Reservations for this event may be made with Mrs. Carl Schwartz, 1321 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, and Mrs. Harold Harris, 116 Hilldale Drive, San Anselmo.

Faustini Students In Final Recital

Amelia Faustini, faculty member of the Music Department of Dominican College, presented students from her San Rafael studio, in a final solo and two-piano recital, in Angelico Hall, Dominican Campus, after completing a series of Studio Demonstrations in "Fundamentals of Musicianship."

Participants were: Catherine Atterbury, Diane Barnard, Elaine Barnard, Rebecca Barrett, Carol Brennan, Mrs. Barry Cooke, Sherry De Haan, Thomas Dibblee, John Ficicchy assisted by his mother, Susan Ficicchy, Todd Hedin, John Houston, Joan Houston (assisted by her mother), Patricia Hrsidies, Jan Hunsinger, Cheryl Johnson, Valorie Langdon, Susan McIntyre, Tom Mehrten assisted by his mother, Mary Frances Moore, James Myers, Christine Owen, Jeannine Sarraille, Barbara Shipman, Molly Shipman, Dorothy Soden assisted by her mother, Madelon Walsh.

Mrs. Houston, who completed Piano-Teaching Course at Dominican under Mrs. Faustini, is now teaching a limited number of students in her San Rafael studio.

Academic Hostess Helps To Settle Yanks At Oxford

OXFORD, England (UPI) — Mrs. K. C. Wheare decided there were too many overseas wives at Oxford University who didn't know each other. She decided to do something about it, and got more than she bargained for.

Mrs. Wheare, wife of the rector of Exeter College, noted that many of the hundreds of overseas graduates studying at Oxford brought their wives and families, but that these wives had no way of contacting each other or making British friends.

She formed a committee and leaked word through the "grapevine" inviting foreign wives to a reception. Despite lack of formal notice, 150 wives showed up.

Now Mrs. Wheare has made her organization permanent, to helping overseas wives find housing, schools for their children, and British friends.

"We are anxious to show ourselves as good neighbors," she said.

Awards Presented At 'Capers' Party

"Belrose Dance Capers 1960," the first annual "Capers," as recently presented at E Street School, San Rafael, in cooperation with the San Rafael Recreation Department, was climaxed by a cast party for performers and parents, at which time, awards were presented.

"Dancer of the year 1959-60" the coveted annual scholarship award and trophy, was presented to Patti Colombo for outstanding progress and individual talent.

"Honor Students" for the year were: Betty Gudmundson, Linda Gudmundson, Vickie Hill, Lindsay Sower, Elaine Yoder. Diplomas for "exemplary attendance and consistent improvement" were presented to: Gayle Abrams, Kathleen Adams, Melissa Addleman, Mary Andrews, Carol Ann Bell, Andrea Black, Bonnie Bottarini, Linda Brown, Suzanne Cardoza, Helen Castle, Terry Castle;

A public presentation of "Dancer of the year 1958-59" was made to Diane Blackford.

This concluded the spring term, and now registrations are being taken for summer session at the Belrose Dance Studio which starts July 9 for 10 weeks, or for summer session at the San Rafael Recreation Department which starts July 11 and July 13 for seven weeks.

Watch The Eyes

Eyes of the normal infant should be straight by three months of age.

Any deviation beyond that age almost certain is indicative of a muscle imbalance or a lack of vision in one or both eyes, said Dr. Tullos O. Coston of the Oklahoma School of Medicine.

CLAIRE CROMPTON NOW IN RANKS OF ENGAGED GIRLS

Mr. and Mrs. Royal Crompton of San Francisco, formerly of Corte Madera, are announcing the engagement of their only daughter, Claire Crompton, to John K. Lea.

Wedding plans of the young couple are indefinite. Claire's fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arch S. Lea of West Milton, Ohio, and he is the brother of James and William Lea of West Milton.

Claire, who was graduated from Tamalpais High School in 1956, attended San Jose State College and is employed by Argonaut Savings and Loan Assn. in San Francisco. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. West Crompton of Oakland, M. L. Triplett of Dixon and the late Mrs. Triplett.

In 1957 John was graduated from Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, where he was a member of Sigma Nu fraternity. He is an insurance adjuster.

Novato Jr. Women's Club Greets Four New Members

The Novato Junior Women's Club held its initiation ceremony recently at the home of Mrs. Alan Chisholm, club president.

Present for the rites were three officers of the San Rafael Improvement Club, sponsors of the Novato Juniors. Mrs. Lewis A. Clapp, immediate past president of the San Rafael club, Mrs. Carl Riznik, Northern California representative of the Needlework Guild to the California Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. F. W. Schroeder, parliamentarian of the Golden Gate District, the CFWC, joined Mrs. Chisholm in the welcoming of new members Mesdames Kenneth Ruff, Richard Boldenweck, Jack Kidder and Lorna Butler.

Mrs. Clapp led the discussion in which Mrs. Schroeder gave a talk on the "Build a Better Community" projects carried on by other junior women's clubs throughout the state. She also gave highlights of the history of the California Federation of Women's Clubs and the joint projects carried on by the Senior and Junior Clubs in the United States in the sending of CARE packages to all parts of the world. The CFWC project this year, in which the Novato Junior took part, was in sending, through CARE, medical kits to the Philippines and student kits to Viet Nam.

Another Federated Women's Club project reported by Mrs. Riznik, recently returned from the Atlantic City convention of the Needlwork Guild of the United States Federation of Women's Clubs, was their charitable organization which provides new clothing and household linens to needy Americans of all ages. This is also a project in which the Juniors may take a part.

French Influence

French influence is noted through the pleated gussets found at the sides of boys' car coats and jackets, and deep cut Continental pockets, plus side-tabs enhancing the sports trousers. Tri-color appliques simulating the French beret and Left Bank garb decorate slack sets.

MISS PERCY BRIDE-ELECT

Dr. and Mrs. George D. Percy of Sausalito have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miriam Ann, to Frederick J. Hass.

The future bride, who is employed with the Wells Fargo Bank American Trust Company, attended San Francisco College for Women on Lone Mountain.

Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hass of San Rafael. After completing four years of pre-medical studies at the University of San Francisco, he will enter Creighton Medical School in Omaha, Nebraska, this fall.

The couple will be married August 27 at Star of the Sea Church, Sausalito.

Dallas Center Aids Creative Children

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—The Dallas Museum of Fine Arts is pioneering a program to inspire children from six to 14 to try their hands at creating.

Special Saturday classes, co-sponsored by Dallas College of Southern Methodist University, expose the youngsters to paintings, artifacts, prints and sculpture.

"The aim is to make the children go to work with paint brushes, crayons or clay and produce works of their own," said Mary Doyle, the program director.

She said the program also tries to stimulate family participation in art projects, and later will include art appreciation classes for adults.

"Creativity in the young can be stifled by adults who try to impose their own ideas of color and form," Miss Doyle said. "There is no one way to see any object and if you criticize a child's work on grounds it is unrealistic, you confuse him."

Richard J. Quinlan Claims Bride In Ceremony At St. Brendan's

In a recent noon nuptial mass in St. Brendan's Church in San Francisco before an altar banked with white stock and gladioli Jeanne Marie Ferrari became the bride of Richard John Quinlan of Kent Woodlands.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Reynold J. Ferrari of Saint Francis Woods, San Francisco, and the bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Quinlan Jr. of Kent Woodlands.

Rev. Edwards Higgins was the officiating minister.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk taffeta fashioned with Moyanage neckline detailed with Swiss Guipre lace and long sleeves. The princess line of the gown formed a back bow-pouff which extended into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a French imperial coronet and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

Patricia Ferrari as maid of honor for her sister, and bridesmaids, Mesdames H. Turner Croonquist, the bridegroom's sister of West Point, N.Y., and D. Richard Reynolds, Robert Rogers, L. Kent Wanlass and Eugene Markley and Miss Cynthia Sperry, all of San Francisco, were gowned in emerald green peau de soie sheaths. They had matching halos with circular veils and carried tuberous begonias in the sunset colors.

Capt. H. Turner Croonquist of West Point was best man.

Ushers were Gerald Ferarri, the bride's brother, Robert Besozzi, John Miggins, Peter Murphy, all of San Francisco, and John Kiefer, Hillsborough, and Robert Quinlan.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ferrari wore a dress of French blue silk brocade with matching velvet leaf hat and accessories.

The mother of the bridegroom chose a dress of seafoam green Italian silk with bronze accessories.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Bohemian Club.

The bride attended the Convent of the Sacred Heart and Stanford University. With her marriage, she relinquished her membership in the Spinsters. She is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Ferrari of San Francisco and the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. McLaughlin of San Francisco.

The bridegroom was graduated from Saint Ignatius High School and the University of Santa Clara. He is now associated with Wells Fargo and American Trust in San Francisco. He is the grandson of Mrs. John A. Donnelly of San Francisco and the late Mr. Donnelly, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Quinlan of San Francisco.

Following a wedding trip in Mexico, the newlyweds will take up their residence in San Francisco.

Elsie Whitlow Weds Donald G. Feliz

Donald George Feliz of Mill Valley claimed Elsie Patricia Whitlow of San Francisco as his bride Saturday afternoon, June 25, at the First Baptist Church of Mill Valley with relatives only present.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Walter Whitlow, in the double ring ceremony performed at 1 o'clock by Rev. Fred I. Drexler.

For her marriage the bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Whitlow of San Francisco, wore an ice blue organza dress fashioned with full skirt and fitted bodice having a round neckline and bracelet length sleeves. An organza headband held her short circular face veil and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

Her bridesmaid was Zoe Anne Feliz, only sister of the bridegroom. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. George C. Feliz of Mill Valley. Zoe wore a yellow sheath with jacket, a small white straw hat and white accessories, and her flowers were white carnations.

Stanton Ellis of Mill Valley served as best man.

The bride's mother was attired in a blue dress and wore a corsage of white carnations, and the bridegroom's mother chose a pale gray sheath with jacket, rose velvet hat and white accessories. Her corsage was of pale yellow orchids.

Among those attending the wedding were the bride's aunt, Mrs. Jack Bataiss of San Rafael and the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Will D. Mason of Mill Valley.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents for those attending the wedding.

The young couple will live in San Francisco, where the bridegroom is temporarily employed as a salesman until he begins service with the U.S. Air Force in about two months. He was graduated from Tamalpais High School and San Francisco State College.

The new Mrs. Feliz will be a senior at San Francisco State College next year.

LUCIANNE RITTER BETROTHED TO N. R. McINTYRE OF PALO ALTO

At a recent family dinner party, Mr. and Mrs. Irving O. Ritter of Greenbrae, announced the engagement of their daughter, Lucianne, to N. Ralph McIntyre of Palo Alto.

The bride-elect was graduated from the Katharine Branson School in Ross and is now a senior at Stanford. She is the sister of Nancy Ritter, who is in her freshman year at Stanford. Mrs. W. A. Sears of Greenbrae, and the late Mr. Sears and the late Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Ritter of Stockton are her grandparents.

The future benedict, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman F. McIntyre of Palo Alto, was graduated from Menlo-Atherton High School and is a senior at the Menlo School of Business Administration. Anne, Sherwood and James McIntyre of Palo Alto are his sister and brothers. He is the grandson of Dr. and Mrs. G. Ralph Combs of Leavenworth, Kan., and H. L. McIntyre of Seattle, and the late Mrs. McIntyre.

The wedding will be an event of 1961.

Is Your Family Getting The Nutrients It Should?

By DOROTHY WHIPPLE, M.D.

Most Americans have enough money to buy all the food they need, yet many are not nearly as well nourished as they should be.

We don't see real starvation around us, but we do see people with no vim and vigor, youngsters with poor posture and flabby muscles. We hear cross, irritable voices and see tired, drawn faces.

Not all human ills can be cured by improving the diet, but you may be surprised how much unnecessary misery is swallowed in the form of doughnuts and jam.

Good buoyant health is what we are after. Clear bright eyes, smooth firm skin, strong muscles, shiny hair, sound teeth, erect posture, straight bones, peaceful nerves.

If yourb ody works well, at least some of the tensions of our hectic world will roll off your back.

It is not always within our powers to reduce tensions, but it is within our power to nourish our bodies to the optimum. As the mother of a family you can do more. You provide good food for your family and teach your children the principles of good eating, so that when they leave home they will continue what you started.

Why is it that the knowledge of nutrition is not better applied? There are several reasons.

Food faddists have given nutrition a bad name. Some of the horrible concoctions that are supposed to be good for you are supposed to scare anyone off. The truth is, truly nutritious food is delicious to eat. There is no reason to eat anything you don't like. Nutrition is a question of selection and preparation of good food.

Mothers should take a course in nutrition, or look up a book on the subject. They may learn a lot they didn't know. They will be able to make food taste better, save money on food bills, and see the difference in their families.

Plastics Producer Buys Press To Help Mold Custom Products

A new 100-ton hydraulic press now partially installed in the Kimball Manufacturing Corp. plant in San Rafael will be used to produce plastic outboard billboard trim and other custom molded products.

More versatile than previously used types, the unit is expected to boost production efficiency by simplifying installation and removal of molds. The press will be operating in two or three weeks.

Kimball expects to replace other major plant equipment in the future as part of a stepped-up modernization program.

The firm recently became a joint owner of Artline-Kimball of California, producer of fiber glass decorative accessories.

A MULTI-MILLION DOLLAR contract has been awarded to J. H. Pomeroy and Co. and the Bechtel Corp. by Columbia-Geneva division of U. S. Steel Corp. for preparation and partial construction of a vast taconite iron ore mining facility near Lander, Wyo., it was announced by R. N. Pomeroy, Ross resident and president of the firm sponsoring the joint venture.

Work is to begin immediately and is expected to be completed by mid-1962. Design and detail engineering already have been completed by the Bechtel Corp. under terms of an earlier contract.

Pomeroy-Bechtel have contracted to expose the ore, provide all foundations, build a large reservoir and two earth-filled dams, place machinery and install about 78 miles of railroad from the mining site to Winton Junction near the Union Pacific main line.

When full production has been reached the facility is expected to produce in the neighborhood of 4,000 tons of high grade ore daily which will be shipped by rail to the Columbia-Geneva plant near Provo, Utah, where it will be made into steel.

THERE IS less of a market for steel in the automobile industry. New compact Oldsmobiles F-35 and Buick Specials will have aluminum, liquid-cooled engines. Corvair already uses 103 pounds, Rambler is to start limited output soon and Chrysler is working toward an aluminum engine for Valiant which now accounts for about 40 per cent of all deliveries by Plymouth dealers.

A NEW BOOK, "How to Protect Your Small Business Investment," by Nathaniel C. Berkowitz and published by Hesperian House, San Francisco will be released on July 14.

The volume deals with the Small Business Investment Act of 1958 and recommended amendments. It also gives a checklist for the small business investor on all phases of management and finance.

A foreword has been written by Harold L. Moose Jr., executive vice president of the Western Small Business Investment Co., 1005 A Street, San Rafael.

BEGINNING JULY 1, State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Co. will sell to unmarried men under 25 and persons over 65 in California. Many have not been able to get insurance except for limited coverage as assigned risks. Rates will be about 35 per cent higher.

Bank Plans Expansion In Mill Valley

The Bank of America at Mill Valley will be expanded, starting in about three months, to provide additional teller counters and other facilities.

G. A. Todaro, manager, said the expansion will be into the bank-owned space now occupied by Dimitroff's Picture Frames store. A temporary wall between the two businesses will be knocked out, he said. "Business will continue as usual during the remodeling," said Todaro.

"Our preliminary plans call for an increase in the number of teller stations from the present nine to 17," he added. There will be a new conference room, an enlarged staff lounge on the mezzanine and increased space for storage of records and supplies.

The bank is at the corner of Throckmorton and Corte Madera Avenues.

Stephen P. Dimitroff, owner of Dimitroff's Picture Frames, which has been in this location for nine years, said he has plans to move his shop to 173 Throckmorton Avenue. This is the location of Beal Art Studios, operated by Art Beal. He is moving at the end of August to Southern California.

Dimitroff said he intends to be in his new location Sept. 1. His other shop, Dimitroff's Art Store, will remain at 11 East Blithedale Avenue.

Phone Company Names D. S. Smith To Traffic Position

Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co. today announced appointment of D. S. Smith, of 404 Forbes Avenue, San Rafael, as assistant traffic superintendent in its district headquarters office here.

Smith comes from a position in the traffic department's general office in San Francisco, where he has been since 1955.

A veteran of 20 years with Pacific Telephone, Smith started his telephone career in the plant department in San Francisco. After a tour in the Army Signal Corps, 1943 to 1946, with duty in the European theater, he resumed his telephone work in Vallejo, where he rose to chief switchman.

In 1953 he transferred to the traffic department and became assistant traffic superintendent in Santa Rosa. He remained here until 1955 when he moved to his recent post in San Francisco.

A native of Sacramento, Smith grew up in San Jose and attended schools there.

Air Pollution Control Law Going Into Effect

The first air pollution control measure to have major bearing on Marin County will go into effect tomorrow.

It involves broad-scale registration under "Regulation 2" of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District.

Affected as "industrial burning" operations are apartment houses, schools, office buildings, retail or wholesale establishments, hotels, factories, hospitals and all types of public or semi-public buildings.

The first regulation of the district, which became effective in October of 1957, controlled only large scale open burning.

Arrangements for Marin registration have been handled by two directors from this county, Supervisor William Gnoss of Novato and Ross Councilman Arthur Kanzee Jr., as well as Fred F. Enemark of San Rafael as members of the district's advisory council.

Authorization was granted Tuesday by the Marin County Board of Supervisors for distribution of pamphlets on Regulation 2 at the courthouse in San Rafael.

Registration forms will be available from tomorrow in all six affected Bay Area counties at all city halls, county offices, city and county building inspectors' offices, city and county planning commission offices, principal fire stations and chambers of commerce.

Registration must be complete between July 1 and Sept. 1 by all industrial, institutional and commercial enterprises putting forth air contaminants from incineration, heat transfer, general combustion and other general operations.

Today is Thursday, June 30, the 182nd day of the year, with 184 to follow in 1960.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1834, Congress created the Department of Indian Affairs.

In 1870, Ada Kepley graduated from the Union College of Law in Chicago, the first woman to be graduated from an accredited law school.

In 1906, President Theodore Roosevelt signed the Pure Food and Drug Act.

In 1924, as a result of the Teapot Dome scandal, Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall and oilmen Harry F. Sinclair and Edward Doheny were charged with bribery and conspiracy to defraud the government.

A thought for today: President Theodore Roosevelt said: "I wish to preach, not the doctrine of ignoble ease, but the doctrine of the strenuous life."

Ross Valley Savings Fetes Anniversary

A week-long birthday party starts tomorrow for Ross Valley Savings and Loan Assn. in celebration of its 10th anniversary.

Ross Valley started with $88,290 in 1950 and has grown to over $12 million dollars in assets.

EUGENE A. OSTAGGI
'Man to See' at Ross Valley

"Some of the reasons include customer convenience, service, and sound management," said Eugene A. Ostaggi, executive vice president. "But we think the friendly, neighborly atmosphere and the lack of red tape are heavy contributors, also."

The 10th birthday party will include refreshments, favors, a special commuter open house next Wednesday from 6 to 8 p.m., and a completely redecorated interior and exterior of the offices at 380 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo.

Growth has brought changes to Ross Valley Savings. Starting on July 1, 1950 in a cubbyhole back of Brown's Store for Men and Boys at 706 San Anselmo Avenue, the firm moved to its present address a few years later and opened smart, modern offices. In 1958, progress (and more investors), brought needed expansion. The former offices were enlarged by almost 50 per cent—including an extension of the Sonoma stone and glass front, new lighting and acoustical tile ceiling and an increase in useable floor space from 1,300 to 1,800 square feet, plus a new record storage vault.

Work-load has increased over the years so that now a fulltime staff of nine services the 6,000 accounts at the San Anselmo business.

"We do a heavy save-by-mail business with commuters," Ostaggi said. "Also one of the conveniences of Ross Valley that has helped—as it has helped all of Marin County—is a full two-block-long parking lot at our back door."

Hours of the birthday celebration are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. from tomorrow through July 11 with the exception of weekends.

Officers of Ross Valley, all local businessmen and residents, include Dr. Earle M. Young, president; Ostaggi, executive vice president; L. Earle David, vice president; A. Von Rotz, vice president; Lawrence E. Wright, secretary and attorney for the board; Richard G. Fontana Jr., assistant secretary, and Thomas D. Minto, director.

Staff members include June Miller, Nancy Badger, Jack Rippe Jr., Helen Marcucci, Claudia Goldthwaite, O. Ross Turney, Sheila Nutto and Betty Skov.

Young is a retired dentist who also heads up the Trans-Western Title Co. in San Rafael, and resides in Kentfield. Ostaggi, former manager of American Trust Co.'s San Anselmo Branch, lives in Ross. David, who resides in Kentfield, is retired after 34 years with Shell Oil Co., where his latest position was general manager of the marketing department (Western United States Division). Von Rotz, former San Anselmo mayor and former chairman of the Marin County Planning Commission, has been a building contractor in Marin for 31 years. Wright is a Ross resident with offices in San Anselmo. Fontana is owner of San Anselmo's largest printing firm. Minto, an expert property appraiser, lives in Kentfield.

Assets Grow During Decade

Assets at Ross Valley Savings have increased more than 133 times since the San Anselmo savings and loan association opened its doors for business 10 years ago—July 1, 1950.

The firm started out with a modest $88,290 in assets and a December 31, 1959 statement of condition showed a gain to $11,852,617.

"And we'll be well over 12 million dollars for the six-months period ending June 30," said executive vice president Eugene Ostaggi.

Here's a breakdown of the growth of Ross Valley Savings since opening for business:

July 1, 1950, $88,290; Dec. 31, 1950, $183,622; Dec. 31, 1951, $495,173; Dec. 31, 1952, $797,495; Dec. 31, 1953, $1,417,349; Dec. 31, 1954, $3,210,754; Dec. 31, 1955, $4,941,030; Dec. 31, 1956, $6,611,133; Dec. 31, 1957, $7,749,312; Dec. 31, 1958, $9,329,070; Dec. 31, 1959, $11,852,617; June 30, 1960, more than 12 million dollars.

EXPANDED QUARTERS Interior of Ross Valley Savings is a busy place these days in preparation for the re-investment period and a 10th birthday party. Translucent light panels, accoustical tile ceiling, a curving counter, half wood paneled and rice paper covered walls form a display for the water colors of Howard Allen, San Anselmo realtor. New vault addition may be seen at left rear.

Every Ross Valley Savings, Loan Account Has Insurance

Each account at Ross Valley Savings is insured up to $10,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp.

Additionally, the San Anselmo firm, celebrating its 10th anniversary this week, and with a record of over a million dollars per year in assets, is a member of the Federal Home Loan Bank System, United States Savings and Loan League, California Savings and Loan League, Bay Cities Saving and Loan League, North Bay League of Savings and Loan Assns., and The Savings and Loan Foundation.

Sweden is almost 1,000 miles long, though seldom wider than 300 miles.

Marin Woman To Exhibit Art

Oil paintings by Mill Valley artist Helen Gapen Oehler will be on exhibit for a month at the Del Preston Realty, 322 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley.

Mrs. Ooehler has a studio and residence at 630 West Blithedale Avenue. She is chairman of Art Associates.

On exhibit are landscapes and seascapes, including one of old Sausalito waterfront dwellings.

4th SCHOOL PLAN GAINS

Trustees In Larkspur Approve County Pacts

Larkspur School District trustees Tuesday night approved three contracts with the Marin County superintendent of schools, covering library services, audio-visual aid and services for physically handicapped and mentally retarded children.

Also approved were preliminary plans for a fourth district elementary school.

The year-long library contract, at $4,000, provides for supplementary textbooks and materials to be supplied by the county.

The audio-visual education services contract, for which the district pays $1.50 per child, would furnish models, films, tapes and similar educational materials.

The physically handicapped and mentally retarded children are served by the county, which pays for the rental of special rooms, teachers' salaries, transportation and materials. Cost to the district will be approximately $2,500, which is matched by state funds. For the past two years the district has rented a special room for this program at $1,200 a year.

Preliminary plans for the fourth school, which would be built on 10 acres on Paradise Drive, east of Marin Estates subdivision, were approved following individual study of the plans by each board member.

Plans will now go to the state board of education for final approval, according to Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel, then to the state Dept. of Finance for approval of funds.

The trustees will meet in special session, July 5, at 7:30 p.m., to elect a board president for the coming year.

Measles Mumps Top Disease List

Measles and mumps still head the list of communicable diseases in Marin County.

Last week 16 cases of measles and 12 cases of mumps were reported to the county health department, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, health officer.

Also reported: five cases of gonorrhea, one case of streptococcus infection, one of syphilis, one of tuberculosis, and one mumps meningitis.

'NON-SKID' PONTOON DEVELOPED

A 64-foot pier assembly manufactured by H. Koch and Sons, Corte Madera, was floated from San Rafael Harbor to the San Francisco Marina this week. This firm has recently developed a four by four foot molded fiberglass deck and pontoon unit which may be assembled in combinations of various sizes. Units are molded under heat and are resistant to petroleum products and marine borers. They are topped with a safety grid which prevents slipping. Harry Scott, project engineer for Koch, is shown in the foreground during the launching.

Disabled Vets Can Get Benefits

Veterans who are more than 50 per cent disabled due to service incurred disabilities will be eligible fir additional compensation if they have four or more children, it was announced today by W. P. (Doc) Duhamel, Marin County veterans service officer.

The additional compensation becomes effective in August under a law passed by the 86th Congress. Previously benefits have been paid for no more than three children.

Duhamel said his office at 519 Fourth Street, San Rafael, was checking records in order to notify veerans who qualify for the additional compensation. He asked any veteran who thinks he will qualify to contact him.

Report Cards Well Received In San Rafael

Most San Rafael parents apparently like the multiple-mark type of report card now in use in the city's elementary schools.

In an opinion survey reported Tuesday night to the board of education, 658 parents of children in grades 1-3 and 613 parents of children in grades 4-6 said the report card tells them what they want to know about their children's progress. A total of 72 answered "no" to the question.

Would they like to continue using the card as it is? A total of 622 in grades 1-3 and 579 in grades 4-6 said "yes." Fifty parents in grades 1-3 and 33 in grades 4-6 said "no."

The parents' reaction was reported to the board by Dr. Mildred Barnard, assistant superintendent in charge of elementary instruction.

There was "greater parent acceptance than had been anticipated," she commented.

The cards have been in use on an experimental basis for two years. Parents had said the card in use previously did not tell them enough about their children.

The new cards use an intricate system of grading. Some of the parents commented there were too many markings, Dr. Barnard reported.

The point of greatest controversy was over the marking for "acceptable progress for the child." The faculty committee working on the report cards feels the parents still don't understand what the district is trying to do with this type of marking, Dr. Barnard said.

The committee may be able to work the cards over a little and make some improvements, she said.

Air Fares Rise 5% At Midnight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most U.S. air fares will increase by about 5 per cent at midnight tonight.

The Civil Aeronautics Board said that all of the domestic trunk airlines, and all except three of the local service operators, have filed for the higher fares. The CAB announced on June 17 that it would approve them.

These amounted to a straight 2½ per cent increase in all fares, plus an added $1 charge for each one-way ticket.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

Guidance Counsellor

Baby's Arrival Will Cause Worry, But Good Far Outweighs The Bad

"Our first baby will come in October," a woman writes, "and I'm worried.

"Friends tell us our life will change. They say we won't have any money to spend on ourselves. They tell me I will not be able to keep up my gardening. I'm afraid I'll be miserable. Do babies really make such changes in their parents' lives?"

Yes, they do. You'll have less spending money. You'll work harder than ever. You'll have many new worries, and you'll age more rapidly.

Does this sound bad? Really, it isn't.

Up to now you've lived chiefly for yourselves. You've enjoyed pursuing your own interests. All of us are that way, before our babies come. Then suddenly we change. A new set of instincts emerge. You'll be glad to make sacrifices for your baby. You'll place his interests first. You'll thrill as he gains weight and grows strong. You'll be unbelievably proud of his first tooth, first word, first step. You'll feel a new importance because of him. Your life will have real meaning at least. You'll find new happiness.

Your housband? He has paternal instincts. Have him help with the baby from the start. Let him sense the wonder of the new life the two of you have created. Watch his eyes glisten when he holds your baby for the first time. He'll be a father, and proud of it.

Childless people have trouble understanding us parents. To them a baby is—a baby.

But to us, babies are different. Our babies are the miraculous expression of our love. They are the focus of our universe.

Change? Yes, your life will never be the same. But you won't mind. You'll love it. Wait and see.

Group Of Air Force Cadets Due At Hamilton Saturday

The first of two groups of Air Force Academy cadets, totaling 640 sophomores, will tour Hamilton Air Force Base and the Bay Area this week.

Among the cadets will be Judson B. Vandervort, 845 Marin Drive, Mill Valley.

The first group of 320 cadets will arrive at the base Saturday, after having spent a week on a Navy aircraft carrier. That group will leave the base July 10 as the second group arrives for a week's stay.

Cadets will get 10 hours of instruction on the flight line at Hamilton and 220 of them will ride in two-place F-101 and F-102 jet fighters. The remainder will have flights at other air defense command bases.

Groups also will tour the radar site on Mount Tamalpais, view Nike installations, hear lectures and have intensive instruction in various phases of the defense system.

A formal dance will be staged for the first group at the Hamilton Officers Club; the second group will have a swimming party on the base.

Cadets will show their precision marching in a public parade at 1 p.m., July 9, at the Hamilton football field. The second group will march in ceremonies July 16 when base commander Col. George Ceuleers formally turns over command to Col. Havey E. Henderson. Ceuleers will attend the national war college.

It is estimated that each cubic mile of sea water contains three tons of the element nickel.

REDS EXECUTED FATHER

Emigre Mother Of 3 Hunts For Job Daily

Ever since Mrs. Alla King moved to San Rafael two weeks ago she has walked out each morning to find a job and returned each night without one.

Hardship is not new to her life. But the move to a hillside house at 203 Tiburon Boulevard, San Rafael, seemed a new beginning for the 35-year-old widow and her three children. So far they have been able to buy groceries with money earned by babysitting, but their rent is due on July 15.

Her story begins in Sevastopol, a Crimean city by the Black Sea, and threads through Tokyo, Shanghai and Hong Kong before 1955 when she emigrated to the United States.

Her father and her mother's brothers were executed by the Bolsheviks when she was a small child. Her mother and she fled from Sevastopol and made their way across Siberia to Vladivostok, arriving there in 1931. With a guide sent by her two aunts, then in Japan, they crossed the Manchurian border in May, 1931, and joined the aunts, her mother's sisters.

It was in the latter part of November, 1941, Mrs. King said, that her mother decided to take a trip to Shanghai to have her outfitted as a "young lady." They arrived on Dec. 5, three days before war was declared. They lost all their possessions in Japan.

She and her mother stayed in Shanghai throughout the war. In March, 1945, she married James King, son of an American and his Hawaiian wife.

"He renounced his American citizenship and was working for the Japanese," Mrs. King said. "I was the one who sent him to jail when the war was over." Her husband was jailed by the British in Hong Kong. He escaped once, but was killed during a second escape attempt in 1949, Mrs. King said.

"I didn't know my husband was working for the Japanese until after the war," she said. She began divorce proceedings but became a widow before a divorce came through, she said.

Mrs. King and her two sons boarded the President Cleveland to join her mother, who had returned to Japan in 1947. On board she gave birth to a daughter, Anna, now 11. The ship's captain insisted that her middle name ought to be "Cleveland" and that's how it was on the birth certificate the captain issued.

Her first two jobs in Japan ended because of the forces of history, so to speak. The first was for the Philippine Airlines, which soon shut down its Tokyo office becaues of Filippino-Japanese antagonism. The second job, working for the U.S. Navy at Yokosuka naval base as supervisor of 22,000 Japanese workers and 800 Americans at the base, ended with the signing of the Japanese peace treaty in 1952. All aliens were required to give up their jobs at the base.

Until her entry papers for the U.S. came through in 1955, Mrs. King then worked as secretary to George T. Folster, National Broadcasting Corp. bureau chief in Tokyo.

Since she and her children arrived in San Francisco on Oct. 5, 1955, Mrs. King has held clerical and secretarial jobs in San Francisco. Her last permanent job she was forced to leave for emergency surgery in January. "I wasn't well until the middle of March and they couldn't wait for me," she said.

Since moving to San Rafael, Mrs. King and the two boys, now 15 and 13, have eked out enough for groceries by babysitting.

She is prevented from working for the federal or state governments until she becomes a citizen, which should be this fall if no red tape develops. Oct. 5 will be five years since she immigrated.

Neighbors in the hillside section of San Rafael above California Park have taken on the duty of helping by driving Mrs. King on her job searches.

"She doesn't want charity," one neighbor said. "She just wants a job."

Among her qualifications is the ability to speak not only English, but French, Russian and Japanese as well.

Flood Advisor From Almonte Quits Board

Donald J. Taylor, president of the Tamalpais Valley Fire District board of commissioners, is relinquishing a second post as Almonte representative on the advisory board of Zone 3, Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District.

His resignation from the advisory board is tendered in a letter to the County Board of Supervisors, received too late to be read at Tuesday's meeting.

"My work on the fire board has to do with actual operations of a vital department rather than just opinions that need not be followed as on the advisory board. The former quite logically should take precedence," Taylor wrote.

The Almonte Improvement Club has recommended that Francis M. Gelardi of 222 Julia Avenue, Mill Valley, be appointed to Taylor's post on the flood control advisory board.

The Dead Sea in Palestine is about 46 miles long and 10 miles wide.

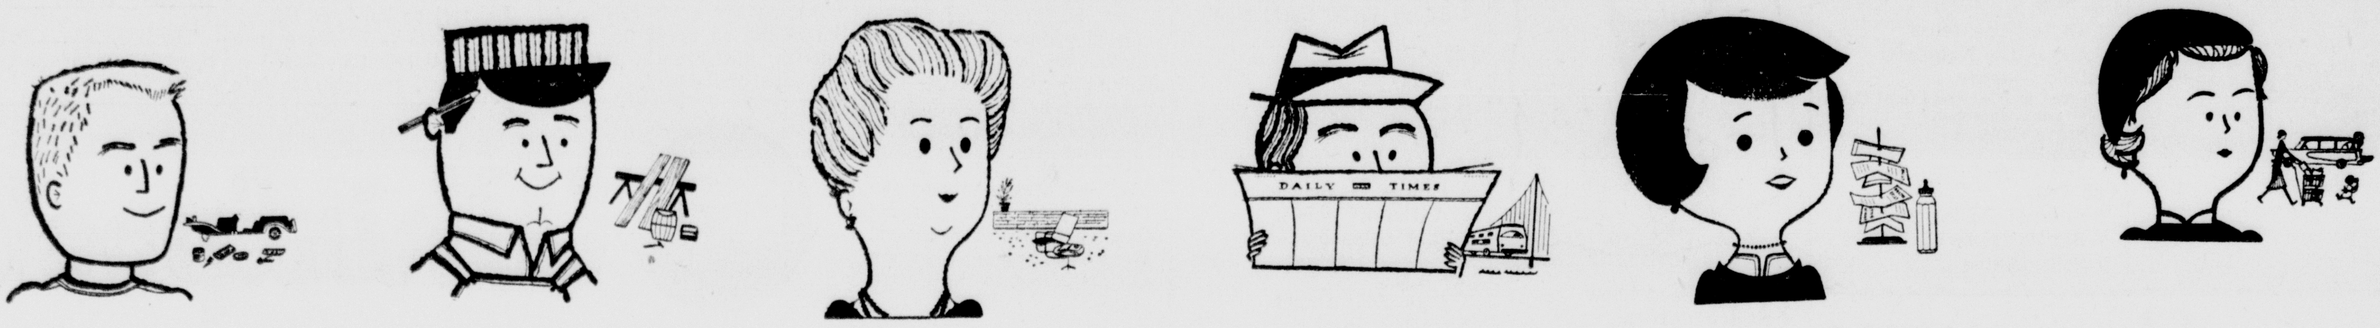
MR. and MRS. MARIN



You Are Cordially Invited To Attend the 10th ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION of

Ross Valley Savings

380 SAN ANSELMO AVENUE • SAN ANSELMO, CALIFORNIA

In ten short years, Ross Valley Savings has risen, at an over-a-million-dollars-a-year clip, to a leading position among Marin County savings and loan associations. This is no accident.

Shrewd management . . . accessibility . . . friendly service . . . complete absence of the usual red tape . . . sound policies administered by directors you know . . . that, and money solidly re-invested in Marin's future through hundreds of home loans have turned the trick. Frankly, the last decade has been a dizzy one for us. But a mighty successful one.

Happily, therefore, greetings to our 6,000 clients from the directors and staff. And we herewith invite every man, woman and child in Marin to our birthday party, starting tomorrow and all next week. Refreshments. Favors. And if the menfolk can't get in during the week, there will be a special commuter open house next Wednesday from 6 to 8 p.m.

Come to Ross Valley where you get MORE for your Money!
